ATTACKS HOOVER ON TREATY STAND

May Ask Government To Intervene In Gasoline Fight

PRICES CUT ONE CENT IN NORTH TODAY

Predictions Freely Made in San Francisco Certain Firms Will Be Ruined

ULTIMATUM IS ISSUED

Losses to Producers and Service Station Operators Is Forty Million

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—(UP)—New slashes lowered the retail price of gasoline to the lowest point in the history of California today, with predictions freely made that some concerns would be forced out of business unless the federal government takes a hand.

Following a 1-cent cut by the Texas company, virtually every station of the major companies was selling at 13 cents in San Francisco while many independent stations were down as low as 11 and 12 cents in some sections.

Although officials of some of the larger companies declared that the price war is a "fight to the finish," independents said that unless the industry is re-established on a paying basis within 36 hours the U. S. department of justice will be asked to investigate the entire situation.

The ultimatum was made by H. R. MacMillan, of the MacMillan Petroleum corporation.

Losses to producers and service station proprietors since the war began in March have been estimated at $34,000,000 to $40,000,000.

New all-time lows were recorded through the San Joaquin valley and in Tacoma, where gas was selling as low as 8 cents. Many independents in Los Angeles have offered a new low price of 10½ cents.

DEPUTY RETURNING HERE WITH GORMAN

Successful in his attempt to extradite Ralph Gorman, from Kansas City to Santa Ana ,the prisoner being wanted here on a charge of conspiracy to violate the state corporation laws, F. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff, left Kansas City today with his man, according to a telegram received at the sheriff's office.

Gorman fought extradition and the hearing was completed in Kansas City this morning.

Gorman is wanted with several other men, as yet uncaptured, on charges that they sold stock to a number of prominent Orange county residents in a non-existing company, it was reported.

PEACHES TO BRING $20 TON

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—(UP)—The 1930 bumper crop of cling peaches will bring $20 a ton, as compared with $80 for last year's short yield.

The price was established in conjunction with a curtailment plan, late yesterday at a meeting of growers representing approximately 95 per cent of the cling peach crop.

A sinking fund of $1,750,000 to purchase the surplus will be raised, it was agreed, by assessing the canner over and above the $20 purchase pr...

MOONEY PLANS TO CONTINUE PARDON FIGHT

Search Being Made to Locate Witness at Trial Back in 1916

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—(UP)—An extensive search was started today to locate John McDonald, waiter witness at the trial of Tom Mooney in 1916 for the San Francisco preparedness day bombing.

The search followed Governor C. C. Young's refusal to grant Mooney a pardon and Mooney's subsequent announcement that he would stage a new fight for freedom from San Quentin prison.

It was believed that McDonald was somewhere in the east, last having been heard of at the Central House in Trenton, New Jersey, in February, 1921. A letter was sent at the request of Mooney to his defense lawyer during the trial, Frank P. Walsh in New York City, by the secretary of the Tom Mooney molders defense league.

Fresh Evidence

It was believed the league had received fresh evidence—or was trying to stir up the old contention—that McDonald had perjured himself during the trial.

McDonald identified Mooney and Warren K. Billings, now in Folsom prison serving life for complicity in the bomb outrage, as the perpetrators of the disaster.

He later repudiated his former statements and accused police officials of coercing him to perjure himself.

Governor Young devoted a large portion of his statement concerning his refusal to pardon Mooney to the question of "repudiating witnesses."

"I would respectfully suggest to the members of the supreme court," the governor said, "should John McDonald or any other material witness who has repudiated his former testimony, appear before them for the purpose of repudiating such testimony as trustworthy and that their former testimony was perjured, it would only be right to consider the propriety of giving hearings to such witness in the case of Billings just as I should in the case of Mooney."

Two Time Loser

Billings having served a former sentence must apply to the supreme court for a pardon whereas Mooney could be pardoned directly by the governor.

"However, until the truth of such repudiations can be established no one can question the decision of the supreme court and the pardon advisory board for there are some parts of McDonald's repudiating affidavits that appear patently unworthy," the governor declared.

Mary E. Gallagher, secretary of the Mooney molders defense league stated today that a campaign would be started to advertise in eastern papers for the whereabouts of McDonald. She also stated that other original witnesses were being sought in the attempt to prove the league's contention that Mooney and Billings were not given a fair trial.

FRANCE APPROVES BILL FOR DEFENSE

PARIS, July 9.—(UP)—The finance commission of the chamber of deputies approved today an additional credit of 1,126,000,000 francs (about $45,000,000) for national defense.

The action was considered in many sources as a direct answer to the recent increase of about $26,000,000 in the Italian national defense budget.

200 PEOPLE AT LAW ENFORCING LEAGUE MEET

Santa Ana Pastors Speakers at Mass Meeting Held at Garden Grove

ADHERING TO THE rigid principles of law enforcement, the recently organized Law Enforcement League of Orange County took its first step in that direction at its initial mass meeting held last night in the high school auditorium, Garden Grove. A crowd estimated at approximately 200 took an active part in the meeting. Perry Mathis, of Anaheim, president of the league, presided.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary R. R. Lutes, of Santa Ana. This was accompanied by a report of the Resolutions committee the substance of which outlined the principles of the organization and its position in regard to the Eighteenth amendment. Mr. Lutes also spoke on the proposed educational campaign which was devised to inform citizens throughout Orange county on progressive measures of law enforcement.

Two Pastors Speak

The principal addresses at last night's meeting were delivered by Dr. George A. Warmer, pastor of the First Methodist church, Santa Ana, and the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, also of Santa Ana. Both speakers confined their remarks to a general discussion of present day laws; the Eighteenth amendment and its place in the community; the national, state, and county political situation; and referred to the state campaign explaining why the drys oppose a candidate who self-admittedly or otherwise represents the wet element.

Dr. Warmer said: "I believe that the principles of law enforcement should be foremost in the minds of the people. They should assume an educational attitude in this respect. The Constitution of the United States was not completed in a day and it took 150 years to insert the Eighteenth amendment."

"In order for the constitution to exist it must have the constituency of the country. The same applies to county as well as national laws. The program now being outlined by the Law Enforcement League of Orange County calls for an awakening on the part of the citizens to support law enforcement."

Sudden Religion

Rev. Harding injected humorous illustrations to drive home his points. "A great many politicians suddenly get religion around election time," he said. "As far as a questionnaire is concerned in learning the qualifications of office seekers, it may be deemed an inaccurate method. Past records and not rosy promises are to be considered," he warned.

The local pastor also suggested that each voter who had registered as a prohibitionist go to the county clerk's office and make a change. This stirred up quite a bit of spirited discussion and many argued that in view of the fact that the organization was non-partisan, such a movement was unnecessary.

Report Paralysis Case To Office Of Dr. Sutherland

Another case of infantile paralysis was reported this morning at the county health office. Jose Peralez, 12, Stanton, is the latest victim of the disease and has been placed under quarantine in the county hospital. His condition is reported serious.

Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, while of the belief that the danger of a widespread contagion has been effectively checked, warned that the present situation has reached a stage when it may burst forth anew. Dr. Sutherland has issued warning to all parents to safeguard their children against the contraction of the disease while at play and in public gatherings.

School Board Asks Bids On Willard Plant

Decision Reached to Purchase New Linotype Machine For Poly

UPON THE ADVISE of J. E. Allison, member of the firm of supervising architects handling plans for the school construction program, that plans would be ready by the end of this week, the Santa Ana board of education last night took action authorizing the advertising of the plans and specifications of the new Frances Willard junior high school plant. The plans include an auditorium with 600 seating capacity, main building, cafeteria and shops at an estimated cost of $330,000.

Plans for the additions and changes at the Julia Lathrop building were advertised the first of this week and several calls for plans have been made at school administration offices by interested contractors. The bids on this work are to be opened by the board at its next meeting on July 22. Advertising the Willard plans on July 21, which is the present schedule, will mean that these bids may be opened August 5.

Allison pointed out to board members last night that it was possible that when bids were received the costs might be sufficiently under the estimate to make possible the inclusion of a shower room at the Willard plant without exceeding the present limitations.

New Linotype

Other action taken by the board last night included decision to purchase a new linotype machine, of latest design, and other equipment for the high school print shop. This additional equipment will make the shop one of the finest in the state and will provide machines on which training may be given to students who desire to become operators. The machine will be purchased from the Mergenthaler Linotype company at a price of $4764.06 installed. Other print shop equipment amounting to $663.45, will be purchased from the Independent Printers' Supply company.

After a demonstration of various makes of paper towels the board determined to purchase a junior size towel of proven strength and absorbency at a price of $2.65 per carton.

Representatives of central vacuum cleaner plant and an oil company appeared before the board and presented arguments for the inclusion of their products in the new Willard plant. The oil company representatives declared that they would guarantee a saving of 50 per cent in heating costs if fuel oil were used in the city schools instead of gas. The discussion also revealed that the gas rate in Santa Ana is more than double what it is in Los Angeles. The board determined to investigate the advisability of installing fuel oil plants in the city school heating systems.

Seeks Business

A letter from H. J. Selway, insurance agent, was read to the board in which it was stated that he has been a resident of Santa Ana for 13 years, is a taxpayer and has sent three children through the schools and desired consideration in the new insur-

UNIDENTIFIED MAN RUN DOWN BY CAR

An unidentified man was seriously injured this morning when he was run down on the Huntington Beach boulevard one mile south of Midway City, by an automobile driven by W. Williams of Orange street, Huntington Beach.

The injured man was rushed to the Dr. Hawes hospital in Huntington Beach where he was given first aid treatment. His condition was so serious, however, that he was unable to give his name or residence. He suffered a broken leg just below the knee and a possible skull fracture and possible internal injuries.

He was later removed to the Santa Ana Valley hospital but was still unable to shed any light on the accident this afternoon.

HEAT WAVE IN WINDY CITY IS YEAR'S WORST

Thunder Storms This Morning Fail to Bring Relief to Thousands

CHICAGO, July 9.—(UP)—The heat-beleaguered middlewest and west watched the mercury ascend still higher today, despite severe thunderstorms in the central states before dawn, and obtained no promises of relief in forecasts.

A brilliant lightning display accompanied a heavy rain storm in the Chicago area during the morning. The deluge flooded low lying streets and did minor property damage.

Here and elsewhere, the downpours only increased the humidity, adding to the suffering in congested centers. Thousands who sought rest in Chicago parks were driven to cover by the rain.

The heat wave added to the seriousness of drought conditions in Montana and South Dakota, while the rainfall in parts of the wheat belt increased fears of spread of black rust, which thrives in humid weather.

Four deaths definitely attributed to the heat were reported, two in the near northwest; one in Indianapolis and one in Phoenix, Ariz.

The hottest weather bureau station in the country yesterday was Miles City, Mont., which recorded a temperature of 106. It was 104 at Sioux City, Ia., 102 at Omaha, Neb., and 100 at Little Rock, Ark., Rapid City, S. D., Phoenix, Ariz., and Cairo, Ill.

Weather forecasts indicated warmer weather in northwest Indiana, southeast Michigan, South Wisconsin and northwest Ohio, and continued warmth elsewhere in the midwest.

Student Flier Is Killed In Crash

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—(UP)—A. O. Smith, Oakland, student flier, was fatally injured late today when an airplane in which he was riding crashed into San Francisco bay two miles south of the Oakland airport. Smith died while enroute to an East Oakland hospital in an ambulance.

The plane, which belonged to the Boeing Air Transport School of aeronautics, was taken up by the student alone. It went into a tail spin shortly after it took off and plunged into the bay.

Forced Down When Engine Has Trouble

Pilot and Crew Come Down When 300 Miles From Their Objective

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, July 9.—(UP)—The Aeropostale Co. announced today that Jean Mermoz, flying across the South Atlantic from Brazil to Africa, had descended short of his goal near the Aeropostale steamer Phocee, one of the ships which were stationed along the route to aid the plane in case of distress.

The position of the Phocee was not given in the first messages, but it was believed to be well towards the African coast.

The Aeropostale Co. was advised that the Phocee had saved Mermoz and his two companions, as well as the mail they carried.

The spot where the fliers were picked up was about 300 miles off Dakar. The plane was having engine trouble when it sighted the Phocee, and Mermoz signaled his intention of landing.

Mermoz, Jean D'Abry, his navigator, and Leopold Gimie, radio operator, took off from Bomfim Lagoon, about 25 miles south of here, at 4:44 p. m. (2:44 p. m., EST) yesterday. The departure was exactly a month after a previous attempt when they were forced back by unfavorable weather 25 minutes after the take-off.

Aeropostale steamers lined the 2000-mile route between here and Dakar to furnish weather reports to the plane and assist it if necessary. One was stationed at Fernando do Noronha, close to the Brazilian shore, another at the Sao Paulo rocks, and still others cruised the waters over which Mermoz was flying. The same vessels had lined his route on the westward crossing.

Mermoz carried mail which was brought here Monday from Chile, Argentine, Uruguay and many parts of Brazil. At Dakar, it was to be transferred to another Aeropostale plane for the flight to France, the first air mail from South America to arrive in that country.

ASKS DAMAGES

Asking personal damages in the amount of $5000, Roy W. Colyer has sued Clayton E. McKeeth, a minor, and his parents, W. R. and Ethel B. McKeeth, for injuries sustained in an automobile accident. According to the complaint, which was filed in superior court, Colyer was injured in a collision at Costa Mesa on April 18.

SUCCESSOR FOR HUSTON CAUSES G. O. P. BATTLE

Compromise Expected to Be Reached Within Next Few Days, Report

WASHINGTON, July 9.—(UP)—An old fashioned political controversy among party leaders over a successor to Claudius H. Huston as chairman of the Republican national committee has developed as a result of plans for Huston's retirement, the United Press was informed today on unquestionable authority.

A compromise, however, is expected to be reached within a day or two, with friends of Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio withdrawing from the movement for appointment of Fess to succeed Huston.

Temporary Appointee

A temporary appointee acceptable to the various leaders is likely to be agreed upon, it was indicated. The choice may be Ralph Williams of Oregon, now serving as vice chairman.

There were reports today that President Hoover had offered the post to Earl S. Kinsley, Republican national committeeman from Vermont, as a harmony selection. It was denied at the White House that the president had communicated with Kinsley. The national committeeman is expected here to confer with party leaders.

The leading opponent of Fess' selection is Senator George Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee. Moses has elected to oppose Huston's immediate resignation despite the disfavor with which most party leaders have viewed the chairman since the senate lobby committee's disclosures concerning his handling of Muscle Shoals lobbying funds.

Moses Suggested

Friends of Moses are understood to be urging his selection as chairman, but Fess' backers are equally unwilling to accept the New Hampshire senator.

Had it not been for this complex situation, Huston's resignation might already have been announced, those who are informed concerning the matter say. It is their opinion, however, that a satisfactory adjustment will be made in time so a peaceful atmosphere may pervade Huston's office here tomorrow when party leaders meet to discuss plans for the forthcoming congressional election campaign.

HOOVER'S POLICIES ON AGRICULTURE HIT

HAYS, Kas., July 9—(UP)—Gov. Clyde M. Reed of Kansas, in a speech prepared for delivery later today, challenged the whole attitude of the Hoover administration toward agriculture, charged the administration with attempting to subordinate agriculture to industry and questioned the good faith of Alexander Legge, chairman of the farm board.

Reed's speech, a bitter denunciation of the administration's policies, was to be made from the same platform on which Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde and Legge appeared to urge from the Kansas farmers a reduction of their wheat acreage.

Coming into the nation's greatest wheat producing state to preach their gospel, the government officials were met with an attack by the governor of that state, who took outspoken and direct issue with their whole platform.

PRESIDENT IS LIKENED TO HAMILTON

Senator Black Says Refusal to Give Papers to Congress Is An Insult

TO INCREASE HOURS

Six Hours Daily Sessions Instead of Five Will Be Started at Once

WASHINGTON, July 9.—(UP)—President Hoover's refusal to give the senate secret papers relating to the London naval treaty was likened today by Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, to the policies of Alexander Hamilton and all men who believed in the theory of one-man despotic governments.

Black said talk of the possibility of a leak if the papers were delivered to the senate was camouflage and an insult to congress.

Basing his argument on the constitution, Black said the secretary of state was responsible to congress and to the president in the use of department files and that Secretary Stimson should not be permitted to withhold papers from the senate.

Mrs. Stimson heard the speech from a seat in the front row of the diplomatic gallery. Black gained the floor after a roll call carefully checked by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, had shown a bare majority of 49 senators present on the third day of the special treaty session.

Longer Hours

Administration concern that opponents of the London naval treaty might so protract the senate's special treaty session that a quorum would be difficult to obtain, was evident today in a proposal to increase the hours of the daily session.

As a result of President Hoover's insistence on early ratification, senators face the prospect of a six-hour work day instead of the usual four or five. Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee was expected to move today that the senate meet tomorrow, and thereafter during the treaty consideration, at 11 a. m. instead of noon.

Tempers Frayed

Senators' tempers already have begun to fray during acrimonious debate on the merits of the treaty. Already the epithet "silly" has been exchanged during a sharp passage at words between Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, delegate at the London conference, and Senator Johnson, Republican, California, leader of the fight against the pact. Senator Glenn, Republican, Illinois, also has been the target of Johnson's caustic tongue.

For the moment—meaning yesterday ,today and perhaps tomorrow—the senate is not actually discussing the treaty, but is debating a resolution by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee. The resolution asks President Hoover to send the senate all papers pertaining to the treaty. A similar request from the foreign relations committee had been refused in part.

AIMEE'S ATTORNEY JAILED FOR BRIBE

OAKLAND, July 9.—(UP)—Burtan F. Becker, former sheriff of Alameda county and C. L. Ormsby, erstwhile attorney for Aimee Semple McPherson, were in jail today awaiting removal to San Quentin prison following their conviction on charges of bribery.

The verdict brought in late yesterday, carries a penalty of from one to fourteen years in prison.

Becker was convicted of accepting bribes from owners of Chinese lotteries and bootleggers. Ormsby was convicted as acting as go-between for Becker. The former sheriff was ousted automatically when he pleaded guilty to one of the charges brought by a grand jury.

J. L. Davis, former deputy sheriff, and a co-defendant with Becker and Odmsby, was found not guilty.

Name Santiago Engineer

CONSERVATION WORK TO BEGIN EARLY IN 1931

Initiation of work early next spring on the building of a dam in Santiago canyon for conservation of flood waters of that stream loomed as a possibility today, following a conference yesterday at which representatives of the Irvine company, the John T. Carpenter Water company, El Modena, and the Serrano Water company, Villa Park, reached an agreement to employ A. Kempkey, prominent engineer of San Francisco, to make investigation of a dam site in the canyon.

The men in the conference were James Irvine jr., Willard Smith, of the Serrano company, and L. W. Evans, of the John T. Carpenter company.

Provision already has been made for financing the project, which, it is estimated, will cost between $700,000 and $800,000, but delay in development of plans for the water barrier resulted from failure of the interested parties to agree on an engineer.

It is understood that Kempkey will take up at once investigations of the site, which is at the fourth crossing of the creek, and that upon his findings will depend whether an order will be issued for the preparation of plans and specifications.

It is the opinion of members of the conference committee that if no unusual conditions develop in the site investigation, plans and specifications should be completed in time to award the contract and start actual construction early next spring.

200 PEOPLE AT LAW ENFORCING LEAGUE MEET

However, it was generally conceded that Rev. Harding was right and the measure was endorsed.

Both speakers made a plea for the support of those candidates for county office who have openly announced their willingness to abide by the principles adopted by the league and are staunch supporters of the Volstead law. Reference was made of those candidate who had successfully answered a questionnaire recently submitted to all office seekers by the Women's Christian Temperance Union and the support of these candidates was heartily urged.

No Endorsements

No direct endorsement action in regard to any candidates was assumed by the league at this time. It was declared, however, that those candidates who already had taken a stand for the betterment of existing political conditions, should be accorded every support.

The Law Enforcement League indicated that the proverbial custom of "mud slinging' 'would be noticeably lacking from its campaign. The purpose of the league, as previously announced, is to aid in electing to office those candidates, who by their past records, experience and thorough understanding of personal rights and th eprinciples of unbiased law enforcement, are best qualified for the respective offices they are seeking.

Last night's gathering vouchsafed a spirit of unification and co-operation which, in a true sense of their meaning, would seem to imply that the organization is fast finding favor throughout Orange county. Suggestions were invited and received and these in turn were referred to the executive committee which will investigate and pass on their feasibility.

No future meeting date was announced although it was indicated that a series of similar "get togethers" would be held at nearby dates in various sections of the county. This action was endorsed and will provide voters at large an opportunity to hear an active part in the proceedings and voice their views on matters of common interest. A definite program is being prepared by the executive committee and many details, now more or less in a muddle, will be thoroughly ironed out.

The potential program will include speakers of note who will endeavor to present in a clear and concise manner, the exact purpose of the league and its place in the forthcoming campaign. Voters are requested to watch for these meeting dates.

A communication from the Williams Radiator company, with whom a controversy has been in existence over the method of installation of radiators at the Fremont school was received in which the company stated that they felt they had met the demands of the specifications and sent a bill for $3945. The secretary was instructed to write the radiator company that unless the installation was made as set forth in the specifications and as interpreted by the architects, they could take the heaters out of the building.

Changes at the Hoover school were authorized totaling $42, and the board voted resolutions of acceptance of the Hoover and Wilson buildings, subject to the issuance of the architect's certificates.

The Santa Ana Laundry was awarded the contract for laundering towels during the ensuing year after bids were received from four laundries.

WIRE WORM FOUND IN ORANGE COUNTY

A number of reports reaching the county agricultural commissioner's office today are to the effect that the wireworm, which for years has proven itself a crop scavenger in Orange county, is again making its presence felt in various parts of this district.

Farms in and around Springdale, Smeltzer, Greenville, and the Huntington Beach section have been visited by the "click beetle" or adult ringworm and as a result, ensuing crops have been threatened. The only feasible method of combatting the ringworm is by the use of calcium cyanide, which is injected into the soil after the catch crop, or bait has been planted to lure the ringworm family. After this precaution, the regular crop is planted and thus far, this method has proved highly satisfactory.

Calcium cyanide as a preventative was first used with any degree of success, in 1923. However, federal entomologists experimented with sodium cyanide back in 1914. This form of soil treatment was too expensive to develop any practical value.

RETURN LICENSE TO DAVID HEALY

A motorist who lost his driver's license over a year ago when he ran athwart the law in Orange county, today had recovered that important document, without which he could not lawfully operate a motor vehicle in the state.

The motor vehicle license was restored to David M. Healy today by County Clerk J. M. Backs upon an order from Judge G. K. Scovel. The order set forth the fact that the license was ordered surrendered for the period of one year on June 29, 1929, and that since the time had expired and other conditions had been complied with, it should be restored to Healy.

OFFICERS FOR CHURCH BOARDS ARE SELECTED

The first conventon of the Southern California district of the Missouri synod of the Lutheran church came to a close last night at Anaheim with a rush of last minute bills and resolutions. The session had to be extended for an hour beyond the time set for adjournment in order to clear the slate.

The elections were concluded with the following choices: The Rev. G. Hilmer, of Riverside, and George Faulkenberg, of Los Angeles, to the finance board; A. C. Appel, Los Angeles, and S. F. Lynch, San Bernardino, to the board of directors; the Rev. M. H. Tietjen, as Walther league counsellor; the Rev. C. W. Berner, of Los Angeles, Arnold Schinnerer, of Long Beach, and Harry Wendlund, of Santa Monica, to the publication board; the Rev. Martin Lankow, of Lancaster, as historian; the Rev. Peno Jeske, of Whittier, the Rev. Henry Schmelzer, of Anaheim, the Rev. William J. Lankow, of San Bernardino, and the Rev. M. J. Von der Au, of Oxnard, as visitors of the various circuits. The Rev. George Witte, of Hollywood, was elected to represent the interests of the California Concordia college in Oakland among the southern congregations.

The district was divided into four visiting circuts, No. 1, comprising 10 congregations in Los Angeles, Whittier, and Redondo Beach; No. 2, comprising the congregations in Orange, Santa Ana, Anaheim, Olive, Long Beach, San Diego, Escondido, San Pedro and Wilmington; No. 3, comprising Pasadena, Alhambra, San Bernardino, Covina, Riverside, Monrovia, Fontana, Hemet, Holtville, and Pomona; No. 4, comprising Santa Barbara, Oxnard, Van Nuys, Burbank, North Hollywood, Glendale, West Hollywood, Lancaster, San Fernando, and St. Andrews, Los Angeles.

An interesting letter of felicitation to the new district, written in the classic Latin language, was received from L. Wagner, of Los Angeles, who war one of the first Lutheran preachers in California 50 years ago.

Several of the pastors who are serving under the mission board were called upon to give personal reports of their labors. One of the most interesting reports given was that of the Rev. A. Kuntz, of Alhambra, who is in charge of work among the blind. Literature is being printed in Los Angeles in revised Braille, for which requests have come from the blind in almost every state of the Union. Recently the Rev. Kuntz received requests for the Luehtran Messenger for the Blind from South Africa and from Iceland. This monthly periodical is being mailed free of charge to more than 1000 blind people, many of whom are deaf and dumb.

Rules and regulations for the mission board, the indigent students' fund, the church extension board, and the missionary at large were read and accepted.

A large number of resolutions were brought in by the resolutions committee, which were adopted, among them resolutions of graittude to the Rev. Frederick Randt for his friendly and able advice, to the congregation of Zion Lutheran church, of Anaheim, and its pastor, the Rev. Henry Schmelzer, the Ladies' aid and the Walther league, for splendid hospitality.

The district was divided into two pastoral conferences, whch are required to meet twice a year.

The convention adjourned to meet again next July at a place to be determined by the board of directors.

ROAD WIDENING AT FULLERTON IS CONSIDERED

A movement for widening the state highway through Fullerton and possibly to a connection with the full width state highway at La Habra was launched here yesterday at a conference between B. B. Meek, state director of public works, and the board of supervisors.

The discussion here had to do principally with elimination of the "bottle neck" through the Bastanchury ranch north of the business section of the northern city.

Meek suggested that the supervisors take up with S. V. Cortelyou, engineer for the state commission in Southern California, the matter of working out a plan by which the state, county and city of Fullerton might co-operate in the suggested improvement.

Discussion was had on the situation of Spadra street, through the business community of Fullerton, still forming a bottle neck in event of the widening of the state highway beyond the business district, and it was pointed out that widening of the thoroughfare through the business center would be a problem the city would have to handle by itself.

The three-way co-operation is proposed for the section of the road lying within the city limits running through farming territory, principally the Bastanchury ranch.

OPEN BIDS ON FIRST ORTEGA HIGHWAY UNIT

BULLETIN

The directors of Joint Highway district No. 15 today awarded the contract for construction of the first unit of the road to the H. W. Rohl company on recommendation of A. C. Fulmor, engineer for the district. The bid of the successful firm was $173,256.20, approximately $200,000 lower than the highest bid.

Meeting in the court house today, the board of directors and officials of Joint Highway district No. 15, of California, in charge of the construction of the Ortega highway over the mountains from San Juan Capistrano to Elsinore, opened bids for the construction of the first unit. Some 15 contractors submitted prices on the work, and the supervisors' room in which the meeting was held, was filled to overflowing with contractors and other interested parties as the bids were opened and read by P. N. Hood, auditor of the district, who acted as clerk.

The construction included in the present bids involves continuance of the road from San Juan Hot Springs eastward to the county line, and when completed will result in opening the road clear through, making it passable by the end of the year for the entire distance of over 30 miles.

Estimated costs of the first unit were $225,000, but the fact that certain important factors in his cost were running considerably lower in the bids than in the estimates, led to the belief of observers that the contract would be let at a materially reduced figure.

Of the stimated cost for the first unit, Orange county is to appropriate $100,000; Riverside county, $50,000; and the state of California, $75,000. The entire program covers a period of four years at a cost of $675,000.

Supervisor George Jeffrey presided at the session today in the absence of the chairman of the board, T. C. Jameson, of Corona, who is in Alaska. Frank Champion, the third member of the board, was present. Officials of the district who were at the meeting included A. C. Fulmor, of Riverside, engineer; Nat Neff, county superintendent of highways, consulting engineer, and Lew Blodget, attorney; D. R. Crane, of Elsinore, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee there, which was active in urging need of the road and getting interest aroused in the project, was an interested spectator at the meeting today.

The bids were submitted to the engineers for study and totaling following the session this morning and were to be reported back to the board of directors of the district this afternoon. Estimates for excavation ran at 54 cents per unit, but one of the bidders today had figured this item at a price of 33 cents per unit.

B. B. Meek, director of the state department of public works, who was in Santa Ana yesterday for a conference with County Auditor W. C. Jerome on the Ortega highway, characterized it as the finest joint highway district organization in the state, and asserted that the state was now using it as a model. The set-up defines the project, the activities, a schedule of the time during which it is to be completed, political bodies participating in the district, estimated costs, the proportionate share to be borne by each party in the district and the funds from which the money is to be appropriated each year.

AIR PUBLICITY VALUE TOLD TO BOOSTER BODY

The advertising side of radio broadcasting from Calvary church, Placentia, was brought out by T. E. Pickerill, secretary of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce, yesterday at the regular luncheon meeting of the booster body as he told of the plans to start broadcasting over radio KGER beginning September 14. Both morning and evening services will be broadcast, covering a territory in which 4,000,000 people can be reached, and the name of Placentia will be mentioned at least three times in each broadcast.

A big advertising program is being prepared by the Rev. Charles E. Fuller, pastor of the church, in which all the principal papers of Southern California and the adjoining states will be used.

A letter from the Salinas Chamber of Commerce enclosed a copy of their letter to Senator Shortridge protesting his attitude on the labor question and asked help in reaching legislators. James Tuffree and H. O. Easton reported on the matter, saying that a committee had been appointed by the government to study the situation and that any action on the bill had been postponed by the adjournment of congress.

A letter from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce told of the devision of the government to move the air base from San Diego to San Francisco and to curtail activities at March field preparatory to moving that, and asked that telegrams be sent opposing this move, giving as a reason the fact that the drift of industry, population and wealth was toward the south. Pickerill stated that the bill had passed the senate and was in the hands of the president.

Louis Jacobsen, president of the grammar school board, protested against a recent report showing the average daily attendance of the Placentia school as 400 while the combined attendance of the schools is nearer 1000, stating that this low attendance figure, compared with another article giving the school taxes and budget, would leave a wrong impression of extravagance.

H. H. Hale was present and told of his wedding at San Bernardino "where he would not be known" and his stay at Camp Weesha.

William Lambert, publisher of the South Coast News, and candidate for the position of county auditor, was present, as was Harry Westover, candidate for district attorney, and each made a few remarks.

Mrs. Kate McCulloch, of the Orange County School of Fine Arts, gave a musical program, presenting Lynnwood Mitchell, who sang a group of negro spirituals, "Go Down Moses," and the "Lonesome Road." He also gave a tap dance.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF SANTA ANA DIES

James S. Brown, pioneer painter of this city, died yesterday at his home, 1116 Cypress avenue, at the age of 82.

He is survived by a son, Robert J. Brown, of this city, and one daughter, Mrs. J. R. Richardson, of Toronto, Canada.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m., tomorrow, at the Smith and Tuthill chapel, with the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating.

Mr. Brown came to Santa Ana in 1884, and for many years did contract painting work in this city and vicinity. He located at San Jacinto some years ago, where he resided for a number of years, and returned to Santa Ana five years ago.

PLAN TO FORM ORANGE COUNTY HIGHWAY UNIT

Representatives of various chambers of commerce in the county will meet at Buena Park, on July 16, for the formation of an Orange county branch of the Manchester Boulevard association, according to arrangements made at a meeting today of the good roads committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

Nat H. Neff, superintendent of county highways, announced that it recently was stated at a meeting in Los Angeles that procuring of the right-of-way in Los Angeles county to the Orange county line would be completed by the first of the coming year, and committeemen thought that in view of this fact it was time an active organization was created here for carrying out the project in Orange county.

Right-of-way has been secured in Orange county from the county line to a point approximately one and one-half miles southeast of Buena Park. In Los Angeles county and to the point below Buena Park, the boulevard is 600 feet distant from the Southern Pacific right-of-way.

Plans for Orange county, as discussed today, are to break the continuity of the highway and locate the road adjacent to the right-of-way of the Southern Pacific. Continuation of the boulevard on a line 600 feet from the right-of-way would necessitate the acquisition of rights-of-way through valuable orange groves and other highly improved properties, it was pointed out. The expense, it was said, would be more than could be borne under the program for opening the more direct route into Los Angeles.

It is proposed that the boulevard shall parallel the tracks of the steam railroad line from Buena Park to a connection with Santa Ana boulevard, which is to be thrown open to traffic on July 26.

Completion of the boulevard would cut the distance between Santa Ana and Los Angeles by four miles, it was stated.

Among those from Brea who saw the insttallation of officers of Ruby Rebekah lodge Monday night at Orange, as exemplified by District Deputy President Fannie Barker and staff, were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Withrow, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Croteau, Mesdames Edna Brambley, Effie Law, Alice Stevens, Stella Keene, Maude Rist and Miss Evelyn Rist.

Mr. and Mrs. Carson Rodgers have returned from a visit of two or three days with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Woody, cousins of Mrs. Rodgers in Ventura. They were accompanied by another cousin, Mrs. Alice Clark of Fullerton.

CASTILIAN ENTERTAINERS

BAND WILL PRESENT SPANISH PROGRAM, AIDED BY FAUSTINA LUCERO AND LOUISITA YORBA

One of the interesting Spanish numbers that will be offered by the Santa Ana Municipal band, when it presents its "Spanish Night" program in Birch park at 7:30 p. m., tomorrow, is the overture from Carlos Gomes' brilliant opera, "Il Guarany," first produced by the noted Brazilian composer in 1870, when Gomes was about 31 years of age.

Gomes was born in Campinas in 1839, his death occurring in Para, in 1896. He is especially noted as an operatic composer, his best work having been done in this form.

Gomes' early training was received at the Rio de Janeiro conservatory. He later went to Milan, Italy, for a period of study, with Rossi, a noted Italian authority. By the time he was 22, he already was composing operas.

In addition to "Il Guarany," Gomes' operatic works, most of which were composed in Italy, include "Fosca," (1873), "Salvator Rosa" (1874), "Maria Tudor" (1877), "La Schiava" (1889) and "Condor" (1891).

Gomes also composed the hymn "Il Saluto del Bresile" (1876) for the Centennial exposition in Philadelphia, and the cantata "Colombo" in 1892, as well as numerous choruses, songs and piano pieces.

Many local admirers of Miss Faustina Lucero's exceptional talent as a Spanish dancer of charm and personality are anticipating seeing her in that favorite Spanish folk dance, "L Jota," perhaps one of the best known and most enjoyable of the many typical dances of Spain. Miss Lucero will also appear in another dance, entitled "Estudiantina."

"La Paloma" and "Estrellita," two favorite Spanish folk songs that are widely loved for their graceful melody, will be presented by Miss Louisita Yorba, soprano, formerly of the San Gabriel Mission play.

CHARLES RAY AT TEMPLE TONIGHT

Tonight marks the opening, at Shelley's Temple theater, of the comedy classic, "Some Punkins," Charles Ray's biggest hit.

"Some Punkins," which will show tonight, tomorrow night and Friday night, is a rural comedy drama—mostly comedy—and of the type that only Charles Ray can do justice to. It is a story built around simple country folk of the character that we just can't help loving, and try as we might to be callous, we cry with them at their misfortunes and laugh with them at their joys.

The picture is well filled with laughs and with just enough pathos and heart interest to make it appeal to every one.

As an added feature at Shelley's tonight a diamond ring will be given away, this being gift night at the Third and Bush street house.

TO CELEBRATE ROAD OPENING HERE JULY 26

Saturday, July 26, at 10 a. m., today was definitely set as the date of a big celebration for the opening of Santa Ana boulevard. The time for the event was established by the good roads committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, members present at the conference being Clyde Jenken, city engineer; Nat H. Neff, superintendent of county highways; W. H. Hillyard, county surveyor; George Wells, chairman of the Santa Ana planning commission; George Raymer, secretary of the chamber, and W. C. Jerome, president. Councilman W. J. Kelly also was present.

Tentative plans provide for organization of an automobile parade over the new entrance to the city and a program at Birch park. It is possible the parade will form on the state highway immediately north of the point where the new traffic artery connects at Chapman street.

According to Raymer, many communities of the county will send representative delegations, among them Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton and Brea.

B. B. Meek, state director of public works, will be the principal speaker on the park program. The state man, it is anticipated, will reveal in his address plans the state highway commission has for inclusion of Orange county highways in the state secondary system. It is known that Meeks will be in a position at that time to present in detail the state program for Orange county.

The celebration features should be over by 12:30 p. m., according to tentative plans, thus giving opportunity for participants to carry out week-end programs they may have arranged.

MEDILL SURPRISES, DEFEATS TOWNSEND

LOS ANGELES, July 9. — Billy Townsend, rising young man from Vancouver, was wondering today how Joey Medill of Chicago came to defeat him in a ten-round pugilistic encounter here last night.

Picked to win without undue effort, Townsend found Medill's left hook too much for him and as a result lost six rounds by a decisive margin. Medill carried the fight practically all the way, and wavered only in the final round. His early lead, however, was too great to be denied.

Townsend was depending largely on his well known dynamic right hand to bring him victory but he was unable to land it on the speedy Chicagoan.

D. K. HAMMOND INSTALLED AS ROTARY CHIEF

The "wrecking crew" of Rotary, composed of past presidents of the local club, operated effectively yesterday in "unseating" Ralph Smedley as president and seating D. K. Hammond in the vacated position.

Members of the crew participating in the ceremonies brought to public attention—with public limited to members of the organization—various alleged incidents in the lives of the retiring and incoming presidents and much was said about wine tonics and "mind, body and spirit."

Mac Robbins, first president of the local club, wielded the gavel during the full session, and in approaching the period for the installation of Hammond as president, introduced T. E. Stephenson as the first actor in the drama of induction, with announcement that the members of the "wrecking crew" would make revelations and startling statements based on investigations of the past life of the retiring president.

Stephenson then revealed that Smedley had answered satisfactorily a questionnaire submitted to test his qualifications for membership in the past presidents association.

Fred Rowland and E. S. Morrow added to the sum total of the revelations that were of interest only to Rotarians, and Morrow concluded his discussion by presenting Smedley with a triangle made up of caps from various types of wine tonic containers.

C. E. Rutledge presented the retiring president with a past president's emblem, and Smedley made his farewell address in a happy vein.

With a dunce cap atop his "dome" Hammond accepted the honor conferred upon him by his election to the presidency and refrained from an extended talk because of the lateness of the hour.

The gavel of the club, whilh has been used at many donventions of Rotary International, and whirh was carried around the world by Charles Heil, was returned by Hammond, who took it to the convention in Chicago last week.

William McKay will continue as secretary of the club. Directors installed were R. G. Tuthill, Col. S. H. Finley, William Stauffer, W. S. Suddaby, Alex Brownridge, Smedley and Hammond.

Vocal numers were rendered by Mrs. Ruth Garrison and Miss "Bobbie" McCain.

TUBBS GIVES TALK TO EXCHANGE CLUB

Dixon W. Tubbs, of the entomological laboratory near Anaheim, was the principal speaker yesterday at the regular meeting of the Exchange club at the Santa Ana cafe. Dixon's talk was directed at the evils of crop pests and proven means for their eradication.

The speaker told of a parasite, known as the cryptolaemus, used in exterminating mealy bug.

Dixon explained the plant quarantine to prevent foreign insect pests from entering California.

"In this manner," he said, "the danger of pest migration and a crop epidemic is reduced as much as it is scientifically possible."

A delightful program of entertainment was a feature of yesterday's meeting. Mrs. Cecil Fross Willits sang the "Desert Song" and was forced to oblige with an encore. She was accompanied on the piano by Ruth Carden.

Nicholson had charge of the work in the city schools and made a splendid talk on the work and the splendid co-operation offered by the teachers. Mrs. Nicholson introduced Miss Ruth Domer who received the city and county prize, and who read the essay that won the prize.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark reviewed the life of Mary H. Hunt, who first conceived the idea of having scientific temperance taught in the schools. HOOKS SALMON, GETS LICENSE

AUGUSTA, Me., July 9.—(UP)—Harold D. Jennings, president of the board of aldermen, was fishing for smelts in the Kennebec river near City Hall.

Suddenly he discovered that he had a salmon on the hook. One does not need a license for smelts, but one must have a license to fish for salmon. Jennings had no license, but he was undaunted.

His shouts attracted City Clerk S. Sewell Webster to a window of the latter's nearby office.

THE FUMIGATOR

By THOS. E. PICKERILL [all rights reserved]

OUR DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

We hold these Truths to be Self-Evident, that all Candidates start out Free and Equal, that they are Endowed by Nature with certain Unalienable Rights, that among these are a just portion of Grit and Gall. Unwarranted Familiarity, Unparalleled Liberality and the Patient Pursuit of the Common Vote. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a Candid County.

They have kissed our Babies, climbed over Fences to shake hands with Farmers, and done all sorts of Things they never before did in their lives.

They have brought all sorts of "Advertising" in Spurious Publications against the best interests of Themselves and the Advertising Profession.

They have taken Tickets to Barbers' Balls, Pennsylvania Picnics, and for a host of Events with which they have no Allegiance, nor Consanguinity, nor Affinity.

They have told Lies, spread Bull, and otherwise Perjured Themselves before the body politic.

They have refused, in some instances, to answer the Questionnaire, whereby their Silence indicates that Liquor may have touched their Lips within a space of Two Years.

They have erected a multitude of New Issues into the Campaign, and sent thither swarms of Gossip, Slander and Innuendo to Stir Up and Harrass our People in their Common Pursuits.

They have kept among us, in times of Peace, standing Organibations, without the consent of the Board of Supervisors.

They have plundered our Ideas, raced up and down our Coast, burnt up the Highways through our Towns, destroyed the Well-being of our Folks and incited Domestic Insurrections among us.

We, therefore, appealing to our sense of Political Justice for the rectitude of our Intentions do blithesomely Publish and Declare that THE FUMIGATOR is and ought to be Free and Independent, and hereby Absolves itself from Allegiance to all Candidates, and as such has full power to Fumigate, levy War, conclude Peace, and do all other Things that a Columnist should not do. And with a firm Reliance on the Editor, we pledge to our Readers our harrowing Past, our precarious Present, and our uncertain Future.

HAPPINESS CONSISTS IN BEING SO POOR YOU HAVE NO SERVANT PROBLEM.

A needle-threading contest for girls and a weed-cutting marathon for boys wouldn't hurt the country any right now.

The census officials were the only ones who found out that the small towns of the country were disappearing. The rest of us had been reading their chamber of commerce literature.

As no candidate has come out against billboards we have no reason to vote for any of them; and as no candidate has come out on the billboards we would like to vote for all of them.

Henry Schmidt, publisher of the Buena Park News, comes out in an editorial and says that Orange county has never had a scandal.

What Henry really means is that if Orange county ever had a scandal the public didn't find it out and therefore Orange county never had a scandal.

But, then, we'll let Henry write his own editorials.

We don't believe that any of the officials of Orange county are crooked, either. The majority of them are honest and the rest are too dumb to be crooked.

Begin Survey For Storm Drain On Lemon Street

IMPROVEMENT NECESSARY IN RAINY MONTHS

ORANGE, July 9.—A preliminary survey for the proposed storm drain on Lemon street was begun yesterday by City Engineer C. C. Bonebrake. The present plans for the storm drain are for a piece of work 6650 feet long extending from Santiago creek to Walnut street.

The establishment of a drain on this street has been under consideration for a number of years and the improvement is thought to be one of the greatest necessity, as during the winter months, the street is often flooded and excess flood water backs into the yards and the side streets of the vicinity.

At a recent meeting of city council a verbal petition was made by a resident of the vicinity who urged that immediate steps be taken to relieve the situation before the winter rains began. The petitioner stated that school children from many of the homes were unable to get out of the flooded yards unless they wore rubber boots.

Plans for the drain will differ slightly from one proposed for the district last year, it is understood. The drain as planned last year was to have cost $50,000. The proposition was lost when the matter was submitted to the voters at a special election.

The building of the drain will avert possible damage to property in the vicinity, make access to the high school and intermediate school easier in stormy weather and will constitute an improvement of major importance for the year.

Add Improvements To Orange School During Vacation

ORANGE, July 9.—While students of the Orange union high school are enjoying a three month's vacation necessary improvements are being made in the school building that everything may be in readiness for the coming school year, which starts on Wednesday, September 10.

A new hardwood floor is being laid in room 155 and plumbing connected with the school is being inspected and repaired. The usual renovation of blackboards and other equipment is also in progress.

FORM FROG FARMS

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 9.—Since the Latinizing of the Arabic alphabet became a law two years ago, many persons have been jailed—for using their old Arabic alphebet. It is now a misdemeanor punishable by fine for individuals or organizations to use the old letters in the ordinary course of business.

Funny Weather Keeps Fires In City Hall

ORANGE, July 9. — The "unusual" weather of the past few weeks has kept the fires in the radiators at the city hall burning for a longer period than in any previous known season, according to officials who spend their hours in this structure.

Artificial heat during this month had heretofore been unheard of but under present conditions, the building is too cold for comfort.

INVENTOR HAS NEW RECORDING MACHINE HERE

ORANGE, July 9.—Don Hetrick, 203 East Maple street, returned this week from a trip through Arizona and Nevada where he has been exhibiting a new idea in a recording machine. Hetrick, who is one of the inventors of the machine, declares that the process evolved by his coworkers and himself makes possible production of records under all circumstances. As compared to the new invention, the dictaphone is a toy, Hetrick declares.

Some of the advantages ascribed to the recording machine is that it may be used by lawyers or others who are anxious to hear how a talk to be delivered, will sound to others. The recording is said to be by a most simple and inexpensive process.

Hetrick has made an intensive study of sound since its introduction into moving pictures. He has been assistant director with a number of prominent film concerns and feels that his improvement will have a definite place in sound films, doing away with many present difficulties encountered in the making of talking pictures.

The young inventor is the son of Mrs. C. H. Davis of this city.

No Date Set For Resuming of Baby Clinics at Orange

ORANGE, July 9.—Baby clinics at the health center at the city hall have not yet been resumed and no definite date for their resumption has been set, according to Miss Isabel Durgan, who has charge of the work at the center.

A number of mothers of the vicinity are bringing their children to the city hall by appointment to have them weighed and measured, Miss Durgan says, and until all danger of infantile paralysis is over it is expected that this practice ill continue.

SCHOOL DATES ANNOUNCED BY H. S. PRINCIPAL

ORANGE, July 9.—The school calender for the coming year was announced at the Orange union high school yesterday, by Principal A. Haven Smith. Tentative dates have been set for the usual school events and definite dates have been set for the opening and closing of school and for the vacations and holidays.

School will open on September 10 which falls on Wednesday and the commencement date has been set for June 9 with the closing day of school, June 12. The first holiday will fall on Armistice day, Tuesday, November 11.

The midwinter vacation will begin on December 18 and will continue until January 4 inclusive, and the spring vacation will continue from March 30 until April, 2 inclusive. The first semester will extend from September 10 to January 23 and the second semester from January 26 to June 12.

By a queer coincidence a number of holidays which often fall during the school terms occur on Saturday or Sunday. Decoration day, 1931, falls on Saturday, George Washington's birthday is on Sunday, Labor day arrives before the opening of school on September 1, and Columbus day, October 12, is on Saturday. Although it will not affect their holiday school schedule it was noted at the high school office yesterday that the Fourth of July also falls on Saturday.

The athletic schedule for the coming year is practically completed and it is thought that it will not be changed, it was said.

SPRINGDALE

Little Mildred Ruoff is suffering from an injured arm hurt on the Fourth of July while learning to ride a bicycle. The family were visiting friends in Orange and the accident happened there.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woodington and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hall of Santa Ana left Saturday for Montana. The party expects to be gone a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ruoff and daughter, in company with three friends from Los Angeles, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ruoff, parents of Norman Ruoff.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Wells from Riverside spent Sunday in the Best Mallett home. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Vatcher and Arthur Mallett were also visitors there.

Dr. and Mrs. Hurst from Los Angeles are taking a month's vacation and expect to spend most of this time with Dr. Hurst's parents at the Blue Bill Gun club.

SOVIET INSPECTORS MUST HAVE PERMITS

MOSCOW, July 9. — (INS)— Snoopers, inspectors, investigators, who like flies have been in the habit of pestering managers of Soviet factories and collective and state farms to discover whether the Communist party "line" or "plan" was being carried out, must now obtain special permission for their activities.

The Commisariat of Workers' Peasants' Inspection, the efficiently department of the government, has given managers the right to kick out all investigation committees which fail to present signed and sealed credentials from the federal or state efficiency departments.

Commissar Orjonikidzie said investigations had become a menace to the state industries and farms. The biggest state farm "Gigant," he said, was investigated 600 times last year by federal, state, and local government or Communist party commissions, excluding excursionists and guests. The Malovis-kovsky sugar plant, he said, was investigated 94 times last year. During the month of the harvest at the Rosa Luxemburg collective farm, the manager was compelled to furnish data and explanations about his work to seven different inspectors.

In a few cases the Commissariat issued absolute orders forbidding investigations. The iron and steel mills of the Ural mountain and Moscow districts are not to be investigated by anyone until after October 1.

Late News From Orange County Communities

Coast Body Renews Efforts To Clean Beaches

ORANGE COUNTY BOOSTERS MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

NEWPORT BEACH, July 9.—The Orange County Coast association and local chambers of commerce along the coast will continue to demand more thorough efforts to enforce the law against pollution of the beaches by oil, it was decided at a meeting here last night of directors of the coast body. The meeting was held in the Bank of Balboa, following a dinner at the El Portal cafe.

Letters were read by Secretary Harry Welch from Representative Phil D. Swing, who had been sent photographs of oil on the beach by the Newport Harbor chamber. Swing and the two California senators communicated with the war department and secured a promise of greater efforts to enforce the law. Those present, however, believe that a special patrol boat is needed for this purpose.

A representative of the All-Year Club of Southern California attended the meeting and discussed a proposal whereby Orange county and the club might co-operate in advertising in eastern newspapers, this county to be specially referred to in some of the publicity. This was referred to the advertising committee, which will report, with other committees, at the association's next meeting, which will be at San Clemente Tuesday evening of next week.

The legislative committee will take up the daylight saving question and the matter of allocation of the gasoline tax, there being a feeling that more of this should be spent in incorporated cities, in which it is said 70 per cent of the tax is collected and little of it spent.

Frank C. Drumm, attorney of Santa Ana, was indorsed for the new federal judgeship to be created.

The next golf tournament of the association will be held the last Monday in this month at Catalina Island, according to present plans. A Tom Thumb golf tournament has also been suggested.

FIRST IN THE NATION

THE LAST DAY

FOR 6% INTEREST FROM JULY 1

Tomorrow those who bring or mail their savings to Pacific States Savings may receive ten days' extra interest at 6%.

To determine if you should take advantage of these ten days' of grace ask yourself these two questions:

First: By being satisfied with smaller interest are you needlessly limiting your income, or making an unnecessarily slow job of building your capital?

Second: Are you enjoying such proven protection as Pacific States Savings provides, or by being content with less well rounded safety, are you hazarding your funds and peace of mind?

If your answer to either of these questions is unsatisfactory to you . . . then your funds belong in Pacific States Savings with those of 70 thousand other prudent people who are enjoying adequate yield plus unquestioned protection.

You still can make 1930 a year of solid financial accomplishment by transferring your funds to this institution now.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

By EDDIE WEST

Night baseball's face may be saved by a transaction of tremendous importance which was being engineered by Santa Ana and Anaheim diplomats today.

The deal involves Orville Schuchardt, suspended Santa Ana outfielder, and Joe Ochoa, star Anaheim pitcher.

The dope that comes straight from the feedbox is that Santa Ana will trade Schuchardt to Anaheim for Ochoa, and that the transaction will be consummated before tonight's meeting here at which National Night league magnates will assemble to discuss matters relative to Schuchardt's sudden decision to quit the Santa Ana Stars on the promise of employment by the city of Anaheim.

Santa Ana has withheld Schuchardt's release, and, as I get it, will continue to do so unless Anaheim gives Santa Ana something in return.

Schuchardt lives in Santa Ana but is employed in Anaheim.

Ochoa resides in Anaheim but works in Santa Ana.

Schuchardt is anxious to join the Valencias. Ochoa is willing to pitch for the Stars with whom he was affiliated last season. He is said to be dissatisfied at Anaheim.

Negotiations once reached the status of completion today but were called off later by George Pace, Anaheim manager, who said he wanted John Wilcox, the Santa Ana team's business manager, to appear before Anaheim city officials and answer some questions pertinent to the "Schuchardt Case."

Unless a compromise is reached between the warring factions it is apparent that night baseball may be shaken to its heels by a searching investigation into the employment situation, as it concerns night baseball players.

The National Night league is supposed to be an amateur organization. The league does not recognize the validity of employment as a factor to be considered when the rights of a club to a player's services are involved.

Another possible "way out" of the trouble was suggested by one of the diplomats attempting to arrange the Schuchardt - Ochoa trade.

It was that Schuchardt, although employed by the city of Anaheim, continue to play ball with Santa Ana and that Ochoa, receiving salary from a manufacturing firm in Santa Ana, stick with the Anaheim team.

UNAPPRECIATIVE

Sometimes I guess we don't altogether appreciate the class of boxing we get at our own Orange County Athletic club.

For an arena in the "sticks," Promoter H. T. Foust shows fighting men that outrank the performers at any club in Southern California except Los Angeles.

The promoter says he is losing money doing it, too.

Wilmington, for instance, goes to bat tonight with a main-eventer who fought a $20 curtain-raiser at San Bernardino a month ago.

His name is K. O. Kaseobabian, an Armenian. He meets Homer Sheridan and if Sheridan doesn't bounce him in a round or two most of the critics will be surprised.

Talent must be scarce indeed when a brand new arena the size of the harbor plant must shove $20 preliminary boys into the top notches.

LEMON, RIVERS RETURN

Comment of boxing reminds me that Indian Jimmie Rivers and Romeo Lemon, Fullerton welterweights, have returned home from a barnstorming trip through the Southwest and Rocky Mountain districts.

They wanted to continue east but decided to abandon the trip for the time being when their manager, Jack Walker of Santa Ana, had to return here.

Lemon especially showed considerable improvement during the invasion.

He won three of his four fights. His victims were Jack Sparr at Santa Fe, N. M.; Palmleaf Wright, Negro middleweight champion of the Rockies, at Phoenix, Ariz., and Miami Joe Rivers at Miami, Ariz.

He lost to Manuel Quintero, one of the ranking welterweights in the country, at Denver just before turning for home.

Lemon planned to go to Cleveland to fight "Gorilla" Jones but found the tour was costing him too much weight. He says he lost eight pounds traveling.

LOSE LICTHENWALTER

Pitchers are hard to keep in the night baseball racket.

Now Long Beach has lost its ace gunner—Lloyd Lichtenwalter.

A job entered into his transfer, too.

He has moved to Riverside and will immediately join the Riverside club of the American league. He has gone to work in the inland city for a large oil company.

SANTA ANA 'B' NINE DEFEATS GARDEN GROVE

Kenny Sturzenger's Santa Ana Shells today enjoyed the sensation of occupying the dizzy heights of glory in the Orange County "B" Night Baseball league.

They were tied with Westminster for first place in the National league's subsidiary circuit as a result of an impressive 6 to 2 victory over Garden Grove, the first half champion, in the Bowl here last night.

Toiling in a "Bee" unie for the first time this semester, Gene Hitt topped the Chilipepper Juniors

with three hits, one of them a homer by Abbott.

Winkler, Garden Grove's moundsman, struck out 15 Shells but the Santa Anans were able to make full use of their nine hits. They scored in the second on hits by Walbridge and Walker and an error by Marks; two in the third on Dorman's walk and Sand's home run; two more in the sixth when Adams, Walbridge and Adams bunched hits, and their sixth and last one in the seventh on Norton's pass and Adams' hit.

The box score.

Jones, Hagen Favored In U. S. Open

GOLF ACES SET FOR FIRST OF 72-HOLE PLAY

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

INTERLACHEN CLUB, Minneapolis, Minn., June 9.—Twenty-four hours hence, the boys will be forced to stop their guessing and begin doing their explaining. Before another sun is verging on the meridian much that is now vague and obscure will be made as obvious as a back driver's welcome. By Saturday night, all will be reviewed.

But this is only the day before, not the morning after the most theatrical of all the national open golf championships and so Mr. Robert T. Jones, the gentleman barrister, is surmised to be the ultimate winner with Mr. Walter Hagen, the gentleman troubadour, a highly esteemed second choice. They are said to hold Jones at odds of 7 to 5 which is not a short price. It is downright 'abrupt.'

Hagen Has Good Chance

Hagen, they say, is a 4 to 1 after doing 32 for the first nine holes again yesterday. The winner therefore, ought to be either the man who is great or the man who only used to be great, a summary that is intended to be specific but merely succeeds in being slightly evasive to be absolutely frank about the thing. The winner will be the man who uses a tremendously long tee shot to a split inch of the fairway and a Winchester rifle to the green.

This might be Jones, indeed, the summation has a singularly suggestive sound, reminiscent of a description of Jones playing a golf hole—almost any golf hole and almost any time. It might be Hagen, particularly the newer and better Hagen imbued with the spirit of uplift and altogether a man of high purpose or something as to that, it might be almost any one of the 147 announced starters.

Jones Can Do It

Jones can do it. He has everything to lose in this tournament except the thing he can never lose, prestige, and all he can win is world-wide recognition as the man the world has recognized him to be these several years—the greatest of all golfers. The first two-title man England has known in 40 years, as a result of his recent victories at St. Andrews and Hoylake, he can break all records by repeating his 1929 performance in this championship, so the burden of proof will be on him tomorrow.

If Hagen is hitting the shots he knows, Interlachen will find him immune to its hazards, too. If he isn't—farewell, Tosti. When Hagen is wild, the cougar, by comparison, becomes domesticated. Gene Sarazen, a fine iron player, faces a bit of the same problem, since control is something that is liable to desert him like a false friend.

Diegel hits a long ball but his grotesqueries leave him prey to painful and often protracted inaccuracy. It isn't the kind of a course to commend itself to one of Diegel's whimsical tendencies.

Mehlhorn Erratic

As for Bill Mehlhorn, it is liable to catch up with him widway through the first round and ride him like a hag for the rest of the tournament. It is a Von Elm course, as any layout is likely to be. George either wins or loses his tournaments on the greens.

It won't be a great source of comfort to Horton Smith, with his tendency to play his long irons neither wisely nor too well and, as for Johnny Farrell, it would seem that he hasn't the length to get away with a title on these links. Densmore Shute, with his precise spoon play has distinctly posibili-

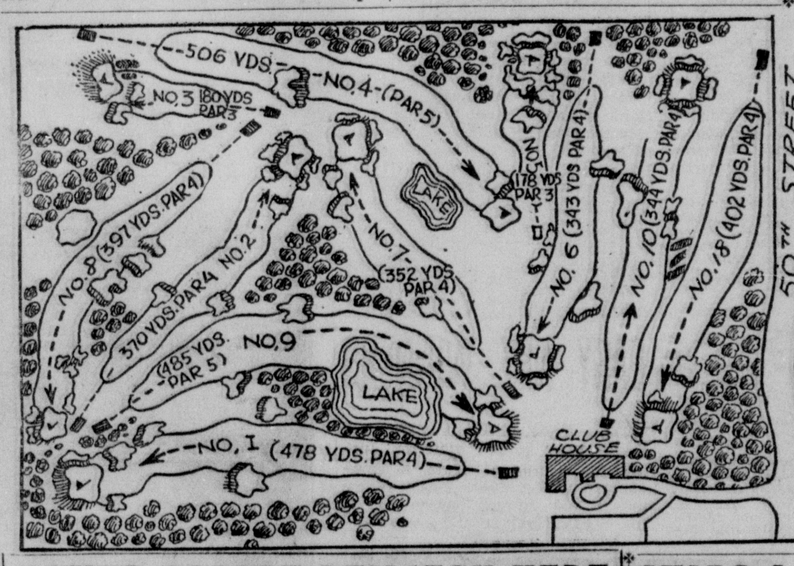
ORGANIZATION OF SUNDAY BASEBALL LEAGUE IN ORANGE COUNTY PLANNED

Plans for the immediate organization of an Orange County Sunday baseball league were put in motion here today, and every indication was that the conference will be operating full blast within a month.

Victor Walker, for many years the "father" of the now passe Orange County Harbor league which sent George Blaeholder to the major leagues and developed several other professional players, has broadcast invitations to representatives of almost a dozen teams in Orange county to attend a meeting at his sporting goods store here, 219 West Fourth street.

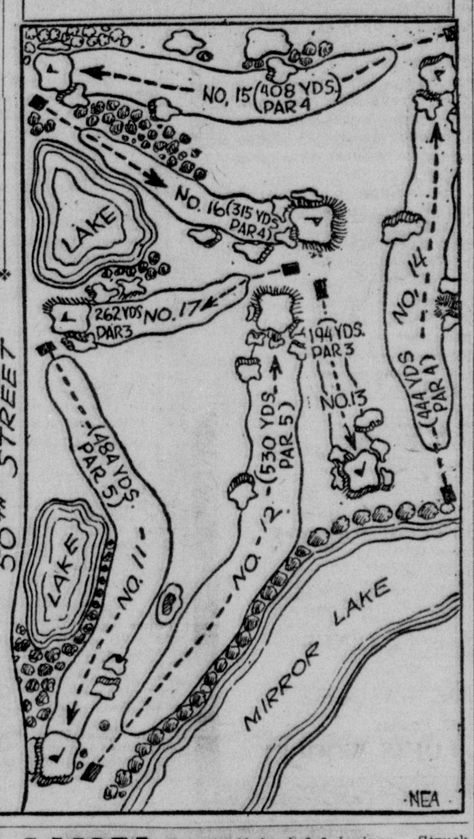
Among those expected to enter the league are the Santa Ana Merchants, Buena Park, Anapauma Rancho, Laguna Beach, San Clemente, Anaheim, Huntington Beach, Cypress and Atwood.

Teams interested are urged to communicate with Walker Immediately.



HERE'S INTERLACHEN

A sketch of the course at Interlachen, Minneapolis, where the National Open golf championship will be played July 10 to 12, is shown below and to the right. The sketch is by Willie Kidd, professional at Interlachen, and outlines the hazards the golfer must negotiate to make a respectable score. Notice the numerous water holes and the dog-leg fairways. The fairways are narrowed to a nicety and the greens are closely guarded. Kidd, who has been responsible for a great many of the improvements around the course in preparation for the entertainment of the stars, says Number 2 is going to cause as much difficulty as any of the holes. Accuracy is essential there, but the same holds true of most of the other holes.



JOE CORNELIUS SHADES CHICO: PROTEST FILED

Harassed George Peterkin, head man of the National Night Baseball league, had another protest spread out before him today—this one filed by the La Habra Violet Rays after their 7 to 2 defeat by the race-leading and unbeaten Santa Ana Stars at La Habra last night.

The La Habrans were "outsmarted" into their complaint on a play engineered by Second Baseman Leavitt Daley of Santa Ana in the third inning.

With Pussie on first base, Rady lofted pop fly to Daley who noticed that Rady was not "running it out." Daley deliberately dropped the ball, picked it up quickly and whipped it to First Baseman Bill Cole who tagged Pussie, then touched first base, apparently retiring both men on a clever double killing.

Violet Rays Swarm Umpire

Base Umpire Guy Meats said so, at least.

The Violet Rays immediately swarmed around him, protesting that Pussie could not be forced off the bag under any condition if he didn't want to budge. During the argument, Pussie pilfered second but he was called out as part of the "double play" and the contest continued—with the Stars ever adding to a three-run lead they manufactured on four successive hits by the first four men who faced the celebrated Chico Sabella, La Habra's ace moundsman.

H. C. Park, La Habra manager, announced he would file a protest with President Peterkin. He added that he would charge Umpire Meats with inefficiency in his document to the "prexy."

Protest or no protest, it was Santa Ana's famed bunting attack that upset the La Habra infield and gave the Stars their sixth successive triumph of the second half of the National league's split season.

Sabella Fields Bunts Poorly

Sabella, a great fast ball pitcher, showed a surprising inability to field his position and once the Stars discovered this weakness they kept hammering away at it.

It really cost Sabella seven runs and the ball game.

In fact, Santa Ana made enough runs to win the encounter before Sabella retired a man in the first inning.

"Memphy" Hill, first up, bunted perfectly past Sabella. Daley bunted down the third base line and easily beat it out. Rady made a belated wild throw to first allow-

GOUYD-COLOPE REMATCH HERE TOMORROW PROMISES FISTIC FANCIERS PLENTY OF ACTION

If lightning strikes twice, and frequently it does in the box-fighting business, the Orange County Athletic club figures to show its greatest main event of the year tomorrow night. Promoter H. T. Foust pairs in an eight-round main event Clayton Gouyd, Hollywood feature performer, and Pastor Calope, Pasadena Filipino.

Rough, tough and game, the little bantamweight buzzsaws have never failed to entertain whenever they've gone into the firing pit here.

Foust threw them into together less than a month ago and the result was a bout which was described as the outstanding "action" spat of the season.

Referee Jack McDonald termed it a draw. He could do nothing else. The bout was actually that close. A bit stronger and more experienced, Gouyd had an edge at close quarters but the slant-eyed Calope squared accounts when it came to long range battling. Through the entire six rounds the little fellows fired away at each other unmercifully.

Gouyd and Calope completed their training yesterday, Gouyd with a brief workout in Los Angeles. Calope was content to do a little roadwork.

Early odds favor Gouyd slightly but they are likely to be even bets by the time the wraps are taken off.

The top attraction is so much class that it forces Baby Jack Dempsey, participant in numerous main events here, to accept a semi-windup position.

Baby Jack is bracketed with Clem Avila of Pomona, a better than average featherweight who should press the hard-hitting but none too rugged Alhambra lad. They are to work six rounds.

Leroy Haynes and Jack Gilmore, 180-pounders, head the preliminary parade.

Cliff Burrier, Santa Ana junior lightweight, meets Joe Vasquez of Ontario, and Andy de la Parra, Santa Ana bantam, faces Louie Wooley of Los Angeles.

Haynes and Gilmore will step six rounds. The other two are four-rounders.

Promoter Foust makes another gesture for feminine patronage this week. He will admit free all women who are accompanied by escorts holding reserved seat tickets.

Friday's Schedule

Santa Ana at Whittier; Anaheim at La Habra; Garden Grove at Huntington Beach; Olive at Long Beach; Orange at Fullerton.

There is many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip—but Santa Ana's lead of two full games over its National Night Baseball league field looked pretty convincing today.

The Stars won their seventh straight game at La Habra, 7-2, to feature a bustling last evening which saw Whittier, the first half champion, drop its fourth game in seven starts. Olice, the "Giant Killer" in the confederacy, attended to the latest chastisement of the Quakers and the defeat virtually eliminated the upstate gang from the second half race.

Garden Grove, still a genuine contender, again gave every indication that it will be one of the teams to beat for the title. One of the heaviest hitting aggregations in the assembly, the Peppers murdered the offerings of two Fullerton gunners to grind out another one of their lopsided victories. This time it was 15 to 5.

"Bud" Wilhite lasted less than four innings and Del Georgio, his successor, was greeted almost as enthusiastically. Robinson and Morrill, Pepper pitchers, just toyed with their opposition. Joe Mene and Jerry Heard both had four hits for the winners. The box score:

HEMANN BEATS M'ONNELL IN MOUND BATTLE

"String" McDonell lost only one game while pitching for Whittier in the first half of the National Night league. Last night he lost his fourth of the second half which is less than half complete. He was outpitched by Rudy Heman, Olive's premier flinger, and the Packers won handily, 5 to 1.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

A broken leg is a great help to a ball player. . . . John Hodapp of the Indians is burning up the American league this year . . . he broke a leg in 1928. . . . "Lefty" O'Doul broke a limb and the best he could do the following year was to lead the National league in batting with an average of .398. . . . Three years ago "Chuck" Klein of the Phils fractured a leg, and has been batting 'em out of the pastures ever since. . . . Denny Sothern, likewise of the Philly entry, broke a leg last year and now he is having his best season in the majors. . . . SLAYING THE FOUL

With some eagerness I am awaiting the next brawl of heavyweights under the no-foul-all-fair ruling of the New York boxing commission. It will be interesting to see how the current cauliflower quitters get around it.

Of course, there are still available foul devices for winning fights, even though the low blow was banned by the solemn solons as excuse for terminating fights. Sharkey, in his next bout with Schmeling, could bite or kick the German or hit him after the bell, and this would constiute foul play.

But the drastic step, though it

ing Hill third and Daley second. Merrill hit a high bouncer to Wilkinson and beat it out for an infield single, Hill scoring and Daley taking third. Wayne Nelson's double down the left field foul line cleared the bases. Nelson's drive was good for three bases but ground rules, necessitated by the overflow crowd, forced him to return to second.

La Habra Scores Twice

La Habra got both its runs in the last half of the same stanza. Rice, first up, walked but Pussie popped to Cornelius and Rady forced Rice at second, Hunter to Daley. Wilkinson singled sharply to right, Merrill made a perfect throw to Hunter at third which had Rady by several yards but Hunter dropped the ball and all hands were safe, Wilkinson moving up to second on the transaction. He and Rady easily scored when Norton drilled a line single to center.

After the first inning, Cornelius was invincible, blanking the Violet Rays and allowing them but four hits, three of them of the infield variety. In five of the rounds, Cornelius stopped La Habra in order. In the other three, potential Violet Ray runs perished on the baselines.

Sabella's wildness and inability to handle bunts figured in the scoring of every Star run after the first inning. In fact, the big pitcher revealed an alarming weakness at scampering after the well placed "drags" which the clever Santa Ana attackers pushed toward him.

Hill Brings In Fourth Run

Santa Ana made the score 4-2 by pushing home a run in the fourth. Hill beat out another bunt, went clear to third on Rady's wild throw on Daley's bunt and scored on a wild pitch. Daley died on third when Merrill and Nelson popped out.

Merrill's safe bunt, Nelson's sacrifice on which he was safe and Merrill took third when Rady threw wildly to first base and another Sabella wild pitch gave the Stars a 5-2 lead in the seventh.

Two runs, scored without the aid of a hit, completed the Santa Ana run-making. Cornelius started it himself by working Sabella for a pass. He took second on Hill's sacrifice and stole third. Daley grounded sharply to Shortstop Wilkinson whose toss to the plate for Cornelius got away from Pancho and let the Santa Ana pitcher score and Daley sprint to second. Daley promptly swiped third and scored when Sabella booted Nelson's lazy grounder.

PIPING 'EM OFF

Leavitt Daley, Santa Ana second baseman, started a play that led Anaheim to protest a game it lost to Santa Ana May 23, and he instituted the proceedings which gave La Habra its complaint last night. In the second instance Daley "outsmarted" the Violet Rays into a protest for had Rady, an experienced ball player, run out his pop fly there never would have been room for an argument.

Chico Sabella doesn't like to handle bunts. The Stars had him half crazy in the first inning and again in the seventh and eighth frames, when they concentrated on his one weakness as a pitcher. The Santa Anans are adept at the bunting game and were placing them especially well on Chico.

"Rosy" Merrill beat out three infield hits and was robbed of another bingle by Third Baseman Rady who made a circus catch of a line drive in the fifth.

The largest crowd in La Habra night ball history turned out for the tussle. Ground rules were necessary on alls hit to left and right fields.

Daly got credit for a peculiar putout on Pussic in the sixth. Pussie popped a high fly to Daley who bobbled it, then picked the ball up in time to tage the hustling Pussic between first and second. That was one time when it didn't pay to hustle. Although Pussic reached first, Daley was saved an error because Pussic's "life" at bat was not prolonged by the play.

Joe Cornelius has now won 14 games and lost one for Santa Ana. He will go right back to the wars Friday night against Whittier, the only team that has beaten him. Cornelius batted four times at La Habra and happened to be the lead-off man every time.

The Violet Rays have a high class ball club and will make trouble for every team they face this summer.

Pitcher Gene Hitt has been released under option to the Santa Ana Bees.

Daley caught seven pop flys. He nearly dropped one from Wilkinson's willow early in the pastime, juggling it about on his finger tips before finally "freezing" it while on his knees.

The Stars were a bit nervous in the first few innings but settled down under the influence of some of the older heads and played like champions in the last part.

Two full games ahead of its field, Santa Ana will be hard to catch now. The Stars are playing heads-up ball and getting fine pitching. If they "take" Whittier it is hard to see how they can miss the playoffs.

ACORNS DEFEAT ORANGE; HOMERS FEATURE

Home runs added zest to the Long Beach-Orange conflict, won by the Acorns, 10 to 5, at Orange. Deene Downer, Long Beach's new moundsman from city league ranks, was invincible after the first inning when Russell Sullivan blasted a home run with Richards and Thiery aboard. Rod Ballard homed for the Acorns in the second and Odie Maness put the Long Beach outfit out in front in the fifth with a home run with two on base. The score:

CRESS AND WAYCOTT EASY NET WINNERS

John Cress, Earl Waycott and Eddie West scored victories during the course of Class A competition in the Santa Ana summer playground tennis tournament on the high school courts yesterday.

Cress blanked Lester Archer in straight sets and Waycott won decisively from Lester W. Slaback, 6-3, 6-1, but West was hard pressed to take the measure of Fred Little, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Other playground results follow:

Class C—Mary Ortiz defeated Louise Rurup, 0-6, 10-8, 8-6.

Class D—Toby White defeated Julian Brown, 6-1, 6-0; Veri Moyer defeated Lecil Slaback, 9-7, 6-2; Lewis Wetherell defeated Julian Brown, 6-0, 6-0; Toby White defeated Harry Motley, 6-0, 6-0; Julian Brown defeated Harry Motley, 6-0, 6-4; Toby White defeated John Davis, 6-0, 6-0.

ties, however, so of course, has any one of a dozen others, including Ed Dudley.

There is no great sense, in fact, in excluding Henry Ciuci and "Wiffy" Cox, who scored a pair of record 69's yesterday.

Jones Favorite

The law says that they don't have to refuse to do this again and anybody who pinks up a 69 with a few rounds in the moderate 70's can win this championship. In fact, such a man probably will win it.

Who is he to be? I know a hundred men who can do it. But there are only one or two who, under the lash, will do it, right out there before your eyes. One of them is a probability. His name is Jones. At least three more are distinct possibilities. Their names are Hagen, Sarazen, etc., but why go on?

The possibilities are almost limitless. The probabilities almost negligible. Only the events of the ensuing three days can furnish the answer.

SANITARY TAX AT PLACENTIA MAY BE LOWER

The possibility of reducing sanitary district taxes on ranch property inside the Placentia sanitary district was discussed at a special meeting of the sanitary board Monday night in Placentia.

The board met at the office of the tax assessor, Mrs. Nellie Cline, and organized into a board of equalization. The assessment list as presented by Mrs. Cline was not completed and she requested instructions as to the manner of assessing, which the board is empowered to give. The board has up to the third Monday in July to complete the assessments and hear complaints.

Taxes for the past year were 60 cents on the hundred, and because of a surplus in the treasury is was suggested that assessments on ranch property inside the sanitary district be reduced one-half. Members of the board were in favor of this action generally. W. W. Krick expressed himself as being in favor of this reduction but stated that he thought the packing houses were assessed by the county at far below what they should be, and said that the rate should be raised as they were receiving the biggest benefits of the district at a rate lower than others.

The disposal of garbage has been a problem which has occupied the attention of the board, and arrangements have just been completed whereby A. Stewart, of Richfield, will collect the garbage free of charge, but will not collect rubbish. In the past the collector has charged 50 cents a month and collected both garbage and rubbish. Under the new arrangement the city will collect the rubbish.

The regular meeting of the board will be held at 7 p.m. today at the office of the city clerk followed by an adjourned meeting of the equalization board when assessment problems will be discussed.

PACKING PLANT TO MOVE BOILER ROOM

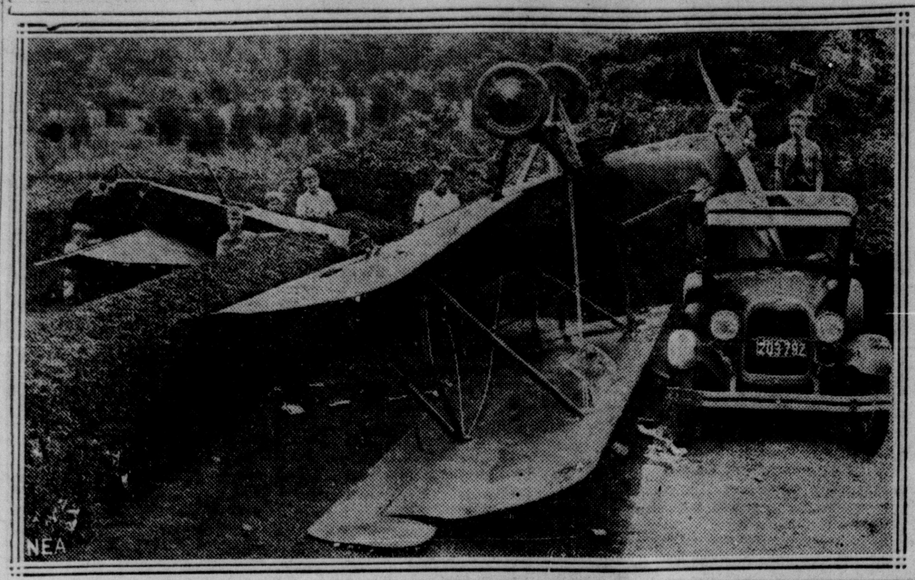
The California Packing corporation today had started the work of relocating its boiler room to make room for the widening of East First street through the company's packing house property. The front of the building also will have to be cut back.

Work is also in progress in the cutting of the S. H. Finley building at First and Main, the Preble and Bowman business structure and other buildings that stand out in what later will be a portion of the street.

It is possible bids for paving will be advertised in three or four weeks, according to Clyde Jenken, city engineer. Hearing of the protests against the improvement is scheduled for next Monday evening at the meeting of the city council, but it is not anticipated any property owner will enter a serious objection to the work.

AS STUDENT FLYER FLUNKED

The airplane business may have its ups and downs, but the turnover seems to be good. Here's what happened when Thomas O. Hutson, Washington, D. C., student flyer, made a miscalculation while trying to gain altitude at a suburban airport and snagged his landing gear on a power wire. The plane turned completely over and plunged its propeller through the top of a parked auto, as shown here, but Hutson escaped injury.



WESTMINSTER

WESTMINISTER, July 8.—A special meeting of the Westminister Chamber of Commerce has been called for the evening of Wednesday, July 23, prior to the date, July 28, on which time the water bond election is to be held, that interested parties might be further interested in voting on the proposition.

A report on the recent Associated Chamber of Commerce meeting was given at the last meeting by Prof. James Monroe, local representative of the chamber. L. W. Walker, secretary, was instructed to send to Dr. Richard Foster, who recently moved to Santa Ana, a vote of thanks from the local chamber for his excellent work accomplished as both president and secretary of the local organization during the years of his residence here.

Members of the Westminister ball team were treated by O. J. Day, local merchant, when they won a decided victory over Garden Grove which put them again into first place in the Orange county league. Wives of players were also of the party. The players included Francis Penhall, manager, Ray Burns, Chester Campbell, Ira DeBusk, Clemens, Frank McGuire, Cecil Sauers, Geo. Davis, Boyd Davis, Raymond Penhall, George Clough.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Walton entertained at dinner on Sunday when a family party gathered in their home in observance of the date of the birthday anniversary of Mr. Walton. Members of the party included Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Walton, daughter, Winifred and son, Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Penhall and sons, Marvin and Adelbert, and Mr. and Mrs. Walton.

Dr. Kennedy of Alhambra is to preach at the local Presbyterian church on next Sunday morning. Dr. Kennedy has supplied the sermon for the past two Sundays, the church at present being without a pastor. A special number was rendered at last Sunday's service by a group of six women, members of the choir.

Miss Margaret Basse, Miss Adeline Peterson, Harry Richard and Douglas Basse were the guests July 4 of Mrs. Stakemiller of Long Beach, an aunt of the Basse's, to a theatre party at Grauman's Chinese theater at Hollywood where they saw "Hell's Angels," afterward forming a dinner party in Long Beach, and attending the fire works display.

Mr. and Mrs. Bluewitt of New Westminister and Mrs. Bluewitt's mother, Mrs. Brainard, left last Thursday for Seattle where they expect to locate. They went prepared for camping and will make a leasurely trip. Marjorie McGovern, Mrs. Bluewitt's daughter, is remaining with friends at Stanton.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Anderson enjoyed calls July 4 from a number of their relatives among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Anderson's niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Wartenbe and son, Robert Wartenbe of Los Angeles, the latter of whom remained over to spend the week in the Anderson home; Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Phillips and two children of San Gabriel, and brother, Frank Phillips, wife and daughter, Jean Phillips, of Santa Ana, and Mr. Anderson's cousins, Mrs. Chas. Anderson and son, Charles Anderson, of Covina, being concluded in the party. Miss Virginia Anderson returned to Los Angeles that evening with Mr. and Mrs. Wartenbe, going from there to Burbank to the W. E. Smith home and returning Sunday with her father and brother who motored up for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Larter spent Friday at Huntington Beach.

Prof. and Mrs. James Monroe and their family were Fourth of July visitors at Huntington Beach.

Mrs. D. D. Cambell entertained at dinner Sunday evening, her guests being Mr. and Mrs. Chester Campbell and daughter of Midway City, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Day and daughter and son, D. D. Campbell who had flown to San Francisco, returned home that evening in time to join the party in his home.

Placentia Council Passes Ordinance

In answer to an appeal of Placentia business men to the city council to do something in regard to peddlers operating in the city in competition with established business houses, an emergency ordinance, No. 31, amending ordinance No. 8 which fixes business licenses, was read and adopted at the regular city council meeting last night.

Under this amendment all peddlers of fresh fruits and vegetables and dry goods will pay a license of $10 per day. This ordinance will go into effect as soon as it is published.

Only two complaints were received in regard to the raising of city taxes by re-assessment of property valuation. C. Wents, who owns nearly ten acres of property which is not subdivided, stated that he has been assessed for property which he had sold the Placentia union grammar school. D. F. Martin was the other man who entered a complaint against the raised assessment, which amounts to 25 per cent, giving the city an extra $1200.

The Mexican Baptist Mission asked exemption from taxes on the ground that the property on which the mission is located had been used only for religious purpose during the past nine months. It was the ruling of the council that as the property stood in the name of Benito Acosta at the time the assessment was made, they could claim no exemption.

Discussion of fines from the local police court resulted in the motion that the judge be asked to increase fines and make them more uniform in character. A motion was made that an extension phone be installed in the apartments of Officer Gus Barnes in order that he might be reached at all times and it was decided to connect the home of Fire Chief Lucy with the fire siren by a switch so that the alarm could be sounded at night from the house. An effort will be made to have Chief Lucy's home number in the telephone book as the number to call at night in case of fire.

Officer Barnes was instructed to try to find some one to act as dog catcher and to find a place to put the dogs. The question was brought up as to whether to pay the dog catcher on a commission or by straight salary, but was not decided.

Plans for collecting rubbish were discussed and it was decided to collect on Fridays, taking the town in sections.

Court Notes

Robert Welch, son of the internal revenue collector of Los Angeles, who was charged with issuing bank checks with intent to defraud, entered court yesterday before Judge James L. Allen, withdrew his plea of not guilty, entered a plea of guilty and asked probation. The application was denied by the court and July 11 was set as time for pronouncement of sentence. Later Welch again appeared before the court, waived time for the pronouncement of sentence and received the sentence of the court to San Quentin prison for the term prescribed by law, which is one to 14 years. The court suspended the sentence, however, on the condition that the prisoner serve one year in the Orange county jail, and ordered the prisoner to put up $10,000 for appearance on September 1 to start serving the sentence. Welch was connected with the H. Nakamura case, in which a Japanese druggist from Los Angeles was accused of issuing numerous bad checks in Orange county, and testified in court in this case, giving testimony damaging to the Japanese, who was sentenced to prison.

Lauro Ahumada, of Corona, charged with burglarizing the home of Jess Michaeli, near Anaheim on July 4, at which time a number of jewels and other articles were stolen, was held to answer to the superior court from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday. Bail of $3000 was demanded, which he did not make.

Board Rescinds Action Raising High School Tax Rate

REPORT SHOWS LAW REQUIRES 75 CENT LIMIT

Upon advice from County Auditor W. C. Jerome that a state law and recent rulings in like cases prevent increasing the high school tax rate over its present level of 75 cents, the Santa Ana school board in regular session last night rescinded action taken on June 24 in which the high school tax rate was ordered increased to provide additional funds amounting to $40,000 to finance the junior high school building program, and begin curtailing its program to keep within the limits of available funds.

In accordance with this decision the board voted three to two, to instruct the secretary to ascertain if deals for the purchase of additional property at the Julia Lathrop site, which are now in escrow, could be dropped, and if so to withdraw them. This property includes the corner at Russell and South Main streets, which is now occupied by a filling station and garage, and two residence properties. The action is necessitated by the fact that sufficient funds for the scheduled building operations at Lathrop and Willard junior high schools are not available at the present.

The board received assurance from the architect, J. E. Allison, that there would be room at the Lathrop site to provide for an auditorium without this property, although it would be better to have the additional room. In connection with the decision to drop the deals for the property at the Lathrop site, which are now in escrow, it was shown that the corner piece is under a lease that does not expire for several years and that the board was required to have clear title to all property it purchased. Price of the three pieces of property effected by the decision of the board is $34,270.

The situation developed last night when a statement was presented to the board showing that there was a deficit of $143,770 between the total amount needed for the completion of the building program at Lathrop and Willard and the total of $494,000 that was voted in bonds. The amount that it has developed is required under the plans as made totals $637,770.

The statement itemized the expenditures and estimated costs as follows: estimated expenses at Lathrop (excluding auditorium) $80,000; Willard plant (excluding gymnasium and shower rooms) $330,000; architect fees $24,600; new land $90,270 (of this amount $56,000 is for the Willard site); landscaping and grading at Lathrop and Willard $9000; equipment for Lathrop and Willard $35,000; total $568,870; not included but needed for Lathrop auditorium and Willard gym and showers, $68,900; total $637,770.

It was pointed out that the sale of the old Willard site on North Main street probably would make available $100,000 for the funds, but that this could not be counted on and should not be taken into consideration until the property actually was sold.

It also was revealed that, in accordance with an opinion of County Auditor W. C. Jerome, the premium received on the sale of the bonds amounting to $25,715 could be thrown into the building fund instead of being restricted to the retirement of the bonds as previously had been the ruling. Members of the board declared that Jerome had made this discovery while investigating the law restricting the amount of the tax rate, and had advised he would turn over the premium as a result, instead of applying it to the retirement of the bonds.

Another factor requiring changes in the program, which was a surprise to members of the board, was that the general high school fund was at a low ebb of $4500, and additional funds were required to bring this to the $30,000 mark. It developed in the discussion on this matter that there was an understanding on the part of some board members that money used a year ago this month in the purchase of additional property at the Lathrop site, including the Church of Christ and Chaney properties, had been "borrowed" from this fund and was to be paid back from the bond fund.

Another possibility that the board considered last night in making its present planned expenditures come within the limits of available funds, was to postpone the construction of the new class room unit of eight rooms at the Julia Lathrop school until after the sale of the old Willard site. This would cut an additional $43,000 from the expenditures. The board determined to postpone inclusion of a gymnasium and shower room at the Willard plant until after the sale of the old site.

RUNS FOR OFFICE

W. G. Knox, whose experience as an engineer has included a wide variety of activity, and who has served the city of Santa Ana as city engineer, city manager and councilman, today announced his candidacy for the office of county surveyor. Knox has been intimately connected with many engineering projects of county wide importance, including the Joint Outfall Sewer.

WILLIAM KNOX SEEKS COUNTY SURVEYOR POST

William C. "Bill" Knox today officially announced his candidacy for the office of county surveyor at the primary election to be held on August 26.

With more than 20 years experience as an engineer, Knox believes he is thoroughly competent to handle the office of county surveyor. His experience has been wide and he says the results of his work still stand as a testimonial to his ability.

His engineering experience started with six years as locating and construction engineer for the Rock Island railroad.

For the next five years Knox was mining engineer for the Kemmerer Coal company in Wyoming, in which capacity he had personal charge of all surveys and supervision of construction.

For six years the candidate was assistant city engineer in Salt Lake City, Utah, making all surveys for reservoirs for water conservation, water mains and sewers.

The following two years found Knox occupying the position of district engineer for the state road commission of Utah, having direct charge of all surveys and the construction of all roads in the three southern counties.

After leaving Utah Knox came to Santa Ana where for three years he held the office of city engineer, from 1922 to 1924 inclusive. During that period Santa Ana built many miles of street paving, sewers and water extensions.

The Orange County Joint Outfall Sewer was built during Knox's regime. He acted in the capacity of chief engineer for Santa Ana, Orange, Fullerton and Anaheim.

On January 1, 1925, Knox resigned as city engineer of Santa Ana to engage in private engineering, designing and building complete sewer systems for Placentia, Garden Grove, outfall sewer for La Habra, water tanks and systems for Coast Royal, located near Laguna Beach, together with many subdivisions made throughout the county.

Knox served on the city council of Santa Ana from April 1, 1927 to May 1, 1928, resigning as councilman to accept the position of city manager for Santa Ana, which position he held until June of 1929.

Extraordinary preparations have been rushed for this year's "million dollar spectacle" and Motor Transit stages are preparing to handle the large crowds which will throng this popular bay and ocean resort of Orange county during the celebration, July 12.

BOARD ORDERS PUBLICITY ON SCHOOL BUDGET

In accordance with a law enacted at the last session of the California legislature, the board of supervisors yesterday adopted a resolution calling for the advertising annually of the expenditures and budget estimates of the various school districts in the county. The school statement, as it is known, is to be published in the newspaper nearest the district, according to County Clerk J. M. Backs.

Action on the matter was taken after a committee representing the Orange County Weekly Newspaper Publishers association appeared before the board during the afternoon session and recommended that the publication of the school statement be ordered as provided by law.

Members of the committee were George Scherck, of the San Clemente Herald, and Frank Rospaw, publisher of the Placentia Courier. The matter will be published as legal advertising and will show taxpayers how the school funds are disbursed as well as giving publicity to the proposed budgets, according to County Clerk Backs.

PIANIST TO PLAY FOR MORNING CLUB

According to James Anderson, chairman, and Guy Gilbert, the Breakfast club program Thursday morning at St. Ann's Inn will be very interesting. Miss Olive Schweitzer, daughter of the club secretary, will play a piano solo. Miss Schweitzer, who graduated in music from the Los Angeles conservatory, was the highest ranking pupil in her class.

There also will be a selected number of dances by the juvenile dance students of Miss Gertrude Stebbins. The program will be concluded by a few remarks by James M. Anderson, on economic transitions toward big business.

B. Z. McKinney, club president, urges a big attendance, as Earl Morrow, chairman of the big meeting to be held in August, and Eugene Kahen, program chairman, will have some very interesting reports to make on the meeting.

Telephone Firm Employes Gather

Approximately 100 male employees of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company attended a meeting held Monday night in the company club room on East Fifth street. Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, spoke on the infantile paralysis situation. Among the other speakers were L. C. Miller, division commercial manager, Los Angeles; R. L. Ryan, division plant manager, Los Angeles, and W. J. Jordan, district plant manager, Pasadena.

The girls of the telephone company presented a pleasing musical program. There were songs and dances by the Coe Sisters and Pearl Vickers and Dorothy Lee. They were accompanied on the piano by Lucille Huston. A violin solo by Anna Phillips completed the program.

Officials Sign District Bonds

County officials yesterday signed the bonds of the Santa Ana high school district, which recently were authorized in a bond election to finance a junior high school expansion program in Santa Ana. The total issue is $494,000 and a premium of $25,715 was paid by the successful bidders for this issue.

The bonds are to be delivered today to the purchasers, the National Bank of Italy company, Anglo-London-Paris company and the Weedon company. County officials who were faced with the task of signing the 494 bonds were County Clerk J. M. Backs, County Auditor W. C. Jerome and Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors.

MEMORIAL FOR SCHOOL DOCTOR IS SENT EAST

Financed by the small gifts of thousands of Santa Ana school children, who had learned to love their doctor, and aided by teachers and the board of education, who desired to be included in the tribute, a bronze memorial tablet which has been prepared in honor of the late Dr. George C. Ruble, former school physician, whose career recently was cut short by death, is on display in the school administration offices at the corner of Church and Sycamore streets.

Lettering on the tablet carries the following inscription: "In memory of Dr. George C. Ruble from the Board of Education, Faculty and Pupils of the public schools of Santa Ana, California. June 1930."

It is planned to forward the tablet to Chanute, Kans., where Dr. Ruble was buried, to be placed on his final resting place, bearing witness to the respect and esteem in which he was held in Santa Ana.

SURE, IT'S A SIN

LONDON, July 9.—One London barber wants it known that he refuses to cut the curly locks of females. He claims it's a sin. On the wall of his shop he has a sign quoting from Corinthians, "If a woman have long hair it is a glory to her." Despite his lack of woman patronage, he is doing a good business because males flock to his establishment to escape the association with women in other shops.

PLAY AREAS OF CITY ATTRACT 1784 CHILDREN

Atetndance on the seven Santa Ana playgrounds reached a total of 1784 for the four days last week, it was announced today by L. W. Archer, director. This was almost as much as was recorded for the corresponding week last year in spite of the infantile paralysis situation.

Ninety-one pupils enrolled for special instruction in music under S. J. Mustol, the first time he reported to the grounds. He is expecting more each week and says that he will take care of all that come. The harmonica is the favorite instrument, although there are quite a number of violins, cornets and other wind instruments. He plans to select the more advanced and organize them into a city playground organization and give them special instruction at the high school on Wednesday afternoons.

At the present time the playgrounds are featuring checkers and dominos. Special tournaments are being held at each of the grounds and city champions will be determined in each game the last of this week. On Friday the winners of the various playground tournaments will meet at Lowell school at 3 p. m. and fight it out for the city championship in checkers. Roosevelt playground will conduct the finals for the domino championships at 3 p. m. on Thursday of this week. Tournaments in shuffle board and croquet will be featured next week.

B. E. Echols Home Is Scene of Delightful Family Gathering

One of the plessant events of the latter part of the week was the informal dinner party held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Echols, 1110 West Pine street. Special guests at the evening repast were the Rev. and Mrs. T. L. Taylor, and sons, Menle and Charles, of Brea, who have been intimate friends of the family for a number of years. Pink gladioluses from the home gardens were used effectively throughout the rooms to form a setting for the dinner, and the happy evening of conversation which followed it.

All of the members of the Echols family were present, and they were especially interested in holding the reunion as one of their ranks, Miss Edna May Echols, who is employed at Burbank, was home for the week end, and another, Mrs. Echols' father, T. W. Bear, has recently arrived here from Oklahoma to make his home.

Those present other than the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Echols, were the Rev. and Mrs. T. L. Taylor and sons Menle and Charles, of Brea, and the Misses Edna May and Marguerite Echols, and Sam, Harold, Bobbie, Bruce, Jr., Paul, Ray, Chandler, Leonard Echols, the latter all daughters and sons of the hosts, and T. W. Bear.

Southland Beauties Interest Northerners

While the northern parts of the state have their lure for Southern Californians, many are those from San Francisco, Berkeley and other cities up the coast who have been touring Orange county during the spring and summer months. Among the most recent of arrivals here from the Bay cities are Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Albright, who are stopping at the home of Mr. Albright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Albright, of 718 South Sycamore street.

The tourists are spending today and tomorrow at Catalina island, and plan to visit numerous other places of interest, including San Diego and Lake Arrowhead during their two week's vacation. Mr. Albright is an electrical engineer with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company at Oakland, having been affiliated with the company for about four years. He is anticipating renewing acquaintances with his college chums of California Tech. Sunday evening, at which time his father and mother will be hosts to a group of Los Angeles young people, honoring their son and daughter-in-law.

Californians In East Find Warm Weather

The host of friends of the Misses Margaret Gaebe, Betty Cleary and Betty Wiswald who left recently for an extended visit to points of interest throughout the United States, will be interested in knowing that they are now stopping over in Milwaukee, Wis. They have just completed a three days' stay in Denver, Colo., where they found it extremely warm, and wrote home that "they had never appreciated California weather so much as they did at the present time.

Chicago will be their next stop of special interest, and they were to remain there from the tenth to the thirteenth of this month.

Bridal Rehearsal Was Followed By Smart Dinner Party

That individual charm which has seemed to characterize all the friendly courtesies extended Miss Velma Miller and E. M. Sundquist since announcement was made in early April of their engagement, was again apparent in the bridal dinner given Monday night in Ketner's Blue room, following formal rehearsal of the nuptials in the Church of the Messiah. The wedding is a much anticipated event of tomorrow night, and the rehearsal was the final one before the function.

The Blue room, with its attractive appointments, was all that could be desired as a setting for the dinner party at which the attendants were honor guests, with a few close friends to complete the group. Covers were laid for Mr. Sundquist, Miss Miller, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Miller, Miss Fern Flood, her maid of honor; Miss Helen Martin of Santa Monica, and Miss Winifred Clark of South Pasadena, who were accompanied by their mothers, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Clark; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stites of Burbank; Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Yost and dainty little Miss Marilyn Yost, who is to be flower girl, and Miss Frances Egge, of this city.

Miss Miller took the opportunity offered by the party, to present special gifts to her attendants, of exquisitely hand-wrought chiffon dance handkerchiefs trimmed with real lace, and each handkerchief in the exact shade of the gown to be worn at the wedding. To little Miss Marilyn she presented a diminutive satin purse, filling that small maiden's heart with joy.

Mr. Sundquist presented his best man, Mr. Stites, and his ushers, Mr. Yost and Mr. Anderson, with handsome silk suspenders.

No bride of the summer months has been more honored at showers, teas and luncheons than Miss Miller, for both she and Mr. Sundquist are popular in a wide circle of friends. Everyone is anticipating tomorrow night's wedding as one of the brilliant events of the season. Special interest is being evinced by that group of junior college co-eds allied together as the "Spinsters' club," for Miss Miller, as assistant librarian at the junior college, is one of the sponsors of the organization.

Santa Ana and Orange county Lions are also deeply interested, as Mr. Sundquist is secretary of the city organization, and president of the Orange County council, Lions club.

Handkerchief Shower Is Compliment to Mrs. Sampson

Mrs. H. C. Sampson, who is soon to leave for Los Angeles where she and Mr. Sampson will make their home, yesterday found herself the incentive for a delightful handkerchief shower held in the home of Mrs. Harry Drown on West Washington avenue, when members of a dessert bridge club and other guests were invited to share in the afternoon's pleasures.

The exciting game of earthquake bridge was chosen as the diversion, and in line with the rulesof the game. First prize for low score was a warded Mrs. Claude Neer, and consolation for high score to Mrs. George Doolittle. Additional gifts were pastel-toned bouquets of a variety of garden blooms, given to each guest in the order of her score, and a lovely chair prize which was won by the honoree, Mrs. H. C. Sampson.

The refreshment course of delicious refreshment course, of delicious frozen peaches and ice cream was served at the small tables, covered with the daintiest of yellow and white cloths. Little bud vases filled with yellow gladioluses and lavender scabiosas, centering the tables, completed the colorful motif.

Those bidden to attend the farewell gathering in Mrs. Sampson's honor were Mesdames Claude Neer, Thomas Tournat, Frank Dane, Barney Brock, Charles Waggoner, Henry Seidel, C. E. Maag, George Merrill, Emmett Allen, George Doolittle, Lewis Bittle, Earl Neer, Noble Watson, Robert Leonard, Kenneth Coulson, and the hostess, Mrs. Harry Drown.

The party was a pre-vacation courtesy on the part of Mrs. Drown, who with her son, Robert, and Mrs. Charles Waggoner, left today for the Yosemite to be the guest for two weeks of Mrs. Drown's sister, Mrs. Grace Armstrong.

Santa Ana Travelers Plan to Return In Late August

North Cape, at the northmost extremity of Norway, was to be the spot in which Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nau and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Boyer of Tustin, expected to celebrate the Fourth of July, according to letters which Santa Ana friends have received from these Orange county globe-trotters, who have been enjoying a comprehensive European tour.

The letters were written from Berlin on the day that the Nau-Boyer party was to leave for Stockholm and a few days' stay there before leaving by rail for the northern part of Norway, and the four days' trip around North Cape. The travelers hoped to have one clear day out of the four, in which the majestic scenery might be enjoyed, but according to Mrs. Nau, this was problematical, as they had been assured the skies might be lowering for the entire time, and that a clear day was largely a matter of luck.

From the North Cape, they were to proceed to Copenhagen by boat, and will return to Hamburg on July 22, and sail for the United States at a date that will see their return to California and "home," by the latter part of August.

Germany impressed the travelers very favorably, and Berlin, they found to be a city whose art treasures and handsome buildings found correct setting amidst the beautiful trees. "I wish some of our American city builders might apply the art at home," wrote Mrs. Nau. "Here they fence the trees in and protect the bark with casings instead of chopping them down. And not only in Berlin, but from the coast of France to the Baltic sea, they encourage and protect the growth of trees."

Among their pleasantest experiences while on the continent, they included their trip on the "Blue Danube," although they declared that it was muddier than it was blue. Buda and Pesth, they considered delightful in every particular, but considered the struggles of the Armenians most sorrowful. While in Pesth, they stayed at a charming hotel on the very edge of the river, where they could look directly across at the sister city and a remarkable palace in whose history they were deeply interested. They commended the thrift of the people, and their brave spirit under heavy adversities and burdens.

Dresden and its potteries were other interesting features of their stay in Germany, and they visited Meissen where they were privileged to follow the entire process from the foundation clay clear through to the exquisite Dresden china for which that section is noted.

Mr. and Mrs. Nau especially, are confirmed travelers, and have enjoyed many delightful trips, one of the most recent having been that of a year ago, when they girdled the world on one of the big liners especially devoted to 'round-the-world tours.

California Pleases South Dakotans

That Southern California is so intriguing that their visit is to be extended from a few weeks to several months, is the decision of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fairbanks, who arrived in the southern part of the state some time ago from South Dakota, but came only recently to Santa Ana, where they have a number of relatives. Previous to this time they spent six weeks in Long Beach.

Their first few days in this city were spent in the home of Mrs. J. F. Fairbanks, 1115 West Chestnut avenue, during her absence. It was here that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fairbanks entertained week end guests, their granddaughter, Mrs. Val Morgan, and Mrs. Robinson, both of Hollywood. Since the return of Mrs. J. F. Fairbanks and her son, Harold, from their trip to Minnesota, the South Dakota tourists have been making their home at 401 West Eighth street, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, who have spent the past three weeks at "Pebblebank," their Forest Home cabin, and expect to remain there for some time longer.

Nazarene Church Folk Meet In Anaheim

Activities of members of the Church of the Nazarene here as well as throughout the county have been especially interesting recently, with plans being formulated for many others, according to the Rev. U. E. Harding of the local church. One of the most recent gatherings was that of last evening, when the Rev. and Mrs. Isham of Anaheim were hosts in their home at a meeting of Orange county and Long Beach pastors and their wives as well as of the presidents of the young people's societies in the district. The Rev. and Mrs. U. E. Harding, their daughter Evelyn, and son Robert, together with Mr. and Mrs. George Huffman were among those attending from this city.

Informal talks were features of the evening and a two days' young people's conference of the Orange county and Long Beach Nazarenes was considered. The decision as to the place where the conclave will be held was left to the committee which was appointed last night.

Other plans of the local church which the Rev. Mr. Harding believes are to be especially successful and appreciated are those for the prayer meeting Wednesday evening, in conjunction with which members of the Pasadena congregation will present several musical numbers.

Including all of the pastors of Orange county Nazarene churches, and of Long Beach, together with their wives, will be the meeting Friday in Anaheim, at which time officers of the organization will be elected. Presiding over the meeting will be the Rev. Mr. Harding, president of the group.

Balboa Cottage Gives Party Setting for Shrine Circle

One of the happiest events in the summer program of the White Shrine Circle, was the beach party and picnic luncheon enjoyed yesterday by members who shared the hospitality of the Walter Wright cottage at Balboa. Mrs. Wright and a hostess committee composed of Mrs. I. A. Evans, Mrs. Hugh Henry and Miss Henrietta Bohling, greeted the guests who arrived well in advance of the luncheon hour of 12:30 o'clock.

The cottage is charmingly situated, and its garden offered a pleasant setting for luncheon tables, especially the shady pergola where most of them were placed. The array of delicious picnic dishes was spread on one large table, buffet style, that guests might select what they desired and then take their places at small tables, decked with vivid blossoms.

Bridge in the afternoon added to the pleasant occasion, with prizes awarded Miss Henrietta Bohling and Mrs. W. G. Lewis.

Plans were made for another picnic event to be held next month when the circle members and their families, will meet in Irvine park on Tuesday afternoon, August 12, for a covered dish dinner to be served at 6 o'clock in deference to husbands of members who will motor up to the park from their places of business.

House Guests Honored At Dinner Parties

Memories of the past holiday celebration are especially pleasing to Mr. and Mrs C. C. Langley, and daughter, Miss Ruth Langley, who recently returned from a two weeks' vacation in a charming Newport Beach cottage. Their house guests during the pleasant outing were Mrs. Mabel Robinson, and her two sons, John and Graham, of South Dakota, who are remaining at the beach as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Miller. Mrs. Robinson is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Langley.

Many were the house parties given in honor of the South Dakotans, and that held during the national holiday was one of the most enjoyable. Following a morning of various beach sports, the happy group was served a delightfully informal luncheon. The afternoon hours sped quickly, and in the evening the guests motored to the N. E. Lentz home in Tustin, where they had an outdoor dinner.

Those sharing in the day's pleasures were Mrs. A. M. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Howard and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Langley of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Lentz and daughter, Marguerite; Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Miller, the honor guests, Mrs. Robinson, and John and Graham, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Langley, and Miss Ruth Langley.

Bridge Club Meets With Miss Vieira

Members of a certain little informal bridge club held a most enjoyable evening recently, when they were entertained with Miss Mildred Vieira as host in her home at 324 East Bishop street. In order that the members may aid in making all of the meetings a success, they all contribute toward the grand prize of the evening. Mrs. Harry Siemonsma was fortunate in holding high score during the recent club session, and securing the reward.

Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Those present were Mesdames V. C. Coral, Harry Siemonsma, Clara Siemonsma, and the Misses Sue Verberg, Agnes Lieberman, Bernice Gohres, Mary Bentjen and the hostess, Mildred Vieira.

Farewell Party For Miss Seaton Was Recent Event

In bidding farewell to Miss Mabel Seaton, who left yesterday for Sacramento where she will join her father who has been there for some time, a group of her intimate friends gathered at the home of Miss Gladys Gross, on Cypress avenue Monday evening. A delightfully informal time was enjoyed, and the impromptu program was begun when the honoree, Miss Seaton and Diamond Hartman sang two duets.

Receiving especial commendation was the duet sung by Harold Shafer and Diamond Hartman, dedicated to Miss Seaton. The theme of the song was expressed in the title, "When You're Gone We'll Not Forget You." Also in Miss Seaton's honor was their interpretation of "Down the Long, Long Trail With You."

Following a series of games, the group retired to the dining room, and the honor guest was presented with a huge chocolate cake bearing her name in white icing. Supper consisting of sandwiches, ice cream, punch, and the delicious cake was served. Philip Gerrard made a brief address, after which Miss Seaton expressed appreciation for all that her Santa Ana friends had meant to her.

Miss Seaton has been a very active member in the Christian Endeavor of the Orange avenue Christian church.

Favorable indeed, were the reports given yesterday at the meeting of the Sarah A. Rounds Tent of the Daughters of the Union eVterans in K. P. hall, when committee chairman announced that they had made 14 calls since the last session two weeks ago, and that 10 bouquets had been given the sick and shut-ins. It was also announced that one exceptionally beautiful bouquet had been given to Comrade W. J. Lieser, whose birthday was an event of July 4.

Fifteen officers of the total number of 19 were present to enjoy the program, which consisted of discussions by two Pasadenans, E. D. Bates, of Burlingame camp, and Russell A. Stapleton of Phil Kearney camp. Especially profitable to the group was the unique method of raising money suggested by the two guests of the day. As a mark of appreciation to the speakers, members of the Sarah A. Rounds tent, obligated them to their division with honors, after having learned that Mr. Bates and Mr. Stapleton had never been obligated to any tent. The men were profuse in their praises of the local organization, and expressed their appreciation for the courtesies shown them.

There will be no more regular meetings of the group until August 12, at which time members will celebrate the twentieth birthday anniversary of the tent. However, there will be a social gathering on July 18, at which time the president, Miss Minnie Cowan, will be hostess in her home at 214 Sycamore street. The chairman of the committee in charge is Miss Ada Cowan.

A quality you would insist upon if you knew all of the FACTS

[FACT 16] Only a few years ago, Western America introduced vacuum packed coffee to the world—and more recently vacuum packed tea. For fine coffee, the vacuum tin is now the universal practice. For tea, a special process still remains the secret of the originators—Schilling. The flavor of tea evaporates just like coffee, only more slowly, and it is months (frequently a year) before tea reaches you from the Oriental gardens. Much as you may have enjoyed your tea, you have missed much of its original rare flavor. But now it is preserved for you.

[FACTS 17 and 18] Both a tea leaf and a coffee bean must be toasted to drive off the moisture, which helps to rob it of flavor. Good coffee is packed in vacuum immediately after roasting. Tea is toasted at the tea gardens, then sealed in large chests, lined with lead. When it arrives in America it is repacked in ordinary tins or even cardboard boxes. And that's where the damage is done! But this is how Schilling does it. As the tea is poured from the lead-lined chests, it is toasted again, and while still hot (just like your coffee) it is sealed in vacuum. Schilling Tea comes to you as fresh and fragrant as it left the Orient—the only tea completely protected from the tea garden to you.

WHEN FRIENDS DROP IN

Hospitality—the offering of food, comfort, and courtesy to the guest under your roof—has its roots in the dim memories of Time when every man's hand was arrayed against his brother, and to be granted leave to sit by his fire and share his food was guarantee of life and protection of his guest.

We, of modern civilization, still experience the same feeling when we are planning for guests, rather we should feel so, for it is that genuine wholehearted feeling of being welcomed that makes us all such people the perfect host or hostess.

It is nice to have people drop in for an evening's bridge and the little supper served after, need not be hard work if a few supplies are kept no hand. This is what I served to eight people one evening recently, and the actual preparation consumed exactly 45 minutes of my time.

Frosted Sandwich Loaf
Tiny Sweet Pickles Stuffed Olives
Frozen Strawberries
Whipped Cream
Angel Food Cake Coffee

I bought a pint of cottage cheese, a cake of cream cheese, a can of ripe olives, a bunch of green onions, a quarter-pound of shelled walnuts, a sandwich loaf, a head of lettuce, three boxes of strawberries, a pint of whipping cream and a dozen eggs. I made the angel food cake and while it was baking I got the fillings ready for the sandwich loaf:

The cottage cheese was well blended, mixed with a little mayonnaise and the green onions finely minced. The ripe olives were cut from the pits and with the walnuts run through the food chopper, salted and mixed to spreading consistency with mayonnaise. The loaf was de-crusted and cut the long way into eight thin slices. It was then built up, alternating fillings, wrapped in a damp towel and put in the ice box until serving time.

I frosted it with the cream cheese mashed and blended with whipped cream and mayonnaise. A design of sliced stuffed olives was arranged on the cheese frosting and the lettuce served as a garnish for the platter. I cut it in slices at the table and every one took a second helping. Frozen strawberries are easy if you have an electric refrigerator. Just crush them and make very sweet with powdered sugar and leave until frozen. Serve in sherbet glasses with a spoonful of plain whipped cream.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Cherry Olives
White cherries, not too ripe
1 pint boiling water
1 pint cider vinegar
1 tablespoon salt

Make the pickling solution ahead of time and have it very cold. Sterlize wide-mouthed pint or quart jars and in them pack the choicest firm white cherries you can buy, first washing them, and drying by placing on folded tea towels, letting the water be absorbed as it will.

This cleansing part is important for two things; all dirt must be washed off and the cherries must be handled carefully to avoid bruising. Either fault would soon spoil the cherries.

The stems are left on the cherries, and, of course, they are not stoned. Fill to the top with the picking solution and cap securely.

Santa Ana Delegates To Attend Baptist Conclave

Convening Wednesday evening, the National Baptist Young People's convention in San Francisco will be attended by several representatives of the local church, one of whom, Miss Lula Hart, left yesterday as one of the delegates. Others, including Miss Laura Joiner, Miss Mae Berry, Kenneth Beard and Seldon Martin, will leave for the Bay city in the morning, and are motoring through.

As the young people's director, R. Fred Chambers will also leave tomorrow, making the trip by airplane. He will leave from Los Angeles.

An address by Dr. W. P. Deering, president of the Oakland City college of Oakland, Indiana, will open the conclave, extending welcome to the large number of delegates who are expected to attend. The group will be in session until Sunday evening.

The special train originally scheduled to leave Los Angeles this afternoon, will not make the trip.

CHANEY MYSTIFIES IN BROADWAY FILM

Amazing voice control is the outstanding feature of Lon Chaney's first all-talking picture, "The Unholy Three," which is now playing at the Fox Broadway theater. The picture opened there Monday and shows through tomorrow night only.

The "man with many faces" has become "the man of many voices" for Chaney plays five different parts in the story and uses five different voices.

Chaney made "The Unholy Three" as a silent film several years ago. At that time it was declared one of his best. He played three parts in that film. In the new version, he plays five and his voices will startle and cause wonder and doubt, but all of them are his own, yet it is hard to decide which is his natural voice.

The story concerns a ventriloquist who, with a midget and a giant, form a criminal gang that preys on patrons of a sideshow which the three freaks are in. When the police discover their activities, they are forced to get away from the show, but they carry on their criminal deeds with Chaney disguised as an old woman, the midget as a baby and the giant as the father and husband.

A love story runs throughout the film, in which Chaney plays an important part. Lila Lee has the feminine lead in the production and Elliott Nugent has the juvenile lead.

Aside from the feature, a Fox Movietone newsreel, together with an all-talking comedy also are shown.

DANVILLE, Pa., July 9.—A rare coin, believed to be of Roman origin, was recently found by George Yomick in a trench near here. It was buried about three feet deep and bore the date of 1517. The only word legible, aside from the date, was "Fortissima." It was slightly larger than a silver dollar.

COUE BEDCLOTHES

PARIS, July 9.—Dr. Coue's famous theory has finally wound up in the bedclothes business. It has been adopted by this trade with the result that bed clothes are now being embroidered with the auto-suggestions.

Miss Dorothy Worthington who has been in San Francisco for several years past, has now come home to stay with her mother, Mrs. W. T. Buck. Miss Worthington was accompanied here by her sister, Miss Olive Worthington, and a friend from San Francisco who came down for a week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson entertained at dinner Friday evening for Mr. Johnson's niece and husband from Seattle, who are at present in the south.

Postmaster and Mrs. Clyde Day and daughter and son, Annabelle and Herbert Day, attended the swimming marathon at Recreation park, Long Beach, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Farrar, accompanied by one of their grandsons, are spending two weeks at their mountain cabin at Lake Arrowhead. Bloomer Crane is caring for their place while they are away.

WEST COAST SHOWS BYRD'S POLAR TRIP

"With Byrd at the South Pole," a Paramount all-talking production that shows actual scenes of th egreat explorer's trip to the ice laden fields around the pole and in fact the entire adventure of the hardy band of Americans who recently have returned after flying over the pole in an airplane, is now showing at the Fox West Coast theater.

The picture opened here Monday and shows through Friday night, although it may be held over for a week, so great has been the demand to see the show, according to Norman Sprowl, Fox theaters manager here.

The entire trip, showing all the dangers, all the thrills and all the adventures of the men—all the sights that they saw—and all the trip in detail, makes the picture one unequaled from an educational standpoint, while the stark realism of the entire production makes it far more interesting than the "make believe" pictures that come here every week. There is no plot, and yet the picture holds the audience spellbound from start to finish.

The picture is all-talking and with sound clearly depicts the entheir trip from the time Byrd and his men left New York until they return. The scenic effects are particularly interesting.

A Fox Movietone newsreel, together with an all-talking comedy completes the program.

MUST BE HEALTHY

BERLIN, July 9.—A German court has decreed that a health certificate may be demanded before a marriage is entered into. Recently a young couple had become engaged. The girl developed a chronic cough and as she refused to undergo medical treatment the young man broke the engagement. The court upheld his action.

DOUBLE BILL AT WALKER THEATER

Walker's State is presenting an exceptionally fine double feature program tonight and Thursday.

In "Broadway Scandals," Columbit Pictures Corporation has turned out a very creditable picture. The dialogue is extremely funny, the dancing is novel and peppy and the tunes are sure song hits.

The leading roles are portrayed by Sally O'Neil, Jack Egan and Carmel Myers.

What is destined to be one of the national song hits is "What Is Life Without Love," the theme melody of the show.

Greta Garbo, whose every picture has been an outstanding success, will not disappoint her admirers in "The Kiss," a Continental drama.

It is difficult to pass this picture by without commenting upon Greta Garbo's increasing charm upon the screen. What the secret of it is no one has been able to discover, although countless suggestions have been made from beauty to personality.

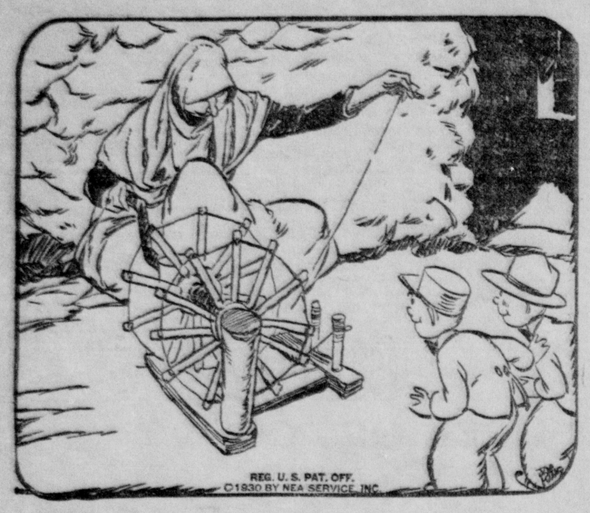
THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING



Since starting with the caravan the bunch had had a chance to scan a lot of open country and the scenes had been real fine. The mules still had a heap of pep and proved it by the way they'd step. In fact all things had turned out great. No one had cause to whine.

But Clowny seemed to think that he must be impatient as could be, so while they all sat in a home of funny Persian make, he said, "Oh, let's be on our way. I'd like to reach Tehran today. Just how far is that town from here and how long will it take?"

"Well, let me see now. Not so far," replied the Travel Man. "We are about ten miles from Tehran. We can make it pretty quick. Hop in the baskets now, with care, and hang on tight till we get there. Gee, I should think of riding you would all be rather sick."

"Oh, no," snapped Scouty. "This is fun. We'll gladly ride till day is done. And then we'll all be ready for a very good night's rest. The mass of sand we're crossing now just makes me want to sleep somehow. We're lucky, 'cause the weather we have had has been the best."

Soon Coppy whispered, "Clowny's gone. I'll bet he'll sleep until the dawn if we just leave him where he is. I guess he's all tired out." It wasn't long until someone exclaimed, "Our trip is almost done. I see a small town just ahead and it's Tehran, no doubt."

It happened that the guess was right. They reached the town and what a sight. Some little Persian yougsters came a-running down the street. Wee Coppy shouted, "Howdy do We'll hop right out and play with you. Most any little fellows we are always glad to meet."

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.
2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.
3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

SEEK to CLUE—This is a par five hole and the idea is to SEEK a CLUE on how to oslve it. After you've come upon the clue, you are finished.

JONES OUT TO SET ALL-TIME GOLF RECORDS

BY FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

INTERLACHEN, Minn., July 9.—Along about 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, while the dew still clings to the shadier greens of smiling Interlachen, Bobby Jones will stroll out onto the first tee and smack a long drive down the fairway, seemingly as unconcerned as though he were not striking a blow for the greatest golfing achievement of all time.

The Atlantan is open champion of the United States, open and amateur champion of Great Britain and just about the greatest golfer of all time. His ambition is to defend his title at Interlachen and then go on to win the amateur championship at Merion in September.

While Jones will appear unruffled in tomorrow's opening round and will attempt to keep his rather grim-lipped expression free from a justifiable frown of concern, few can appreciate the strain under which the champion is laboring. Underneath his calm exterior, Bobby is nervous, tense with the strain of contest.

Jones has been through two trying tournaments in England, fighting hard through the 18-hole matches of the British Amateur at St. Andrews and struggling desperately not to crack in the British open at Hoylake. The strain of winning those battles abroad as told on the Atlantan, and he faces his greatest handicap tomorrow right within himself.

Still, Bobby has the heart of a lion, and his game, by itself, is good enough to win for him over any field of golfers that could be gathered together. If he can overcome the mental strain and keep himself on his game, he will win at Interlachen and make golfing history anew. If he is beaten, it will simply be because he tried to do too much.

may appear to move to the opposite extreme, I think is a step in the right way. The situation was desperate and a stern measure was necessary. Fighters must learn to block the low ones now with the high ones. And if they can't stave 'em off, they simply must take 'em.

OH, FOR A REFEREE!

I think the new ruling abolishing fouls puts a great deal up to the referee . Suppose a fighter is smitten below the belt and grovels on the floor, claiming foul. Is the referee to start counting him out, or is he merely to direct that the complainant be lugged back to his corner and given a rest, the boxer who committed the foul losing the round? Referees being such as they are today, anything is rather more likely to happen.

The ring does need referees. Mistake after mistake has been made in the last few years in the handling of not only everyday bouts but championship affairs. There is no referee of dominating personality in the ring today. To the boxers the third man is merely somebody in there to pull them apart.

Boxing needs a Doc Siler now. It needs an Eddie Graney, somebody the boxers themselves will respect. I think if there had been men like Siler and Graney and Ed Smith to referee the receint big bouts that ended in fouls, there might have been happier conclusions.

BARRY OR CROWLEY

Go back to Dave Barry and the well-known "long count" at Chicago. I cannot remember a big fight in several years in which the work of the referee called for commendation.

Lou Magnolia refereed the Battle of Bewilderment at Miami, and while he must be given credit for getting more out of Scott than we expected, the fact is that the rules were thrown into the ash-can for Sharkey's sake.

Jimmy Crowley refereed the Sharkey-Schmeling affair at Yankee stadium, and it was hard to make out whether it was a job of refereeing he was trying to do or striving to emulate the antics of a Mexican jumping bean with seven years' itch.

HAIL, HAIL HALEY!

In the recent light heavyweight championship fight at Buffalo, Referee Patsy Haley awarded Slattery the verdict, though plainly Rosenbloom mastered him and the judges reversed the referee's ruling.

Magnolia, I think, is the nearest approach to a referee we have with us now. But he does not approach the heights attained by such fellows as Siler and Graney.

It's hard to tell, in view of the kind of refeering existent, just how the new rule on fouls will turn out. But it appears to be a step in the right direction.

YOUNG ARTIST

LONDON, July 9.—One of the world's youngest painters to receive nation-wide recognition is Jack Rennie, 16. He painted a picture which he called "Summer Flowers" during school holidays recently. Someone sent it to the Royal Academy without his knowledge. It was so excellent that it was displayed with the works of some of the world's best painters.

CHICAGO BD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, July 9.—(UP)—Heavy buying by commission houses and shorts drov prices steadily upward on the Board of Trade today and at the last prices were sharply higher. The unbroken heat wave that extends over a major portion of western Untied States is seriously damaging the spring wheat and corn crops with bullish reports coming in from many sections. Lower Canada is also getting a touch of the heat. Corn was strong and oats were firm with the other grains.

At the close wheat was ¾ to ⅞c higher, corn was 1⅛ ot 1½c higher and oats were ¼ to ¾ cents higher. Provisions wre steady to 15 points higher.

PRODUCE

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—(UP)—Green vegetables were generally weaker on today's market, while most fruits held steady in price under continued liberal receipts.

Receipts of apricots have been lighter the last few days, running about 6,000-9,000 lugs a day, but demand continues slow and small local and Banningf ruit brought 25-40c a lug. Local blackberries were about steady at $2.00-$.225 for 30-cup crate.

Brown figs from the Coachella valley cleaned up a little better at 45-60c for 6-lb. flats. Seedles grapes from the Imperial valley held about steady, at 5-8c a lb. Local grapefruit was firmly held, market pack 64s and 80s jobbing at $4.75-$5.25 a box. Lettuce was plntiful and weak, good dry pack stock from Guadalupe and Santa Maria bringing $2.00-$2.25 a crate, with a few best at $2.50.

Honeyball melons from the Imperial valley moved slowly at $1.25-$1.50 a crate. Honeydew melons were lower, the bset lemons packed in excelsior jobbing at $2.00-$2.25 a crate with poorer honeydews at $1.25-$1.50.

Northern Bartlett pears were weaker at mostly 6c a lb. Plums showed little change from yesterday but the tone of the market was weak, Santa Rosas bringing mostly 2-3c a lb. Local potatoes were firmly held at $2.25-$2.40 per cwt. for good U. S. No. 1 stock. Local strawberries were plentiful and weak at $1.50-$2.0 0for 30-pint crats. Local tomatoes moved rather slowly at $1.-$1.25 a lug for sizes 5x6.

EVENING SALUTATION

"We all talk to ourselves. Each one of us is not one, but two—'I' and 'Me'—and with endless persistence these two confer."
—Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick.

THEY HAVE THE INFORMATION

It is to be hoped that the naval pact now before the senate will be approved by that body. There is an attempt being made to use the refusal of the President to submit all of the correspondence between this government and its representative in London and all other communications which led up to this pact, as an excuse for voting against the pact itself.

If there were an actual attempt to withhold information from any United States senator, so that he could justly claim that he was being asked to vote blindly, we believe he could rightly refuse to vote for approval on the ground that he did not have proper information. There is not a member of the United States Senate who personally and individually cannot see the correspondence in its complete form. This has been offered. But the correspondence and the information are not the things that seem to be really the trouble with the recalcitrants.

They do not want the personal information. They want the correspondence laid officially before the senate, where using that as the subject matter they can rip and tear and "frozzle at the mug" over something which might appear therein instead of discussing the naval pact itself.

There is considerable difference between possessing the information and having it openly before the senate. The opportunity was given to the senators so that each can see the correspondence for himself, and it may affect his judgment as he sees fit. But there is objection made to its being placed before the senate, possibly for the reason that this correspondence was not designed to be the subject for discussion in a body of the character of the United States senate.

We do not blame any man at any time for refusing to support any measure on which he does not have complete information, but when he has the opportunity to be informed, to have all the facts before him, and opposes the cause simply because the facts are not presented to him in the manner and in the form which he desires, we seriously doubt the legitimacy of his opposition, when based upon the suggestion that he has not the information.

A crack train has been named "The Bullet." Probably because it's the custom after being taken for a ride.

MORE LA FOLLETTES COMING ON

The La Follette name is still one to conjure with in Wisconsin. For years the elder La Follette ruled the state, and it must be said it was ruled in the interest of all the people. That accounts for the persistence of the influence of the La Follettes. Only once was there any danger to the supremacy of the elder La Follette. That was during the anxious and strenuous days of the war. But the war over, Robert M. La Follette came back; and he died with the state still doing his bidding.

When the elder La Follette died, his elder son was sent to the senate to take his place. He was the youngest man ever sent to the senate. And there he remains carrying on in the spirit of his father. The elder La Follette's lieutenant, John J. Blaine, also sits in the senate.

In the last gubernatorial election the La Follette candidate fell by the wayside. Gov. Kohler has been as liberal as any La Follette man, but he did not carry the La Follette tag. An effort is now being made to defeat him for a second term. A younger La Follette has entered the contest against him. It will be interesting to see if the name continues to have a charm for the voters of Wisconsin. But even if Philip La Follette fails, it will not mean that the spirit of La Follette is dead in Wisconsin. No out-and-out opponent of the La Follette ideal and principles could be chosen in Wisconsin today. So much has one man stamped his personality upon a state. No other state can point to a similar personal influence.

The La Follette name has been associated with dangerous and un-American ideals, but when closely examined it will reveal a genuine dedication to the good and well-being of the common man.

New York probably called the $21,915 it spent cleaning up after the Byrd reception a tidy sum.

REGISTER NOW

Only fifteen more days in which to register for voting in the August primaries. If you have not registered this year you must register before July 26 in order to be a bona fide voter in August. There are two Sundays but only fifteen more business days. Do not let the fact that there are fifteen more days in which to register militate against getting the brief task done—because you feel that there is still tomorrow on which to register.

A registrar states the matter thus:

"No one can vote in the primaries unless he has registered this year. There are no exceptions to this. The fact that the voter registered at the last election means nothing. The books were wiped clean the first of the year, and every man and woman who intends to vote must register all over again."

It is a nuisance to have to register so frequently but not registering won't help the situation now. Get into the habit of registering and then you will be ready, when opportunity presents itself, to vote for a form of permanent registration.

This is the first and most elemental duty of the citizen in Orange county: REGISTER!

A BUSINESS MAN FOR COLLEGE PRESIDENT

The University of Pennsylvania has just inaugurated a business man as its president. It has been recalled that when Mark Hopkins, one of the greatest of the early college presidents died, the trustees of Williams College, in scouting about for a successor, decided that the next president must be an administrator first; he might be a scholar second. It was concerning that notable educator that President Garfield said, "A college is a log with Mark Hopkins at one end and the student at the other."

The modern university is a great business institution as well as an educational organization. Its leadership calls for an administrator of large ability. In fact, the man who is only a scholar is unfit to be the president of one of our great universities. With a large number of distinct departments and a large group of professional schools, the modern college president cannot be expected to know the details of the different departments and the different professional schools. In matters of curriculum and methods in these various departments and schools he must depend upon the specialist. The president's task today is to coordinate all these departments and schools, to administer their funds, and to carry out their general policies.

The modern college president is much like the president of one of our great corporations who knows very little about the technical end of the concern, but who is able to develop the business into a productive and financial success. The University of Pennsylvania, like the University of Chicago, which recently chose for its president a young man with administrative genius, has simply recognized that the university is a great business enterprise, and that it needs a great administrator to guide and shape its policies.

Detroit lawyers voted 914 to 189 in favor of repealing the prohibition amendment. That's at least one argument for prohibition.

THREE FINE INSTITUTIONS

We have just been looking over the statements of the condition of the three building and loan associations of Santa Ana which are locally owned and directed—The Santa Ana Building and Loan Association, The Southwest Building and Loan Association, and the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association.

The total resources of these three institutions are nearly $6,500,000, and the fine growth of all of them and the very rapid growth of some of them must be a source of great satisfaction to these organizations.

They fill a real need in the life of the community; are sources of profit to the investor, and of great help to the home builder. We feel that these associations and their directors are to be congratulated on the fine showing made, which evidences a commanding influence in the community, and the finest relationship with their patrons. The perusal of these reports will help to make optimists of all of us.

NEW YORK'S POPULATION

And while we are talking about it, New York has a remarkable increase in percentage of population and in number. Its total gain was 1,338,744 in the past ten years. This is a total gain of 24 per cent.

The great city now lacks but a few of having seven million inhabitants. To be sure, she has reached such size that she cannot double or gain 50 percent of population in ten years, but nearly a million and a half are a few additions in a decade. If to this we add the increase made in the metropolitan area about New York, we would probably have close onto three millions.

Water Wisdom Needed During Vacation Period

San Bernardino Sun

This is the drowning season. It is an unpleasant way to refer to the beautiful and healthful season of water sports, but in this age of "Say, listen!" messages sometimes need extra emphasis.

Almost every fine day now brings its grim harvest on the water. A holiday always has a larger harvest. What causes the tragedies?

Too many people get into small boats, overloading and capsizing them.

Too many people who can't swim take chances in rowboats and canoes.

Too many kids, of all ages, run wild with speedboats and outboard motors.

Too many people go out in sailboats without knowing anything about the enjoyable but difficult sport of sailing, and without paying any attention to the weather.

To all who tackle water sports: Learn to swim first of all; don't plunge headlong into any water sport without training; be sensible about yourself; be considerate of others. Rudeness in the water may be fatal.

Cost of Living Decreasing

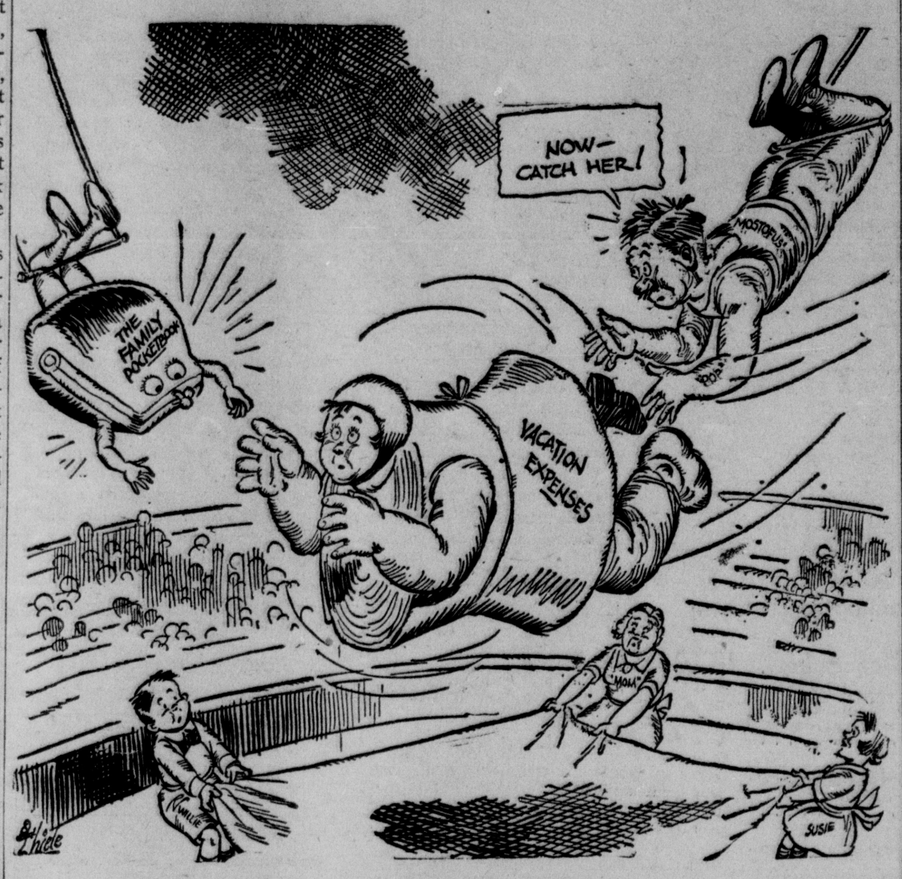
Oakland Tribune

On the word of the California Taxpayers' association which has made a thorough study, the purchasing power of the dollar is growing larger. Those with a steady income are thus enjoying the equivalent of an increase in salary. As the association reports it:

"Wages have gone up 5 to 10 per cent in the last 12 months because each dollar in the pay envelope can now buy more shoes, groceries, clothes, etc. This means that the employer will not need to increase the size of pay checks this year since he has an economic friend quietly at work automatically doing just this same thing.

"All this comes about because of the change in the purchasing power of the dollar. Commodity prices are falling which means that the cost of living is decreasing. Stating it in another way, the purchasing power of the dollar is increasing. Persons whose income is a fixed amount are enjoying, in effect, a greater income because their dollars buy more than at any time since 1917."

Here's Where the Thrilling Part of the Act Comes In



More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

BRIGHTER DAYS IN THE WEST

What's become of Dogface Dave,
Who headed off stampedes—
The Buckaroo who always threw
In time of need a mean lassoo
And never was afraid to do
All sorts of doughty deeds?
Old Dave, with all his bold array
Must shortly disappear,
The West is using planes today
To herd the restive steer.

His saddle he no more will park
Upon the Long Creek bar
On summer nights, shoot out the lights
Engage in bloody pistol fights,
And feel an end to gory sights
By shouting: "Put 'er thar!"
In future with the red-eye stuff
Old Dave will not carouse,
What made those Western lads so rough
Was traveling with cows.

No wonder cowboys were not suave
Or kindly or serene
To chase estrays with roving ways
Beneath a semi-tropic blaze
For days and days and days and days
Makes anybody mean.
But when with planes that buzz and hum
He guides the bovine van,
This once rough person will become
A perfect gentleman.

REASSURING

Children who object to mathematics in schools should be reminded that they will soon be adults and have to play contract.

WATCH THE ROADS

The country-to-city movement is particularly noticeable during the hour before the city talkie shows open.

"ONE BUG'S MEAT—"

It has been found that the chemicals which exterminate the boll weevil provide nourishment for the aphis. Probably the only effective insecticide is a shot gun.

Mrs. Consumer

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

"John, you MUST get some new clothes."
"Why, what's the matter with the clothes I've got?"
"John, we MUST have some new paper in the living-room."
"Shucks, what's wrong with this paper?"

If some enterprising statistician were to interview a hundred men and ask each one how many times during the current year such a conversation had occurred in his home, there would be a variety of answers. Ninety per cent of the interviewed would tell the statistician to go jump in the lake, or words to that effect. Seven per cent, more subtle, would reply, coldly: "My name is not John." Only one per cent would say boldly that no such conversation had ever occurred. And even he would have the honesty to blush.

The cosmetics manufacturer who advertised "a different face powder for every mood" knew whereof and whom-to he spoke. For Mrs. Consumer wants variety and change, not only for herself, but for her house and her family. Unlike Grandmother, when she is asked what's wrong with what we have now, she does not reply meekly, "Nothing." Meekness is no part of the technique by which she inherits the earth. She refuses to hound the last ounce of wear out of clothes, wall-paper or furniture. She buys for herself, her husband, and her children, but not—most emphatically—for her grandchildren. A merchandise-hoarder is in her opinion, no more to be esteemed than a money-hoarder. Penny-squeezing she regards as a medieval accomplishment; there is, so to speak, no future to it.

Extravagant? Spendthrift? Yes, at times. But not when trade and employment are ten per cent below normal as they are today, because consumers are not spending enough money.

Since this Spendthrift Party came into purchasing power, it has done more for labor than the labor party, and more for the protection of industry than the Republican Party.

The modern Mrs. Consumer is a total loss to those who look back longlingly to the "good old days." To those who look forward longingly to the better new days, she is—right now—an unqualified blessing.

Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape

Im reeding the 2nd volume of Sidney Sly, Detecktive, being even more ixciting than the ferst, and this afternoon I smelt a swell smell coming from our kitchen, thinking, Ah, hah, theres cakes being baked on these premises, where's by trusty blud hound, on the trale.

And I took a umbrella out of the umbrella thing and held it out in frunt of me and started to follow it as if I thawt a dog was on the other end pulling me, and I went up the frunt steps and down the back stairs into the dining room, and I looked in the kitchin and our cook Nora was just opening the oven door and closing it again, me saying, Ah ha, cawt in the act.

Your room will be more appriciated than your company, good by, Nora sed.

Id like to ask you a few questions ferst, madam, my name is Sidney Sly, Detecktive, I sed, and she sed, Your name will be Mud if you dont take your funny face out of that door.

Have you got anything in that oven? I sed, and she sed, Ill have something in me hand in a minnit, and by the generel shape of it it'll be a broom.

Meening to chase me with, and I sed, Have you ever been accused of any crime,

I expect to be accused of a merder in 2 shakes of a lambs tale, Nora sed. And she made a grab for me and I forgot I had the umbrella and it stuck agenst a chair and tripped me, and I got up again like lightning and ran out of the dining room door, and there was a noise in back of me, me not stopping to see what it was but it wouldent of needed much of a detecktive to gess it was a cook falling over a umbrella.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

ALANSON BIGELOW HOUGHTON

I have just spent an engaging week end with one of the most interesting and significant Americans of this generation.

As American ambassador, in turn to the German republic and to the court of St. James, Mr. Houghton has brought an incomparably clear and courageous intelligence to the public service of his time.

He emerged from the war period uniquely free from the hatred and hysteria that soiled the spirit of so many statesmen.

After four fateful years, in which western civilization came near to social suicide, he played a role of historic significance in that restoration of the world's faith which was even more important than the reconstruction of the world's frontiers.

In a politically minded post-war world, when men around him were blowing lustily upon the hot embers of revenge to call them into flame, he took counsel of the simple human aspirations of peasant and the superior social wisdom of prophet.

He remembered the essential unity of human interests in the midst of a thousand subtle temptations to conscript mob emotions into the fancied interest of the tribal gods of race and nation.

He substituted the direct for the devious in diplomacy.

The compelling candor and constructive common sense of his ministry in post-war Europe did more than any other single force to prepare the soil for such financial and economic agreements as the Dawes and Young plans which corrected the more manifest maladjustments of the peace conference and brought the beginnings of order out of the chaos of war's aftermath.

As a private citizen, he remains an ambassador to the conscience of mankind, pleading against the swashbucklings of the jingo, and aligning himself with the forces that are seeking to set us workable guarantics against the too facile recurrence of wars.

I find a deal of satisfaction in painting this impressionistic portrat of Mr. Houghton, because I think no chance should be lost to emphasize the importance in the affairs of our time of the sort of leadership—grounded in intelligence and free from the distortorious of prejudice, passion and partizanship—which his career so admirably exemplifies.

OUR CHILDREN

JUSTIFIE D WRATH

"Paul, Paul, Paul—I say, what are you doing? You hear me? See here, young man, I've had to come out on the street after you. Such an exhibition. Come into the bouse, both of you and get yourselves washed. What will Dick's mother say? This is terrible. Fighting like a couple of young dogs.

"You'd better go home? You said it. If I get my hands on you again I'll—There! How you like that?

Biff and bam and biff again, the fists flew and mother struggled to pull off her angry son. At last she succeeded in hauling, pushing, driving him ahead of her into the house, still raging.

"Sure, I licked him. Good and plenty. I'll hammer him flat the next time he tries any of that funny business. He did enough. I don't care for his mother. I'll tell her right to her face what a sneak he is. Glad I swatted him on the snoot. Yes, I am. I don't care. I don't want any supper."

Of course, father wanted to know why Paul was not present.

"He had the most awful fight with Dick Haynes. I can't imagine what it was about but he nearly killed the boy. I never saw such temper. You'll have to talk to him. I can't get a word in edgewise. We can't have him killing boys. He'll end up in state's prison. I know he will. You never saw such a rage as that child was in." Here mother, alarmed by her own fears, broke down and wept.

Father went upstairs to see what it had been about, but Paul was fast asleep, a blue bruise over one eye, a puff at the corner of his mouth, but a sweetly contented smile on his face. Father tiptoed downstairs again.

"I don't know why he licked Haynes, but it doesn't matter. He had a good reason and it won't put him to jail."

"A lot you know about it. You didn't have to go out in the street and drag him off the boy's back. He's dreadful. I'm afraid of what he'll do if he gets angry like that again. You must talk to him."

"Wait until he wakes up. He's sound asleep."

That rather astonished mother. Asleep and her fretting like this. After such rage. Sleeping sweetly. The young rascal. Maybe he was hungry. Poor little thing. He wasn't so big. Just a baby. And he was black and blue. Well, well.

"Ma, can I come down? I'm hungry."

"Yes. Come along. Your father's home. Tell him what you did today."

Cheerfully, the miscreant trotted downstairs. Enthusiastically he gobbled his dinner—and an extra glass of milk.

"He asked for it. He's been pounding all the little kids and nobody stopped him 'cause he was teacher's nephew. Today he hit little Billy Robbins and told teacher I did it. She gave me zero in conduct and wouldn't let me speak. after school I lammed him good and plenty. Believe me, I socked him good."

Father nodded approvingly and added another cookie. Why not?

HOWE'S BIRTH

On July 9, 1819, Elias Howe, inventor of the sewing machine, was born in Spencer, Mass.

After working for his father, who was a miller, Howe went to Lowell to work in a cotton machinery manufactory. Two years later he lost his job on account of the financial panic, but got another in a machine shop in Boston.

In 1845 he produced his sewing machine, but despite its obvious advantages, met with bitter opposition. For the next nine years he was desperately poor. He made a trip to England in the hope of being able to interest capitalists. He was unsuccessful, being obliged to sell the English rights to the machine for 250 pounds.

When he returned to this country he found that his patent had been infringed and that many sewing machines were already in use. He therefore began action to establish his patent. After five years of litigation he won his case and thereafter was one of the leading manufacturers in the United States. He shortly became a millionaire. In 1867 he received the gold medal and the cross of the Legion of Honor in Paris.

ATTACKS HOOVER ON TREATY STAND

May Ask Government To Intervene In Gasoline Fight

Predictions Freely Made in San Francisco Certain Firms Will Be Ruined

ULTIMATUM IS ISSUED

Losses to Producers and Service Station Operators Is Forty Million

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—(UP)—New slashes lowered the retail price of gasoline to the lowest point in the history of California today, with predictions freely made that some concerns would be forced out of business unless the federal government takes a hand.

Following a 1-cent cut by the Texas company, virtually every station of the major companies was selling at 13 cents in San Francisco while many independent stations were down as low as 11 and 12 cents in some sections.

Although officials of some of the larger companies declared that the price war is a "fight to the finish," independents said that unless the industry is re-established on a paying basis within 36 hours the U. S. department of justice will be asked to investigate the entire situation.

The ultimatum was made by H. R. MacMillan, of the MacMillan Petroleum corporation.

Losses to producers and service station proprietors since the war began in March have been estimated at $34,000,000 to $40,000,000.

New all-time lows were recorded through the San Joaquin valley and in Tacoma, where gas was selling as low as 8 cents. Many independents in Los Angeles have offered a new low price of 10½ cents.

DEPUTY RETURNING HERE WITH GORMAN

Successful in his attempt to extradite Ralph Gorman, from Kansas City to Santa Ana ,the prisoner being wanted here on a charge of conspiracy to violate the state corporation laws, F. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff, left Kansas City today with his man, according to a telegram received at the sheriff's office.

Gorman fought extradition and the hearing was completed in Kansas City this morning.

Gorman is wanted with several other men, as yet uncaptured, on charges that they sold stock to a number of prominent Orange county residents in a non-existing company, it was reported.

PEACHES TO BRING $20 TON

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—(UP)—The 1930 bumper crop of cling peaches will bring $20 a ton, as compared with $80 for last year's short yield.

The price was established in conjunction with a curtailment plan, late yesterday at a meeting of growers representing approximately 95 per cent of the cling peach crop.

A sinking fund of $1,750,000 to purchase the surplus will be raised, it was agreed, by assessing the canner over and above the $20 purchase pr

MOONEY PLANS TO CONTINUE PARDON FIGHT

Search Being Made to Locate Witness at Trial Back in 1916

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—(UP)—An extensive search was started today to locate John McDonald, waiter witness at the trial of Tom Mooney in 1916 for the San Francisco preparedness day bombing.

The search followed Governor C. C. Young's refusal to grant Mooney a pardon and Mooney's subsequent announcement that he would stage a new fight for freedom from San Quentin prison.

It was believed that McDonald was somewhere in the east, last having been heard of at the Central House in Trenton, New Jersey, in February, 1921. A letter was sent at the request of Mooney to his defense lawyer during the trial, Frank P. Walsh in New York City, by the secretary of the Tom Mooney molders defense league.

Fresh Evidence

It was believed the league had received fresh evidence—or was trying to stir up the old contention—that McDonald had perjured himself during the trial.

McDonald identified Mooney and Warren K. Billings, now in Folsom prison serving life for complicity in the bomb outrage, as the perpetrators of the disaster.

He later repudiated his former statements and accused police officials of coercing him to perjure himself.

Governor Young devoted a large portion of his statement concerning his refusal to pardon Mooney to the question of "repudiating witnesses."

"I would respectfully suggest to the members of the supreme court," the governor said, "should John McDonald or any other material witness who has repudiated his former testimony, appear before them for the purpose of repudiating such testimony as trustworthy and that their former testimony was perjured, it would only be right to consider the propriety of giving hearings to such witness in the case of Billings just as I should in the case of Mooney."

Two Time Loser

Billings having served a former sentence must apply to the supreme court for a pardon whereas Mooney could be pardoned directly by the governor.

"However, until the truth of such repudiations can be established no one can question the decision of the supreme court and the pardon advisory board for there are some parts of McDonald's repudiating affidavits that appear patently unworthy," the governor declared.

Mary E. Gallagher, secretary of the Mooney molders defense league stated today that a campaign would be started to advertise in eastern papers for the whereabouts of McDonald. She also stated that other original witnesses were being sought in the attempt to prove the league's contention that Mooney and Billings were not given a fair trial.

FRANCE APPROVES BILL FOR DEFENSE

PARIS, July 9.—(UP)—The finance commission of the chamber of deputies approved today an additional credit of 1,126,000,000 francs (about $45,000,000) for national defense.

The action was considered in many sources as a direct answer to the recent increase of about $26,000,000 in the Italian national defense budget.

Santa Ana Pastors Speakers at Mass Meeting Held at Garden Grove

ADHERING TO THE rigid principles of law enforcement, the recently organized Law Enforcement League of Orange County took its first step in that direction at its initial mass meeting held last night in the high school auditorium, Garden Grove. A crowd estimated at approximately 200 took an active part in the meeting. Perry Mathis, of Anaheim, president of the league, presided.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary R. R. Lutes, of Santa Ana. This was accompanied by a report of the Resolutions committee the substance of which outlined the principles of the organization and its position in regard to the Eighteenth amendment. Mr. Lutes also spoke on the proposed educational campaign which was devised to inform citizens throughout Orange county on progressive measures of law enforcement.

Two Pastors Speak

The principal addresses at last night's meeting were delivered by Dr. George A. Warmer, pastor of the First Methodist church, Santa Ana, and the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, also of Santa Ana. Both speakers confined their remarks to a general discussion of present day laws; the Eighteenth amendment and its place in the community; the national, state, and county political situation; and referred to the state campaign explaining why the drys oppose a candidate who self-admittedly or otherwise represents the wet element.

Dr. Warmer said: "I believe that the principles of law enforcement should be foremost in the minds of the people. They should assume an educational attitude in this respect. The Constitution of the United States was not completed in a day and it took 150 years to insert the Eighteenth amendment."

"In order for the constitution to exist it must have the constituency of the country. The same applies to county as well as national laws. The program now being outlined by the Law Enforcement League of Orange County calls for an awakening on the part of the citizens to support law enforcement."

Sudden Religion

Rev. Harding injected humorous illustrations to drive home his points. "A great many politicians suddenly get religion around election time," he said. "As far as a questionnaire is concerned in learning the qualifications of office seekers, it may be deemed an inaccurate method. Past records and not rosy promises are to be considered," he warned.

The local pastor also suggested that each voter who had registered as a prohibitionist go to the county clerk's office and make a change. This stirred up quite a bit of spirited discussion and many argued that in view of the fact that the organization was non-partisan, such a movement was unnecessary.

Report Paralysis Case To Office Of Dr. Sutherland

Another case of infantile paralysis was reported this morning at the county health office. Jose Peralez, 12, Stanton, is the latest victim of the disease and has been placed under quarantine in the county hospital. His condition is reported serious.

Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, while of the belief that the danger of a widespread contagion has been effectively checked, warned that the present situation has reached a stage when it may burst forth anew. Dr. Sutherland has issued warning to all parents to safeguard their children against the contraction of the disease while at play and in public gatherings.

School Board Asks Bids On Willard Plant

Decision Reached to Purchase New Linotype Machine For Poly

UPON THE ADVISE of J. E. Allison, member of the firm of supervising architects handling plans for the school construction program, that plans would be ready by the end of this week, the Santa Ana board of education last night took action authorizing the advertising of the plans and specifications of the new Frances Willard junior high school plant. The plans include an auditorium with 600 seating capacity, main building, cafeteria and shops at an estimated cost of $330,000.

Plans for the additions and changes at the Julia Lathrop building were advertised the first of this week and several calls for plans have been made at school administration offices by interested contractors. The bids on this work are to be opened by the board at its next meeting on July 22. Advertising the Willard plans on July 21, which is the present schedule, will mean that these bids may be opened August 5.

Allison pointed out to board members last night that it was possible that when bids were received the costs might be sufficiently under the estimate to make possible the inclusion of a shower room at the Willard plant without exceeding the present limitations.

New Linotype

Other action taken by the board last night included decision to purchase a new linotype machine, of latest design, and other equipment for the high school print shop. This additional equipment will make the shop one of the finest in the state and will provide machines on which training may be given to students who desire to become operators. The machine will be purchased from the Mergenthaler Linotype company at a price of $4764.06 installed. Other print shop equipment amounting to $663.45, will be purchased from the Independent Printers' Supply company.

After a demonstration of various makes of paper towels the board determined to purchase a junior size towel of proven strength and absorbency at a price of $2.65 per carton.

Representatives of central vacuum cleaner plant and an oil company appeared before the board and presented arguments for the inclusion of their products in the new Willard plant. The oil company representatives declared that they would guarantee a saving of 50 per cent in heating costs if fuel oil were used in the city schools instead of gas. The discussion also revealed that the gas rate in Santa Ana is more than double what it is in Los Angeles. The board determined to investigate the advisability of installing fuel oil plants in the city school heating systems.

Seeks Business

A letter from H. J. Selway, insurance agent, was read to the board in which it was stated that he has been a resident of Santa Ana for 13 years, is a taxpayer and has sent three children through the schools and desired consideration in the new insur-

UNIDENTIFIED MAN RUN DOWN BY CAR

An unidentified man was seriously injured this morning when he was run down on the Huntington Beach boulevard one mile south of Midway City, by an automobile driven by W. Williams of Orange street, Huntington Beach.

The injured man was rushed to the Dr. Hawes hospital in Huntington Beach where he was given first aid treatment. His condition was so serious, however, that he was unable to give his name or residence. He suffered a broken leg just below the knee and a possible skull fracture and possible internal injuries.

He was later removed to the Santa Ana Valley hospital but was still unable to shed any light on the accident this afternoon.

HEAT WAVE IN WINDY CITY IS YEAR'S WORST

Thunder Storms This Morning Fail to Bring Relief to Thousands

CHICAGO, July 9.—(UP)—The heat-beleaguered middlewest and west watched the mercury ascend still higher today, despite severe thunderstorms in the central states before dawn, and obtained no promises of relief in forecasts.

A brilliant lightning display accompanied a heavy rain storm in the Chicago area during the morning. The deluge flooded low lying streets and did minor property damage.

Here and elsewhere, the downpours only increased the humidity, adding to the suffering in congested centers. Thousands who sought rest in Chicago parks were driven to cover by the rain.

The heat wave added to the seriousness of drought conditions in Montana and South Dakota, while the rainfall in parts of the wheat belt increased fears of spread of black rust, which thrives in humid weather.

Four deaths definitely attributed to the heat were reported, two in the near northwest; one in Indianapolis and one in Phoenix, Ariz.

The hottest weather bureau station in the country yesterday was Miles City, Mont., which recorded a temperature of 106. It was 104 at Sioux City, Ia., 102 at Omaha, Neb., and 100 at Little Rock, Ark., Rapid City, S. D., Phoenix, Ariz., and Cairo, Ill.

Student Flier Is Killed In Crash

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—(UP)—A. O. Smith, Oakland, student flier, was fatally injured late today when an airplane in which he was riding crashed into San Francisco bay two miles south of the Oakland airport. Smith died while enroute to an East Oakland hospital in an ambulance.

The plane, which belonged to the Boeing Air Transport School of aeronautics, was taken up by the student alone. It went into a tail spin shortly after it took off and plunged into the bay.

Forced Down When Engine Has Trouble

Pilot and Crew Come Down When 300 Miles From Their Objective

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, July 9.—(UP)—The Aeropostale Co. announced today that Jean Mermoz, flying across the South Atlantic from Brazil to Africa, had descended short of his goal near the Aeropostale steamer Phocee, one of the ships which were stationed along the route to aid the plane in case of distress.

The position of the Phocee was not given in the first messages, but it was believed to be well towards the African coast.

The Aeropostale Co. was advised that the Phocee had saved Mermoz and his two companions, as well as the mail they carried.

The spot where the fliers were picked up was about 300 miles off Dakar. The plane was having engine trouble when it sighted the Phocee, and Mermoz signaled his intention of landing.

Mermoz, Jean D'Abry, his navigator, and Leopold Gimie, radio operator, took off from Bomfim Lagoon, about 25 miles south of here, at 4:44 p. m. (2:44 p. m., EST) yesterday. The departure was exactly a month after a previous attempt when they were forced back by unfavorable weather 25 minutes after the take-off.

Aeropostale steamers lined the 2000-mile route between here and Dakar to furnish weather reports to the plane and assist it if necessary. One was stationed at Fernando do Noronha, close to the Brazilian shore, another at the Sao Paulo rocks, and still others cruised the waters over which Mermoz was flying. The same vessels had lined his route on the westward crossing.

Mermoz carried mail which was brought here Monday from Chile, Argentine, Uruguay and many parts of Brazil. At Dakar, it was to be transferred to another Aeropostale plane for the flight to France, the first air mail from South America to arrive in that country.

According to the complaint, which was filed in superior court, Colyer was injured in a collision at Costa Mesa on April 18.

SUCCESSOR FOR HUSTON CAUSES G. O. P. BATTLE

Compromise Expected to Be Reached Within Next Few Days, Report

WASHINGTON, July 9.—(UP)—An old fashioned political controversy among party leaders over a successor to Claudius H. Huston as chairman of the Republican national committee has developed as a result of plans for Huston's retirement, the United Press was informed today on unquestionable authority.

A compromise, however, is expected to be reached within a day or two, with friends of Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio withdrawing from the movement for appointment of Fess to succeed Huston.

Temporary Appointee

A temporary appointee acceptable to the various leaders is likely to be agreed upon, it was indicated. The choice may be Ralph Williams of Oregon, now serving as vice chairman.

There were reports today that President Hoover had offered the post to Earl S. Kinsley, Republican national committeeman from Vermont, as a harmony selection. It was denied at the White House that the president had communicated with Kinsley. The national committeeman is expected here to confer with party leaders.

The leading opponent of Fess' selection is Senator George Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee. Moses has elected to oppose Huston's immediate resignation despite the disfavor with which most party leaders have viewed the chairman since the senate lobby committee's disclosures concerning his handling of Muscle Shoals lobbying funds.

Moses Suggested

Friends of Moses are understood to be urging his selection as chairman, but Fess' backers are equally unwilling to accept the New Hampshire senator.

Had it not been for this complex situation, Huston's resignation might already have been announced, those who are informed concerning the matter say. It is their opinion, however, that a satisfactory adjustment will be made in time so a peaceful atmosphere may pervade Huston's office here tomorrow when party leaders meet to discuss plans for the forthcoming congressional election campaign.

HOOVER'S POLICIES ON AGRICULTURE HIT

HAYS, Kas., July 9—(UP)—Gov. Clyde M. Reed of Kansas, in a speech prepared for delivery later today, challenged the whole attitude of the Hoover administration toward agriculture, charged the administration with attempting to subordinate agriculture to industry and questioned the good faith of Alexander Legge, chairman of the farm board.

Reed's speech, a bitter denunciation of the administration's policies, was to be made from the same platform on which Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde and Legge appeared to urge from the Kansas farmers a reduction of their wheat acreage.

Coming into the nation's greatest wheat producing state to preach their gospel, the government officials were met with an attack by the governor of that state, who took outspoken and direct issue with their whole platform.

PRESIDENT IS LIKENED TO HAMILTON

Six Hours Daily Sessions Instead of Five Will Be Started at Once

WASHINGTON, July 9.—(UP)—President Hoover's refusal to give the senate secret papers relating to the London naval treaty was likened today by Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, to the policies of Alexander Hamilton and all men who believed in the theory of one-man despotic governments.

Black said talk of the possibility of a leak if the papers were delivered to the senate was camouflage and an insult to congress.

Basing his argument on the constitution, Black said the secretary of state was responsible to congress and to the president in the use of department files and that Secretary Stimson should not be permitted to withhold papers from the senate.

Mrs. Stimson heard the speech from a seat in the front row of the diplomatic gallery. Black gained the floor after a roll call carefully checked by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, had shown a bare majority of 49 senators present on the third day of the special treaty session.

Longer Hours

Administration concern that opponents of the London naval treaty might so protract the senate's special treaty session that a quorum would be difficult to obtain, was evident today in a proposal to increase the hours of the daily session.

As a result of President Hoover's insistence on early ratification, senators face the prospect of a six-hour work day instead of the usual four or five. Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee was expected to move today that the senate meet tomorrow, and thereafter during the treaty consideration, at 11 a. m. instead of noon.

Tempers Frayed

Senators' tempers already have begun to fray during acrimonious debate on the merits of the treaty. Already the epithet "silly" has been exchanged during a sharp passage at words between Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, delegate at the London conference, and Senator Johnson, Republican, California, leader of the fight against the pact. Senator Glenn, Republican, Illinois, also has been the target of Johnson's caustic tongue.

For the moment—meaning yesterday ,today and perhaps tomorrow—the senate is not actually discussing the treaty, but is debating a resolution by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee. The resolution asks President Hoover to send the senate all papers pertaining to the treaty. A similar request from the foreign relations committee had been refused in part.

AIMEE'S ATTORNEY JAILED FOR BRIBE

OAKLAND, July 9.—(UP)—Burtan F. Becker, former sheriff of Alameda county and C. L. Ormsby, erstwhile attorney for Aimee Semple McPherson, were in jail today awaiting removal to San Quentin prison following their conviction on charges of bribery.

The verdict brought in late yesterday, carries a penalty of from one to fourteen years in prison.

Becker was convicted of accepting bribes from owners of Chinese lotteries and bootleggers. Ormsby was convicted as acting as go-between for Becker. The former sheriff was ousted automatically when he pleaded guilty to one of the charges brought by a grand jury.

J. L. Davis, former deputy sheriff, and a co-defendant with Becker and Odmsby, was found not guilty.

CONSERVATION WORK TO BEGIN EARLY IN 1931

Initiation of work early next spring on the building of a dam in Santiago canyon for conservation of flood waters of that stream loomed as a possibility today, following a conference yesterday at which representatives of the Irvine company, the John T. Carpenter Water company, El Modena, and the Serrano Water company, Villa Park, reached an agreement to employ A. Kempkey, prominent engineer of San Francisco, to make investigation of a dam site in the canyon.

The men in the conference were James Irvine jr., Willard Smith, of the Serrano company, and L. W. Evans, of the John T. Carpenter company.

Provision already has been made for financing the project, which, it is estimated, will cost between $700,000 and $800,000, but delay in development of plans for the water barrier resulted from failure of the interested parties to agree on an engineer.

It is understood that Kempkey will take up at once investigations of the site, which is at the fourth crossing of the creek, and that upon his findings will depend whether an order will be issued for the preparation of plans and specifications.

It is the opinion of members of the conference committee that if no unusual conditions develop in the site investigation, plans and specifications should be completed in time to award the contract and start actual construction early next spring.

EXCHANGE CLUB TO BACK MOVIE CONTEST ENTRY

The Santa Ana Exchange club will sponsor Miss Morinne Pennington of 1236 West Fourth street, one of the first candidates to enter the big Santa Ana Register-Fox West Coast theaters popularity contest which is now being staged.

Members of the Exchange club met at the Fox West Coast theater in a body last night, attended the show, and announced the name of the candidate they would sponsor. Their votes will go to Miss Pennington and the club will start work immediately on a campaign which they hope will make her the first winner in the contest.

One new candidate announced herself today, bringing the total to 21 in the contest. There are 12 girls and nine boys now in the contest. A number of other prospective contestants are expected to enter their names within the next day or so, it was said.

The new contestant today is Patricia Lynch, of 518 South Main street. She turned in her application blank at the theater yesterday.

The second counting of votes in the contest will take place this afternoon and will be announced at the theaters tonight and The Register tomorrow. Mario Mecurio, sponsored by a sorority here, was leading the boys at the first count and Miss Dorothy Aileen Loyd was leading the girls.

Counts will be made every Wednesday and Saturday during the contest, it was announced.

Nine prizes have been offered the contestants so far and others are expected to be made within the next day or so, according to Norman Sprowl, Fox theaters manager here. 200 PEOPLE AT LAW ENFORCING LEAGUE MEET

However, it was generally conceded that Rev. Harding was right and the measure was endorsed.

Both speakers made a plea for the support of those candidates for county office who have openly announced their willingness to abide by the principles adopted by the league and are staunch supporters of the Volstead law. Reference was made of those candidate who had successfully answered a questionnaire recently submitted to all office seekers by the Women's Christian Temperance Union and the support of these candidates was heartily urged.

No Endorsements

No direct endorsement action in regard to any candidates was assumed by the league at this time. It was declared, however, that those candidates who already had taken a stand for the betterment of existing political conditions, should be accorded every support.

The Law Enforcement League indicated that the proverbial custom of "mud slinging" would be noticeably lacking from its campaign. The purpose of the league, as previously announced, is to aid in electing to office those candidates, who by their past records, experience and thorough understanding of personal rights and th eprinciples of unbiased law enforcement, are best qualified for the respective offices they are seeking.

Last night's gathering vouchsafed a spirit of unification and co-operation which, in a true sense of their meaning, would seem to imply that the organization is fast finding favor throughout Orange county. Suggestions were invited and received and these in turn were referred to the executive committee which will investigate and pass on their feasibility.

No future meeting date was announced although it was indicated that a series of similar "get togethers" would be held at nearby dates in various sections of the county. This action was endorsed and will provide voters at large an opportunity to hear an active part in the proceedings and voice their views on matters of common interest. A definite program is being prepared by the executive committee and many details, now more or less in a muddle, will be thoroughly ironed out.

A communication from the Williams Radiator company, with whom a controversy has been in existence over the method of installation of radiators at the Fremont school was received in which the company stated that they felt they had met the demands of the specifications and sent a bill for $3945. The secretary was instructed to write the radiator company that unless the installation was made as set forth in the specifications and as interpreted by the architects, they could take the heaters out of the building.

Changes at the Hoover school were authorized totaling $42, and the board voted resolutions of acceptance of the Hoover and Wilson buildings, subject to the issuance of the architect's certificates.

WIRE WORM FOUND IN ORANGE COUNTY

A number of reports reaching the county agricultural commissioner's office today are to the effect that the wireworm, which for years has proven itself a crop scavenger in Orange county, is again making its presence felt in various parts of this district.

Farms in and around Springdale, Smeltzer, Greenville, and the Huntington Beach section have been visited by the "click beetle" or adult ringworm and as a result, ensuing crops have been threatened. The only feasible method of combatting the ringworm is by the use of calcium cyanide, which is injected into the soil after the catch crop, or bait has been planted to lure the ringworm family. After this precaution, the regular crop is planted and thus far, this method has proved highly satisfactory.

Calcium cyanide as a preventative was first used with any degree of success, in 1923. However, federal entomologists experimented with sodium cyanide back in 1914. This form of soil treatment was too expensive to develop any practical value.

RETURN LICENSE TO DAVID HEALY

A motorist who lost his driver's license over a year ago when he ran athwart the law in Orange county, today had recovered that important document, without which he could not lawfully operate a motor vehicle in the state.

The motor vehicle license was restored to David M. Healy today by County Clerk J. M. Backs upon an order from Judge G. K. Scovel. The order set forth the fact that the license was ordered surrendered for the period of one year on June 29, 1929, and that since the time had expired and other conditions had been complied with, it should be restored to Healy.

The jury trial of the case of Price Bullock vs. G. H. Morrison, in which the plaintiff is seeking damages totaling $21,000 for malicious prosecution, which started yesterday in the court of Judge G. K. Scovel, was continuing today. He asks $10,500 damages on this count, with exemplary damages in addition amounting to $500. Then as a second count, on which he asks an additional $10,000, the plaintiff declares in the complaint that Morrison sued him again eight days later, after his acquittal in the first case, for damages and rent due.

OFFICERS FOR CHURCH BOARDS ARE SELECTED

The first conventon of the Southern California district of the Missouri synod of the Lutheran church came to a close last night at Anaheim with a rush of last minute bills and resolutions. The session had to be extended for an hour beyond the time set for adjournment in order to clear the slate.

The elections were concluded with the following choices: The Rev. G. Hilmer, of Riverside, and George Faulkenberg, of Los Angeles, to the finance board; A. C. Appel, Los Angeles, and S. F. Lynch, San Bernardino, to the board of directors; the Rev. M. H. Tietjen, as Walther league counsellor; the Rev. C. W. Berner, of Los Angeles, Arnold Schinnerer, of Long Beach, and Harry Wendlund, of Santa Monica, to the publication board; the Rev. Martin Lankow, of Lancaster, as historian; the Rev. Peno Jeske, of Whittier, the Rev. Henry Schmelzer, of Anaheim, the Rev. William J. Lankow, of San Bernardino, and the Rev. M. J. Von der Au, of Oxnard, as visitors of the various circuits. The Rev. George Witte, of Hollywood, was elected to represent the interests of the California Concordia college in Oakland among the southern congregations.

The district was divided into four visiting circuits, No. 1, comprising 10 congregations in Los Angeles, Whittier, and Redondo Beach; No. 2, comprising the congregations in Orange, Santa Ana, Anaheim, Olive, Long Beach, San Diego, Escondido, San Pedro and Wilmington; No. 3, comprising Pasadena, Alhambra, San Bernardino, Covina, Riverside, Monrovia, Fontana, Hemet, Holtville, and Pomona; No. 4, comprising Santa Barbara, Oxnard, Van Nuys, Burbank, North Hollywood, Glendale, West Hollywood, Lancaster, San Fernando, and St. Andrews, Los Angeles.

An interesting letter of felicitation to the new district, written in the classic Latin language, was received from L. Wagner, of Los Angeles, who was one of the first Lutheran preachers in California 50 years ago.

Several of the pastors who are serving under the mission board were called upon to give personal reports of their labors. One of the most interesting reports given was that of the Rev. A. Kuntz, of Alhambra, who is in charge of work among the blind. Literature is being printed in Los Angeles in revised Braille, for which requests have come from the blind in almost every state of the Union. Recently the Rev. Kuntz received requests for the Luehtran Messenger for the Blind from South Africa and from Iceland. This monthly periodical is being mailed free of charge to more than 1000 blind people, many of whom are deaf and dumb.

Rules and regulations for the mission board, the indigent students' fund, the church extension board, and the missionary at large were read and accepted.

A large number of resolutions were brought in by the resolutions committee, which were adopted, among them resolutions of gratitude to the Rev. Frederick Randt for his friendly and able advice, to the congregation of Zion Lutheran church, of Anaheim, and its pastor, the Rev. Henry Schmelzer, the Ladies' aid and the Walther league, for splendid hospitality.

The district was divided into two pastoral conferences, which are required to meet twice a year.

The convention adjourned to meet again next July at a place to be determined by the board of directors.

ROAD WIDENING AT FULLERTON IS CONSIDERED

A movement for widening the state highway through Fullerton and possibly to a connection with the full width state highway at La Habra was launched here yesterday at a conference between B. B. Meek, state director of public works, and the board of supervisors.

The discussion here had to do principally with elimination of the "bottle neck" through the Bastanchury ranch north of the business section of the northern city.

Meek suggested that the supervisors take up with S. V. Cortelyou, engineer for the state commission in Southern California, the matter of working out a plan by which the state, county and city of Fullerton might co-operate in the suggested improvement.

Discussion was had on the situation of Spadra street, through the business community of Fullerton, still forming a bottle neck in event of the widening of the state highway beyond the business district, and it was pointed out that widening of the thoroughfare through the business center would be a problem the city would have to handle by itself.

The three-way co-operation is proposed for the section of the road lying within the city limits running through farming territory, principally the Bastanchury ranch.

BULLETIN

The directors of Joint Highway district No. 15 today awarded the contract for construction of the first unit of the road to the H. W. Rohl company on recommendation of A. C. Fulmor, engineer for the district. The bid of the successful firm was $173,256.20, approximately $200,000 lower than the highest bid.

Meeting in the court house today, the board of directors and officials of Joint Highway district No. 15, of California, in charge of the construction of the Ortega highway over the mountains from San Juan Capistrano to Elsinore, opened bids for the construction of the first unit. Some 15 contractors submitted prices on the work, and the supervisors' room in which the meeting was held, was filled to overflowing with contractors and other interested parties as the bids were opened and read by P. N. Hood, auditor of the district, who acted as clerk.

The construction included in the present bids involves continuance of the road from San Juan Hot Springs eastward to the county line, and when completed will result in opening the road clear through, making it passable by the end of the year for the entire distance of o er 30 miles.

Estimated costs of the first unit were $225,000, but the fact that certain important factors in his cost were running considerably lower in the bids than in the estimates, led to the belief of observers that the contract would be let at a materially reduced figure.

Of the stimated cost for the first unit, Orange county is to appropriate $100,000; Riverside county, $50,000; and the state of California, $75,000. The entire program covers a period of four years at a cost of $675,000.

Supervisor George Jeffrey presided at the session today in the absence of the chairman of the board, T. C. Jameson, of Corona, who is in Alaska. Frank Champion, the third member of the board, was present. Officials of the district who were at the meeting included A. C. Fulmor, of Riverside, engineer; Nat Neff, county superintendent of highways, consulting engineer, and Lew Blodget, attorney; D. R. Crane, of Elsinore, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee there, which was active in urging need of the road and getting interest aroused in the project, was an interested spectator at the meeting today.

The bids were submitted to the engineers for study and totaling following the session this morning and were to be reported back to the board of directors of the district this afternoon. Estimates for excavation ran at 54 cents per unit, but one of the bidders today had figured this item at a price of 33 cents per unit.

B. B. Meek, director of the state department of public works, who was in Santa Ana yesterday for a conference with County Auditor W. C. Jerome on the Ortega highway, characterized it as the finest joint highway district organization in the state, and asserted that the state was now using it as a model. The set-up defines the project, the activities, a schedule of the time during which it is to be completed, political bodies participating in the district, estimated costs, the proportionate share to be borne by each party in the district and the funds from which the money is to be appropriated each year.

AIR PUBLICITY VALUE TOLD TO BOOSTER BODY

The advertising side of radio broadcasting from Calvary church, Placentia, was brought out by T. E. Pickerill, secretary of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce, yesterday at the regular luncheon meeting of the booster body as he told of the plans to start broadcasting over radio KGER beginning September 14. Both morning and evening services will be broadcast, covering a territory in which 4,000,000 people can be reached, and the name of Placentia will be mentioned at least three times in each broadcast.

A big advertising program is being prepared by the Rev. Charles E. Fuller, pastor of the church, in which all the principal papers of Southern California and the adjoining states will be used.

A letter from the Salinas Chamber of Commerce enclosed a copy of their letter to Senator Shortridge protesting his attitude on the labor question and asked help in reaching legislators. James Tuffree and H. O. Easton reported on the matter, saying that a committee had been appointed by the government to study the situation and that any action on the bill had been postponed by the adjournment of congress.

A letter from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce told of the devision of the government to move the air base from San Diego to San Francisco and to curtail activities at March field preparatory to moving that, and asked that telegrams be sent opposing this move, giving as a reason the fact that the drift of industry, population and wealth was toward the south. Pickerill stated that the bill had passed the senate and was in the hands of the president.

Louis Jacobsen, president of the grammar school board, protested against a recent report showing the average daily attendance of the Placentia school as 400 while the combined attendance of the schools is nearer 1000, stating that this low attendance figure, compared with another article giving the school taxes and budget, would leave a wrong impression of extravagance.

H. H. Hale was present and told of his wedding at San Bernardino "where he would not be known" and his stay at Camp Weesha.

William Lambert, publisher of the South Coast News, and candidate for the position of county auditor, was present, as was Harry Westover, candidate for district attorney, and each made a few remarks.

Mrs. Kate McCulloch, of the Orange County School of Fine Arts, gave a musical program, presenting Lynnwood Mitchell, who sang a group of negro spirituals, "Go Down Moses," and the "Lonesome Road." He also gave a tap dance.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF SANTA ANA DIES

He is survived by a son, Robert J. Brown, of this city, and one daughter, Mrs. J. R. Richardson, of Toronto, Canada.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m., tomorrow, at the Smith and Tuthill chapel, with the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating.

Mr. Brown came to Santa Ana in 1884, and for many years did contract painting work in this city and vicinity. He located at San Jacinto some years ago, where he resided for a number of years, and returned to Santa Ana five years ago.

Majors Receives Information On Elks Elections

According to word received here yesterday by E. R. Majors, secretary of the Santa Ana Elks lodge, Joseph T. Farrer, of Provo, Utah, father-in-law of Judge J. B. Tucker, of this city, was elected grand esteemed lecturing knight by the Elks' convention at Atlantic City.

Other officers elected were: Grand esteemed leading knight, Martin J. Cunningham, Danbury, Conn.; grand esteemed loyal knight, Leonard R. Ellis, Hot Springs, Ark.; grand secretary, J. Edgar Masters, Charleroi, Pa.; grand treasurer, Lloyd Maxwell, Marshalltown, Iowa; grand tiler, L. F. McReady, Miami, Fla., and grand inner guard, John F. Holliday, Washington, Ind.

PLAN TO FORM ORANGE COUNTY HIGHWAY UNIT

Representatives of various chambers of commerce in the county will meet at Buena Park, on July 16, for the formation of an Orange county branch of the Manchester Boulevard association, according to arrangements made at a meeting today of the good roads committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

Nat H. Neff, superintendent of county highways, announced that it recently was stated at a meeting in Los Angeles that procuring of the right-of-way in Los Angeles county to the Orange county line would be completed by the first of the coming year, and committeemen thought that in view of this fact it was time an active organization was created here for carrying out the project in Orange county.

Right-of-way has been secured in Orange county from the county line to a point approximately one and one-half miles southeast of Buena Park. In Los Angeles county and to the point below Buena Park, the boulevard is 600 feet distant from the Southern Pacific right-of-way.

Plans for Orange county, as discussed today, are to break the continuity of the highway and locate the road adjacent to the right-of-way of the Southern Pacific. Continuation of the boulevard on a line 600 feet from the right-of-way would necessitate the acquisition of rights-of-way through valuable orange groves and other highly improved properties, it was pointed out. The expense, it was said, would be more than could be borne under the program for opening the more direct route into Los Angeles.

It is proposed that the boulevard shall parallel the tracks of the steam railroad line from Buena Park to a connection with Santa Ana boulevard, which is to be thrown open to traffic on July 26.

Completion of the boulevard would cut the distance between Santa Ana and Los Angeles by four miles, it was stated.

BREA

Among those from Brea who saw the insttallation of officers of Ruby Rebekah lodge Monday night at Orange, as exemplified by District Deputy President Fannie Barker and staff, were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Withrow, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Croteau, Mesdames Edna Brambley, Effie Law, Alice Stevens, Stella Keene, Maude Rist and Miss Evelyn Rist.

Mr. and Mrs. Carson Rodgers have returned from a visit of two or three days with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Woody, cousins of Mrs. Rodgers in Ventura. They were accompanied by another cousin, Mrs. Alice Clark of Fullerton.

CASTILIAN ENTERTAINERS

BAND WILL PRESENT SPANISH PROGRAM, AIDED BY FAUSTINA LUCERO AND LOUISITA YORBA

One of the interesting Spanish numbers that will be offered by the Santa Ana Municipal band, when it presents its "Spanish Night" program in Birch park at 7:30 p. m., tomorrow, is the overture from Carlos Gomes' brilliant opera, "Il Guarany," first produced by the noted Brazilian composer in 1870, when Gomes was about 31 years of age.

Gomes was born in Campinas in 1839, his death occurring in Para, in 1896. He is especially noted as an operatic composer, his best work having been done in this form.

Gomes' early training was received at the Rio de Janeiro conservatory. He later went to Milan, Italy, for a period of study, with Rossi, a noted Italian authority. By the time he was 22, he already was composing operas.

In addition to "Il Guarany," Gomes' operatic works, most of which were composed in Italy, include "Fosca," (1873), "Salvator Rosa" (1874), "Maria Tudor" (1877), "La Schiava" (1889) and "Condor" (1891).

Gomes also composed the hymn "Il Saluto del Bresile" (1876) for the Centennial exposition in Philadelphia, and the cantata "Colombo" in 1892, as well as numerous choruses, songs and piano pieces.

Many local admirers of Miss Faustina Lucero's exceptional talent as a Spanish dancer of charm and personality are anticipating seeing her in that favorite Spanish folk dance, "L Jota," perhaps one of the best known and most enjoyable of the many typical dances of Spain. Miss Lucero will also appear in another dance, entitled "Estudiantina."

"La Paloma" and "Estrellita," two favorite Spanish folk songs that are widely loved for their graceful melody, will be presented by Miss Louisita Yorba, soprano, formerly of the San Gabriel Mission play.

CHARLES RAY AT TEMPLE TONIGHT

Tonight marks the opening, at Shelley's Temple theater, of the comedy classic, "Some Punkins," Charles Ray's biggest hit.

"Some Punkins," which will show tonight, tomorrow night and Friday night, is a rural comedy drama—mostly comedy—and of the type that only Charles Ray can do justice to. It is a story built around simple country folk of the character that we just can't help loving, and try as we might to be callous, we cry with them at their misfortunes and laugh with them at their joys.

The picture is well filled with laughs and with just enough pathos and heart interest to make it appeal to every one.

As an added feature at Shelley's tonight a diamond ring will be given away, this being gift night at the Third and Bush street house.

MEDILL SURPRISES, DEFEATS TOWNSEND

LOS ANGELES, July 9. — Billy Townsend, rising young man from Vancouver, was wondering today how Joey Medill of Chicago came to defeat him in a ten-round pugilistic encounter here last night.

Picked to win without undue effort, Townsend found Medill's left hook too much for him and as a result lost six rounds by a decisive margin. Medill carried the fight practically all the way, and wavered only in the final round. His early lead, however, was too great to be denied.

Townsend was depending largely on his well known dynamic right hand to bring him victory but he was unable to land it on the speedy Chicagoan.

TO CELEBRATE ROAD OPENING HERE JULY 26

Saturday, July 26, at 10 a. m., today was definitely set as the date of a big celebration for the opening of Santa Ana boulevard. The time for the event was established by the good roads committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, members present at the conference being Clyde Jenken, city engineer; Nat H. Neff, superintendent of county highways; W. H. Hillyard, county surveyor; George Wells, chairman of the Santa Ana planning commission; George Raymer, secretary of the chamber, and W. C. Jerome, president. Councilman W. J. Kelly also was present.

Tentative plans provide for organization of an automobile parade over the new entrance to the city and a program at Birch park. It is possible the parade will form on the state highway immediately north of the point where the new traffic artery connects at Chapman street.

According to Raymer, many communities of the county will send representative delegations, among them Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton and Brea.

B. B. Meek, state director of public works, will be the principal speaker on the park program. The state man, it is anticipated, will reveal in his address plans the state highway commission has for inclusion of Orange county highways in the state secondary system. It is known that Meeks will be in a position at that time to present in detail the state program for Orange county.

The celebration features should be over by 12:30 p. m., according to tentative plans, thus giving opportunity for participants to carry out week-end programs they may have arranged.

D. K. HAMMOND INSTALLED AS ROTARY CHIEF

The "wrecking crew" of Rotary, composed of past presidents of the local club, operated effectively yesterday in "unseating" Ralph Smedley as president and seating D. K. Hammond in the vacated position.

Members of the crew participating in the ceremonies brought to public attention—with public limited to members of the organization—various alleged incidents in the lives of the retiring and incoming presidents and much was said about wine tonics and "mind, body and spirit."

Mac Robbins, first president of the local club, wielded the gavel during the full session, and in approaching the period for the installation of Hammond as president, introduced T. E. Stephenson as the first actor in the drama of induction, with announcement that the members of the "wrecking crew" would make revelations and startling statements based on investigations of the past life of the retiring president.

Stephenson then revealed that Smedley had answered satisfactorily a questionnaire submitted to test his qualifications for membership in the past presidents association.

Fred Rowland and E. S. Morrow added to the sum total of the revelations that were of interest only to Rotarians, and Morrow concluded his discussion by presenting Smedley with a triangle made up of caps from various types of wine tonic containers.

C. E. Rutledge presented the retiring president with a past president's emblem, and Smedley made his farewell address in a happy vein.

With a dunce cap atop his "dome" Hammond accepted the honor conferred upon him by his election to the presidency and refrained from an extended talk because of the lateness of the hour.

The gavel of the club, whilh has been used at many donventions of Rotary International, and whirh was carried around the world by Charles Heil, was returned by Hammond, who took it to the convention in Chicago last week.

William McKay will continue as secretary of the club. Directors installed were R. G. Tuthill, Col. S. H. Finley, William Stauffer, W. S. Suddaby, Alex Brownridge, Smedley and Hammond.

Vocal numers were rendered by Mrs. Ruth Garrison and Miss "Bobbie" McCain.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Clark. The subject was "Scientific Temperance Instruction in the Schools." Mrs. J. H. Mrs. Nicholson introduced Miss Ruth Domer who received the city and county prize, and who read the essay that won the prize.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark reviewed the life of Mary H. Hunt, who first conceived the idea of having scientific temperance taught in the schools. As the next meeting is the election of officers a nominating committee composed of Mrs. Laura Leonard, Mrs. A. A. Jones and Mrs. Luella Stewart was appointed to select the new officers. The meeting will be held at Birch park with a pot-luck dinner at noon on the second Tuesday of August.

TUBBS GIVES TALK TO EXCHANGE CLUB

Dixon W. Tubbs, of the entomological laboratory near Anaheim, was the principal speaker yesterday at the regular meeting of the Exchange club at the Santa Ana cafe. Dixon's talk was directed at the evils of crop pests and proven means for their eradication.

The speaker told of a parasite, known as the cryptolaemus, used in exterminating mealy bug.

Dixon explained the plant quarantine to prevent foreign insect pests from entering California.

"In this manner," he said, "the danger of pest migration and a crop epidemic is reduced as much as it is scientifically possible."

A delightful program of entertainment was a feature of yesterday's meeting. Mrs. Cecil Fross Willits sang the "Desert Song" and was forced to oblige with an encore. She was accompanied on the piano by Ruth Carden.

HOOKS SALMON, GETS LICENSE

AUGUSTA, Me., July 9.—(UP)—Harold D. Jennings, president of the board of aldermen, was fishing for smelts in the Kennebec river near City Hall.

Suddenly he discovered that he had a salmon on the hook. One does not need a license for smelts, but one must have a license to fish for salmon. Jennings had no license, but he was undaunted.

His shouts attracted City Clerk S. Sewell Webster to a window of the latter's nearby office.

THE FUMIGATOR

By THOS. E. PICKERILL [all rights reserved]

OUR DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

We hold these Truths to be Self-Evident, that all Candidates start out Free and Equal, that they are Endowed by Nature with certain Unalienable Rights, that among these are a just portion of Grit and Gall, Unwarranted Familiarity, Unparalleled Liberality and the Patient Pursuit of the Common Vote. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a Candid County.

They have kissed our Babies, climbed over Fences to shake hands with Farmers, and done all sorts of Things they never before did in their lives.

They have brought all sorts of "Advertising" in Spurious Publications against the best interests of Themselves and the Advertising Profession.

They have taken Tickets to Barbers' Balls, Pennsylvania Picnics, and for a host of Events with which they have no Allegiance, nor Consanguinity, nor Affinity.

They have told Lies, spread Bull, and otherwise Perjured Themselves before the body politic.

They have refused, in some instances, to answer the Questionnaire, whereby their Silence indicates that Liquor may have touched their Lips within a space of Two Years.

They have erected a multitude of New Issues into the Campaign, and sent thither swarms of Gossip, Slander and Innuendo to Stir Up and Harrass our People in their Common Pursuits.

They have kept among us, in times of Peace, standing Organibations, without the consent of the Board of Supervisors.

They have plundered our Ideas, raced up and down our Coast, burnt up the Highways through our Towns, destroyed the Well-being of our Folks and incited Domestic Insurrections among us.

We, therefore, appealing to our sense of Political Justice for the rectitude of our Intentions do blithesomely Publish and Declare that THE FUMIGATOR is and ought to be Free and Independent, and hereby Absolves itself from Allegiance to all Candidates, and as such has full power to Fumigate, levy War, conclude Peace, and do all other Things that a Columnist should not do. And with a firm Reliance on the Editor, we pledge to our Readers our harrowing Past, our precarious Present, and our uncertain Future.

HAPPINESS CONSISTS IN BEING SO POOR YOU HAVE NO SERVANT PROBLEM.

A needle-threading contest for girls and a weed-cutting marathon for boys wouldn't hurt the country any right now.

The census officials were the only ones who found out that the small towns of the country were disappearing. The rest of us had been reading their chamber of commerce literature.

POLITICAL COCKTAILS
(All fights reserved)

As no candidate has come out against billboards we have no reason to vote for any of them; and as no candidate has come out on the billboards we would like to vote for all of them.

Henry Schmidt, publisher of the Buena Park News, comes out in an editorial and says that Orange county has never had a scandal.

What Henry really means is that if Orange county ever had a scandal the public didn't find it out and therefore Orange county never had a scandal.

But, then, we'll let Henry write his own editorials.

We don't believe that any of the officials of Orange county are crooked, either. The majority of them are honest and the rest are too dumb to be crooked.

Begin Survey For Storm Drain On Lemon Street

IMPROVEMENT NECESSARY IN RAINY MONTHS

ORANGE, July 9.—A preliminary survey for the proposed storm drain on Lemon street was begun yesterday by City Engineer C. C. Bonebrake. The present plans for the storm drain are for a piece of work 6650 feet long extending from Santiago creek to Walnut street.

The establishment of a drain on this street has been under consideration for a number of years and the improvement is thought to be one of the greatest necessity, as during the winter months, the street is often flooded and excess flood water backs into the yards and the side streets of the vicinity.

At a recent meeting of city council a verbal petition was made by a resident of the vicinity who urged that immediate steps be taken to relieve the situation before the winter rains began. The petitioner stated that school children from many of the homes were unable to get out of the flooded yards unless they wore rubber boots.

Plans for the drain will differ slightly from one propo.-l for the district last year, it is understood. The drain as planned last year was to have cost $50,000. The proposition was lost when the matter was submitted to the voters at a special election.

The building of the drain will avert possible damage to property in the vicinity, make access to the high school and intermediate school easier in stormy weather and will constitute an improvement of major importance for the year.

Add Improvements To Orange School During Vacation

ORANGE, July 9.—While students of the Orange union high school are enjoying a three month's vacation necessary improvements are being made in the school building that everything may be in readiness for the coming school year, which starts on Wednesday, September 10.

A new hardwood floor is being laid in room 155 and plumbing connected with the school is being inspected and repaired. The usual renovation of blackboards and other equipment is also in progress.

FORM FROG FARMS

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 9.—Since the Latinizing of the Arabic alphabet became a law two years ago, many persons have been jailed—for using their old Arabic alphebet. It is now a misdemeanor punishable by fine for individuals or organizations to use the old letters in the ordinary course of business.

Funny Weather Keeps Fires In City Hall

ORANGE, July 9. — The "unusual" weather of the past few weeks has kept the fires in the radiators at the city hall burning for a longer period than in any previous known season, according to officials who spend their hours in this structure.

Artificial heat during this month had heretofore been unheard of but under present conditions, the building is too cold for comfort.

INVENTOR HAS NEW RECORDING MACHINE HERE

ORANGE, July 9.—Don Hetrick, 203 East Maple street, returned this week from a trip through Arizona and Nevada where he has been exhibiting a new idea in a recording machine. Hetrick, who is one of the inventors of the machine, declares that the process evolved by his coworkers and himself makes possible production of records under all circumstances. As compared to the new invention, the dictaphone is a toy, Hetrick declares.

Some of the advantages ascribed to the recording machine is that it may be used by lawyers or others who are anxious to hear how a talk to be delivered, will sound to others. The recording is said to be by a most simple and inexpensive process.

Hetrick has made an intensive study of sound since its introduction into moving pictures. He has been assistant director with a number of prominent film concerns and feels that his improvement will have a definite place in sound films, doing away with many present difficulties encountered in the making of talking pictures.

The young inventor is the son of Mrs. C. H. Davis of this city.

No Date Set For Resuming of Baby Clinics at Orange

ORANGE, July 9.—Baby clinics at the health center at the city hall have not yet been resumed and no definite date for their resumption has been set, according to Miss Isabel Durgan, who has charge of the work at the center.

A number of mothers of the vicinity are bringing their children to the city hall by appointment to have them weighed and measured, Miss Durgan says, and until all danger of infantile paralysis is over it is expected that this practice ill continue.

SCHOOL DATES ANNOUNCED BY H. S. PRINCIPAL

ORANGE, July 9.—The school calender for the coming year was announced at the Orange union high school yesterday, by Principal A. Haven Smith. Tentative dates have been set for the usual school events and definite dates have been set for the opening and closing of school and for the vacations and holidays.

School will open on September 10 which falls on Wednesday and the commencement date has been set for June 9 with the closing day of school, June 12. The first holiday will fall on Armistice day, Tuesday, November 11.

The midwinter vacation will begin on December 18 and will continue until January 4 inclusive, and the spring vacation will continue from March 30 until April, 2 inclusive. The first semester will extend from September 10 to January 23 and the second semester from January 26 to June 12.

By a queer coincidence a number of holidays which often fall during the school terms occur on Saturday or Sunday. Decoration day, 1931, falls on Saturday, George Washington's birthday is on Sunday, Labor day arrives before the opening of school on September 1, and Columbus day, October 12, is on Saturday. Although it will not affect their holiday school schedule it was noted at the high school office yesterday that the Fourth of July also falls on Saturday.

The athletic schedule for the coming year is practically completed and it is thought that it will not be changed, it was said.

SOVIET INSPECTORS MUST HAVE PERMITS

MOSCOW, July 9. — (INS)— Snoopers, inspectors, investigators, who like flies have been in the habit of pestering managers of Soviet factories and collective and state farms to discover whether the Communist party "line" or "plan" was being carried out, must now obtain special permission for their activities.

The Commisariat of Workers' Peasants' Inspection, the efficiently department of the government, has given managers the right to kick out all investigation committees which fail to present signed and sealed credentials from the federal or state efficiency departments.

Commissar Orjonikidzie said investigations had become a menace to the state industries and farms. The biggest state farm "Gigant," he said, was investigated 600 times last year by federal, state, and local government or Communist party commissions, excluding excursionists and guests. The Malovis-kovsky sugar plant, he said, was investigated 94 times last year. During the month of the harvest at the Rosa Luxemburg collective farm, the manager was compelled to furnish data and explanations about his work to seven different inspectors.

In a few cases the Commissariat issued absolute orders forbidding investigations. The iron and steel mills of the Ural mountain and Moscow districts are not to be investigated by anyone until after October 1.

Late News From Orange County Communities

ORANGE COUNTY BOOSTERS MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

NEWPORT BEACH, July 9.—The Orange County Coast association and local chambers of commerce along the coast will continue to demand more thorough efforts to enforce the law against pollution of the beaches by oil, it was decided at a meeting here last night of directors of the coast body. The meeting was held in the Bank of Balboa, following a dinner at the El Portal cafe.

Letters were read by Secretary Harry Welch from Representative Phil D. Swing, who had been sent photographs of oil on the beach by the Newport Harbor chamber. Swing and the two California senators communicated with the war department and secured a promise of greater efforts to enforce the law. Those present,, however, believe that a special patrol boat is needed for this purpose.

A representative of the All-Year Club of Southern California attended the meeting and discussed a proposal whereby Orange county and the club might co-operate in advertising in eastern newspapers, this county to be specially referred to in some of the publicity. This was referred to the advertising committee, which will report, with other committees, at the association's next meeting, which will be at San Clemente Tuesday evening of next week.

The legislative committee will take up the daylight saving question and the matter of allocation of the gasoline tax, there being a feeling that more of this should be spent in incorporated cities, in which it is said 70 per cent of the tax is collected and little of it spent.

Frank C. Drumm, attorney of Santa Ana, was indorsed for the new federal judgeship to be created.

The next golf tournament of the association will be held the last Monday in this month at Catalina Island, according to present plans. A Tom Thumb golf tournament has also been suggested.

THE LAST DAY

FOR 6% INTEREST FROM JULY 1

Tomorrow those who bring or mail their savings to Pacific States Savings may receive ten days' extra interest at 6%.

To determine if you should take advantage of these ten days' of grace ask yourself these two questions:

First: By being satisfied with smaller interest are you needlessly limiting your income, or making an unnecessarily slow job of building your capital?

Second: Are you enjoying such proven protection as Pacific States Savings provides, or by being content with less well rounded safety, are you hazarding your funds and peace of mind?

If your answer to either of these questions is unsatisfactory to you . . . then your funds belong in Pacific States Savings with those of 70 thousand other prudent people who are enjoying adequate yield plus unquestioned protection.

You still can make 1930 a year of solid financial accomplishment by transferring your funds to this institution now.

RETURN FROM TRIP TO ALASKA, CANADA

O. S. Johnston, president of the Business Institute and Secretarial school, and Mrs. Johnston, have just returned from their five weeks trip to eastern Alaska and western Canada. Most of the time was spent in the Yukon district of Canada. With the exception of about 100 miles the entire trip was taken by water.

The farthest northern point reached was Dawson, the center of the Klondike gold rush of '97 and '98.

The principal northern towns visited were Victoria, Vancouver, Prince Rupert, Ketchikan, Wrangell, Petersburg, Juneau, Sitka, Skagway, Carcross, Bennett, Atlin, Whitehorse, Carmack, Selkirk and Dawson.

Johnston described the fishing, mining, and fur industries as being very fascinating, much more so than the winter clime where the temperature in some regions is 50 to 70 below zero.

VIENNA, July 9.—Two of Austria's scientists, Prof. Jellinek and Dr Schelber, believe that by feeding electric currents directly into the nervous machinery of the ear without using the ordinary hearing mechanism at all, some deaf people can be made to hear. They are now working on an instrument to perform this operation.

The crime is alleged to have been committed on July 6 at La Habra.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

By EDDIE WEST

Night baseball's face may be saved by a transaction of tremendous importance which was being engineered by Santa Ana and Anaheim diplomats today.

The deal involves Orville Schuchardt, suspended Santa Ana outfielder, and Joe Ochoa, star Anaheim pitcher.

The dope that comes straight from the feedbox is that Santa Ana will trade Schuchardt to Anaheim for Ochoa, and that the transaction will be consummated before tonight's meeting here at which National Night league magnates will assemble to discuss matters relative to Schuchardt's sudden decision to quit the Santa Ana Stars on the promise of employment by the city of Anaheim.

Santa Ana has withheld Schuchardt's release, and, as I get it, will continue to do so unless Anaheim gives Santa Ana something in return.

Schuchardt lives in Santa Ana but is employed in Anaheim.

Ochoa resides in Anaheim but works in Santa Ana.

Schuchardt is anxious to join the Valencias. Ochoa is willing to pitch for the Stars with whom he was affiliated last season. He is said to be dissatisfied at Anaheim.

Negotiations once reached the status of completion today but were called off later by George Pace, Anaheim manager, who said he wanted John Wilcox, the Santa Ana team's business manager, to appear before Anaheim city officials and answer some questions pertinent to the "Schuchardt Case."

Unless a compromise is reached between the warring factions it is apparent that night baseball may be shaken to its heels by a searching investigation into the employment situation, as it concerns night baseball players.

The National Night league is supposed to be an amateur organization. The league does not recognize the validity of employment as a factor to be considered when the rights of a club to a player's services are involved.

Another possible "way out" of the trouble was suggested by one of the diplomats attempting to arrange the Schuchardt - Ochoa trade.

It was that Schuchardt, although employed by the city of Anaheim, continue to play ball with Santa Ana and that Ochoa, receiving salary from a manufacturing firm in Santa Ana, stick with the Anaheim team.

UNAPPRECIATIVE

Sometimes I guess we don't altogether appreciate the class of boxing we get at our own Orange County Athletic club.

For an arena in the "sticks," Promoter H. T. Foust shows fighting men that outrank the performers at any club in Southern California except Los Angeles.

The promoter says he is losing money doing it, too.

Wilmington, for instance, goes to bat tonight with a main-eventer who fought a $20 curtain-raiser at San Bernardino a month ago.

His name is K. O. Kaseobabian, an Armenian. He meets Homer Sheridan and if Sheridan doesn't bounce him in a round or two most of the critics will be surprised.

Talent must be scarce indeed when a brand new arena the size of the harbor plant must shove $20 preliminary boys into the top notches.

LEMON, RIVERS RETURN

Comment of boxing reminds me that Indian Jimmie Rivers and Romeo Lemon, Fullerton welterweights, have returned home from a barnstorming trip through the Southwest and Rocky Mountain districts.

They wanted to continue east but decided to abandon the trip for the time being when their manager, Jack Walker of Santa Ana, had to return here.

Lemon especially showed considerable improvement during the invasion.

He won three of his four fights. His victims were Jack Sparr at Santa Fe, N. M.; Palmleaf Wright, Negro middleweight champion of the Rockies, at Phoenix, Ariz., and Miami Joe Rivers at Miami, Ariz.

He lost to Manuel Quintero, one of the ranking welterweights in the country, at Denver just before turning for home.

Lemon planned to go to Cleveland to fight "Gorilla" Jones but found the tour was costing him too much weight. He says he lost eight pounds traveling.

LOSE LICTHENWALTER

Pitchers are hard to keep in the night baseball racket.

Now Long Beach has lost its ace gunner—Lloyd Lichtenwalter.

A job entered into his transfer, too.

He has moved to Riverside and will immediately join the Riverside club of the American league. He has gone to work in the inland city for a large oil company.

SANTA ANA 'B' NINE DEFEATS GARDEN GROVE

Kenny Sturzenger's Santa Ana Shells today enjoyed the sensation of occupying the dizzy heights of glory in the Orange County "B" Night Baseball league.

They were tied with Westminster for first place in the National league's subsidiary circuit as a result of an impressive 6 to 2 victory over Garden Grove, the first half champion, in the Bowl here last night.

Toiling in a "Bee" unie for the first time this semester, Gene Hitt stopped the Chilipepper Juniors

with three hits, one of them a homer by Abbott.

Winkler, Garden Grove's moundsman, struck out 15 Shells but the Santa Anans were able to make full use of their nine hits. They scored in the second on hits by Walbridge and Walker and an error by Marks; two in the third on Dorman's walk and Sand's home run; two more in the sixth when Adams, Walbridge and Adams bunched hits, and their sixth and last one in the seventh on Norton's pass and Adams' hit.

The box score.

Jones, Hagen Favored In U. S. Open

GOLF ACES SET FOR FIRST OF 72-HOLE PLAY

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

INTERLACHEN CLUB, Minneapolis, Minn., June 9.—Twenty-four hours hence, the boys will be forced to stop their guessing and begin doing their explaining. Before another sun is verging on the meridian much that is now vague and obscure will be made as obvious as a back driver's welcome. By Saturday night, all will be reviewed.

But this is only the day before, not the morning after the most theatrical of all the national open golf championships and so Mr. Robert T. Jones, the gentleman barrister, is surmised to be the ultimate winner with Mr. Walter Hagen, the gentleman troubadour, a highly esteemed second choice. They are said to hold Jones at odds of 7 to 5 which is not a short price. It is downright 'abrupt.'

Hagen Has Good Chance

Hagen, they say, is a 4 to 1 after doing 32 for the first nine holes again yesterday. The winner therefore, ought to be either the man who is great or the man who only used to be great, a summary that is intended to be specific but merely succeeds in being slightly evasive to be absolutely frank about the thing. The winner will be the man who uses a tremendously long tee shot to a split inch of the fairway and a Winchester rifle to the green.

This might be Jones, indeed, the summation has a singularly suggestive sound, reminiscent of a description of Jones playing a golf hole—almost any golf hole and almost any time. It might be Hagen, particularly the newer and better Hagen imbued with the spirit of uplift and altogether a man of high purpose or something as to that, it might be almost any one of the 147 announced starters.

Jones Can Do It

Jones can do it. He has everything to lose in this tournament except the thing he can never lose, prestige, and all he can win is world-wide recognition as the man the world has recognized him to be these several years—the greatest of all golfers. The first two-title man England has known in 40 years, as a result of his recent victories at St. Andrews and Hoylake, he can break all records by repeating his 1929 performance in this championship, so the burden of proof will be on him tomorrow.

If Hagen is hitting the shots he knows, Interlachen will find him immune to its hazards, too. If he isn't—farewell, Tosti. When Hagen is wild, the cougar, by comparison, becomes domesticated. Gene Sarazen, a fine iron player, faces a bit of the same problem, since control is something that is liable to desert him like a false friend.

Diegel hits a long ball but his grotesqueries leave him prey to painful and often protracted inaccuracy. It isn't the kind of a course to commend itself to one of Diegel's whimsical tendencies.

Mehlhorn Erratic

As for Bill Mehlhorn, it is liable to catch up with him widway through the first round and ride him like a hag for the rest of the tournament. It is a Von Elm course, as any layout is likely to be. George either wins or loses his tournaments on the greens.

It won't be a great source of comfort to Horton Smith, with his tendency to play his long irons neither wisely nor too well and, as for Johnny Farrell, it would seem that he hasn't the length to get away with a title on these links. Densmore Shute, with his precise spoon play has distinctly posibili-

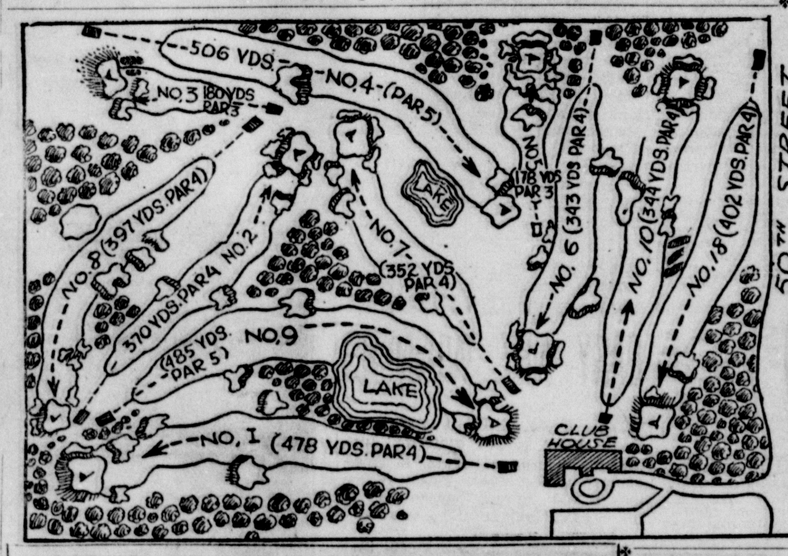
ORGANIZATION OF SUNDAY BASEBALL LEAGUE IN ORANGE COUNTY PLANNED

Plans for the immediate organization of an Orange County Sunday baseball league were put in motion here today, and every indication was that the conference will be operating full blast within a month.

Victor Walker, for many years the "father" of the now passe Orange County Harbor league which sent George Blaeholder to the major leagues and developed several other professional players, has broadcast invitations to representatives of almost a dozen teams in Orange county to attend a meeting at his sporting goods store here, 219 West Fourth street.

Among those expected to enter the league are the Santa Ana Merchants, Buena Park, Anapauma Rancho, Laguna Beach, San Clemente, Anaheim, Huntington Beach, Cypress and Atwood.

Teams interested are urged to communicate with Walker Immediately.



GOUYD-COLOPE REMATCH HERE TOMORROW PROMISES FISTIC FANCIERS PLENTY OF ACTION

If lightning strikes twice, and frequently it does in the box-fighting business, the Orange County Athletic club figures to show its greatest main event of the year tomorrow night. Promoter H. T. Foust pairs in an eight-round main event Clayton Gouyd, Hollywood feature performer, and Pastor Calope, Pasadena Filipino.

Rough, tough and game, the little bantamweight buzzsaws have never failed to entertain whenever they've gone into the firing pit here.

Foust threw them into together less than a month ago and the result was a bout which was described as the outstanding "action" spat of the season.

Referee Jack McDonald termed it a draw. He could do nothing else. The bout was actually that close. A bit stronger and more experienced, Gouyd had an edge at close quarters but the slant-eyed Calope squared accounts when it came to long range battling. Through the entire six rounds the little fellows fired away at each other unmercifully.

Gouyd and Calope completed their training yesterday, Gouyd with a brief workout in Los Angeles. Calope was content to do a little roadwork.

Early odds favor Gouyd slightly but they are likely to be even bets by the time the wraps are taken off.

The top attraction is so much class that it forces Baby Jack Dempsey, participant in numerous main events here, to accept a semi-windup position.

Baby Jack is bracketed with Clem Avila of Pomona, a better than average featherweight who should press the hard-hitting but none too rugged Alhambra lad. They are to work six rounds.

Cliff Burrier, Santa Ana junior lightweight, meets Joe Vasquez of Ontario, and Andy de la Parra, Santa Ana bantam, faces Louie Wooley of Los Angeles.

Haynes and Gilmore will step six rounds. The other two are four-rounders.

Promoter Foust makes another gesture for feminine patronage this week. He will admit free all women who are accompanied by escorts holding reserved seat tickets.

HOOKS and SLIDES

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

A broken leg is a great help to a ball player. . . . John Hodapp of the Indians is burning up the American league this year . . . he broke a leg in 1928. . . . "Lefty" O'Doul broke a limb and the best he could do the following year was to lead the National league in batting with an average of .398. . . . Three years ago "Chuck" Klein of the Phils fractured a leg, and has been batting 'em out of the pastures ever since. . . . Denny Sothern, likewise of the Philly entry, broke a leg last year and now he is having his best season in the majors. . . . Horton Smith is calm under fire on the fairways and greens, but is panic-stricken before a microphone. . . . A Philadelphia writer likened the quarrel between Judge Landis and Phil Ball, prexy of the St. Louis Browns, to a bout between a leopard and a Pekingese pup.

SLAYING THE FOUL

With some eagerness I am awaiting the next brawl of heavyweights under the no-foul-all-fair ruling of the New York boxing commission. It will be interesting to see how the current cauliflower quitters get around it.

Of course, there are still available foul devices for winning fights, even though the low blow was banned by the solemn solons as excuse for terminating fights. Sharkey, in his next bout with Schmeling, could bite or kick the German or hit him after the bell, and this would constiute foul play.

But the drastic step, though it

HERE'S INTERLACHEN

A sketch of the course at Interlachen, Minneapolis, where the National Open golf championship will be played July 10 to 12, is shown below and to the right. The sketch is by Willie Kidd, professional at Interlachen, and outlines the hazards the golfer must negotiate to make a respectable score. Notice the numerous water holes and the dog-leg fairways. The fairways are narrowed to a nicety and the greens are closely guarded. Kidd, who has been responsible for a great many of the improvements around the course in preparation for the entertainment of the stars, says Number 2 is going to cause as much difficulty as any of the holes. Accuracy is essential there, but the same holds true of most of the other holes.

Friday's Schedule

There is many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip—but Santa Ana's lead of two full games over its National Night Baseball league field looked pretty convincing today.

The Stars won their seventh straight game at La Habra, 7-2, to feature a bustling last evening which saw Whittier, the first half champion, drop its fourth game in seven starts. Olice, the "Giant Killer" in the confederacy, attended to the latest chastisement of the Quakers and the defeat virtually eliminated the upstate gang from the second half race.

Garden Grove, still a genuine contender, again gave every indication that it will be one of the teams to beat for the title. One of the heaviest hitting aggregations in the assembly, the Peppers murdered the offerings of two Fullerton gunners to grind out another one of their lopsided victories. This time it was 15 to 5.

"Bud" Wilhite lasted less than four innings and Del Georgio, his successor, was greeted almost as enthusiastically. Robinson and Morrill, Pepper pitchers, just toyed with their opposition. Joe Mene and Jerry Heard both had four hits for the winners. The box score:

HEMANN BEATS M'MONNELL IN MOUND BATTLE

"String" McDonell lost only one game while pitching for Whittier in the first half of the National Night league. Last night he lost his fourth of the second half which is less than half complete. He was outpitched by Rudy Heman, Olive's premier flinger, and the Packers won handily, 5 to 1.

JOE CORNELIUS SHADES CHICO: PROTEST FILED

Harassed George Peterkin, head man of the National Night Baseball league, had another protest spread out before him today—this one filed by the La Habra Violet Rays after their 7 to 2 defeat by the race-leading and unbeaten Santa Ana Stars at La Habra last night.

The La Habrans were "outsmarted" into their complaint on a play engineered by Second Baseman Leavitt Daley of Santa Ana in the third inning.

With Pussie on first base, Rady lofted pop fly to Daley who noticed that Rady was not "running it out." Daley deliberately dropped the ball, picked it up quickly and whipped it to First Baseman Bill Cole who tagged Pussie, then touched first base, apparently retiring both men on a clever double killing.

Violet Rays Swarm Umpire

Base Umpire Guy Meats said so, at least.

The Violet Rays immediately swarmed around him, protesting that Pussie could not be forced off the bag under any condition if he didn't want to budge. During the argument, Pussie pilfered second but he was called out as part of the "double play" and the contest continued—with the Stars ever adding to a three-run lead they manufactured on four successive hits by the first four men who faced the celebrated Chico Sabella, La Habra's ace moundsman.

H. C. Park, La Habra manager, announced he would file a protest with President Peterkin. He added that he would charge Umpire Meats with inefficiency in his document to the "prexy."

Protest or no protest, it was Santa Ana's famed bunting attack that upset the La Habra infield and gave the Stars their sixth successive triumph of the second half of the National league's split season.

Sabella Fields Bunts Poorly

Sabella, a great fast ball pitcher, showed a surprising inability to field his position and once the Stars discovered this weakness they kept hammering away at it.

It really cost Sabella seven runs and the ball game.

In fact, Santa Ana made enough runs to win the encounter before Sabella retired a man in the first inning.

"Memphy" Hill, first up, bunted perfectly past Sabella. Daley bunted down the third base line and easily beat it out. Rady made a belated wild throw to first allowing Hill third and Daley second. Merrill hit a high bouncer to Wilkinson and beat it out for an infield single, Hill scoring and Daley taking third. Wayne Nelson's double down the left field foul line cleared the bases. Nelson's drive was good for three bases but ground rules, necessitated by the overflow crowd, forced him to return to second.

La Habra Scores Twice

La Habra got both its runs in the last half of the same stanza. Rice, first up, walked but Pussie popped to Cornelius and Rady forced Rice at second, Hunter to Daley. Wilkinson singled sharply to right. Merrill made a perfect throw to Hunter at third which had Rady by several yards but Hunter dropped the ball and all hands were safe, Wilkinson moving up to second on the transaction. He and Rady easily scored when Norton drilled a line single to center.

After the first inning, Cornelius was invincible, blanking the Violet Rays and allowing them but four hits, three of them of the infield variety. In five of the rounds, Cornelius stopped La Habra in order. In the other three, potential Violet Ray runs perished on the baselines.

Sabella's wildness and inability to handle bunts figured in the scoring of every Star run after the first inning. In fact, the big pitcher revealed an alarming weakness at scampering after the well placed "drags" which the clever Santa Ana attackers pushed toward him.

Hill Brings In Fourth Run

Santa Ana made the score 4-2 by pushing home a run in the fourth. Hill beat out another bunt, went clear to third on Rady's wild throw on Daley's bunt and scored on a wild pitch. Daley died on third when Merrill and Nelson popped out.

Merrill's safe bunt, Nelson's sacrifice on which he was safe and Merrill took third when Rady threw wildly to first base and another Sabella wild pitch gave the Stars a 5-2 lead in the seventh.

Two runs, scored without the aid of a hit, completed the Santa Ana run-making. Cornelius started it himself by working Sabella for a pass. He took second on Hill's sacrifice and stole third. Daley grounded sharply to Shortstop Wilkinson whose toss to the plate for Cornelius got away from Pancho and let the Santa Ana pitcher score and Daley sprint to second. Daley promptly swiped third and scored when Sabella booted Nelson's lazy grounder.

PIPING 'EM OFF

Deavitt Daley, Santa Ana second baseman, started a play that led Anaheim to protest a game it lost to Santa Ana May 23, and he instituted the proceedings which gave La Habra its complaint last night. In the second instance Daley "outsmarted" the Violet Rays into a protest for had Rady, an experienced ball player, run out his pop fly there never would have been room for an argument.

Chico Sabella doesn't like to handle bunts. The Stars had him half crazy in the first inning and again in the seventh and eighth frames, when they concentrated on his one weakness as a pitcher. The Santa Anans are adept at the bunting game and were placing them especially well on Chico.

"Rosy" Merrill beat out three infield hits and was robbed of another bingle by Third Baseman Rady who made a circus catch of a line drive in the fifth.

The largest crowd in La Habra night ball history turned out for the tussle. Ground rules were necessary on alls hit to left and right fields.

Daly got crdit for a peculiar putout on Pussie in the sixth. Pussie popped a high fly to Daley who bobbled it, then picked the ball up in time to tage the hustling Pussie between first and second. •That was one time when it didn't pay to hustle. Although Pussie reached first, Daley was saved an error because Pussie's "life" at bat was not prolonged by the play.

Joe Cornelius has now won 14 games and lost one for Santa Ana. He will go right back to the wars Friday night against Whittier, the only team that has beaten him. Cornelius batted four times at La Habra and happened to be the lead-off man every time.

The Violet Rays have a high class ball club and will make trouble for every team they face this summer.

Pitcher Gene Hitt has been released under option to the Santa Ana Bees.

Bees, local representative in the Orange County Night league.

Daley caught seven pop flys. He nearly dropped one from Wilkinson's willow early in the pastime juggling it about on his finger tips before finally "freezing" it while on his knees.

The Stars were a bit nervous in the first few innings but settled down under the influence of some of the older heads and played like champions in the last part.

Two full games ahead of its field, Santa Ana will be hard to catch now. The Stars are playing heads-up ball and getting fine pitching. If they "take" Whittier it is hard to see how they can miss the playoffs.

ACORNS DEFEAT ORANGE; HOMERS FEATURE

Home runs added zest to the Long Beach-Orange conflict, won by the Acorns, 10 to 5, at Orange. Deene Downer, Long Beach's new moundsman from city league ranks, was invincible after the first inning when Russell Sullivan blasted a home run with Richards and Thiery aboard. Rod Ballard homed for the Acorns in the second and Odie Maness put the Long Beach outfit out in front in the fifth with a home run with two on base. The score:

Anaheim scored an easy 1-4 victory over the lowly Huntington Beach Oilers at Anaheim. Howard Morning was wild and ineffective. The score:

CRESS AND WAYCOTT EASY NET WINNERS

John Cress, Earl Waycott and Eddie West scored victories during the course of Class A competition in the Santa Ana summer playground tennis tournament on the high school courts yesterday.

Cress blanked Lester Archer in straight sets and Waycott won decisively from Lester W. Slaback, 6-3, 6-1, but West was hard pressed to take the measure of Fred Little, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Other playground results follow:

Class C—Mary Ortiz defeated Louise Rurup, 0-6, 10-8, 8-6.

Class D—Toby White defeated Julian Brown, 6-1, 6-0; Veri Moyer defeated Lecil Slaback, 9-7, 6-2; Lewis Wetherell defeated Julian Brown, 6-0, 6-0; Toby White defeated Harry Motley, 6-0, 6-0; Julian Brown defeated Harry Motley, 6-0, 6-4; Toby White defeated John Davis, 6-0, 6-0.

ties, however, so of course, has any one of a dozen others, including Ed Dudley.

Jones Favorite

The law says that they don't have to refuse to do this again and anybody who pinks up a 69 with a few rounds in the moderate 70's can win this championship. In fact, such a man probably will win it.

Who is he to be? I know a hundred men who can do it. But there are only one or two who, under the lash, will do it, right out there before your eyes. One of them is a probability. His name is Jones. At least three more are distinct possibilities. Their names are Hagen, Sarazen, etc., but why go on?

The possibilities are almost limitless. The probabilities almost negligible. Only the events of the ensuing three days can furnish the answer.

SANITARY TAX AT PLACENTIA MAY BE LOWER

The possibility of reducing sanitary district taxes on ranch property inside the Placentia sanitary district was discussed at a special meeting of the sanitary board Monday night in Placentia.

The board met at the office of the tax assessor, Mrs. Nellie Cline, and organized into a board of equalization. The assessment list as presented by Mrs. Cline was not completed and she requested instructions as to the manner of assessing, which the board is empowered to give. The board has up to the third Monday in July to complete the assessments and hear complaints.

Taxes for the past year were 60 cents on the hundred, and because of a surplus in the treasury is was suggested that assessments on ranch property inside the sanitary district be reduced one-half. Members of the board were in favor of this action generally. W. W. Krick expressed himself as being in favor of this reduction but stated that he thought the packing houses were assessed by the county at far below what they should be, and said that the rate should be raised as they were receiving the biggest benefits of the district at a rate lower than others.

The disposal of garbage has been a problem which has occupied the attention of the board, and arrangements have just been completed whereby A. Stewart, of Richfield, will collect the garbage free of charge, but will not collect rubbish. In the past the collector has charged 50 cents a month and collected both garbage and rubbish. Under the new arrangement the city will collect the rubbish.

The regular meeting of the board will be held at 7 p. m. today at the office of the city clerk followed by an adjourned meeting of the equalization board when assessment problems will be discussed.

PACKING PLANT TO MOVE BOILER ROOM

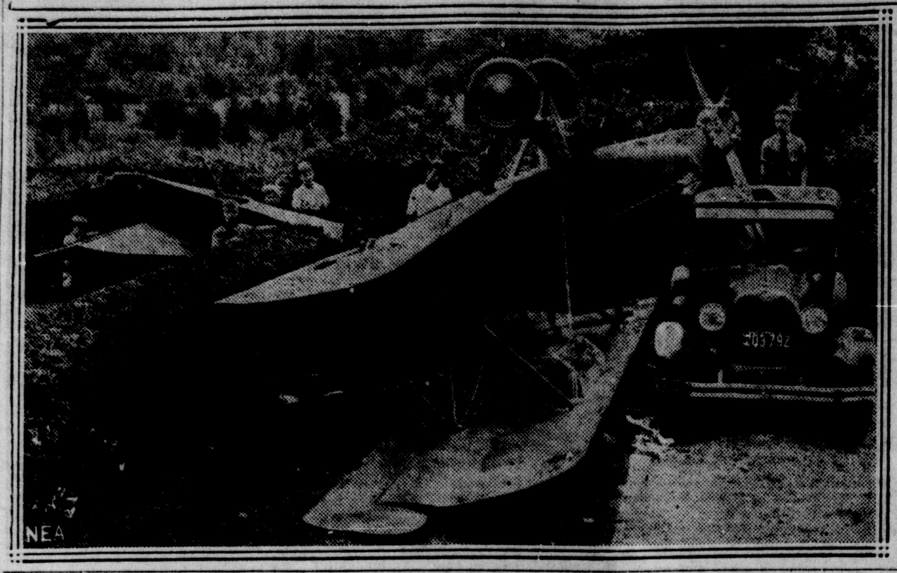
The California Packing corporation today had started the work of relocating its boiler room to make room for the widening of East First street through the company's packing house property. The front of the building also will have to be cut back.

Work is also in progress in the cutting of the S. H. Finley building at First and Main, the Preble and Bowman business structure and other buildings that stand out in what later will be a portion of the street.

It is possible bids for paving will be advertised in three or four weeks, according to Clyde Jenken, city engineer. Hearing of the protests against the improvement is scheduled for next Monday evening at the meeting of the city council, but it is not anticipated any property owner will enter a serious objection to the work.

AS STUDENT FLYER FLUNKED

The airplane business may have its ups and downs, but the turnover seems to be good. Here's what happened when Thomas O. Hutson, Washington, D. C., student flyer, made a miscalculation while trying to gain altitude at a suburban airport and snagged his landing gear on a power wire. The plane turned completely over and plunged its propeller through the top of a parked auto, as shown here, but Hutson escaped injury.



WESTMINSTER

WESTMINISTER, July 8.—A special meeting of the Westminister Chamber of Commerce has been called for the evening of Wednesday, July 23, prior to the date, July 28, on which time the water bond election is to be held, that interested parties might be further interested in voting on the proposition.

A report on the recent Associated Chamber of Commerce meeting was given at the last meeting by Prof. James Monroe, local representative of the chamber. L. W. Walker, secretary, was instructed to send to Dr. Richard Foster, who recently moved to Santa Ana, a vote of thanks from the local chamber for his excellent work accomplished as both president and secretary of the local organization during the years of his residence here.

Members of the Westminister ball team were treated by O. J. Day, local merchant, when they won a decided victory over Garden Grove which put them again into first place in the Orange county league. Wives of players were also of the party. The players included Francis Penhall, manager, Ray Burns, Chester Campbell, Ira DeBusk, Clemens, Frank McGuire, Cecil Sauers, Geo. Davis, Boyd Davis, Raymond Penhall, George Clough.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Walton entertained at dinner on Sunday when a family party gathered in their home in observance of the date of the birthday anniversary of Mr. Walton. Members of the party included Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Walton, daughter, Winifred and son, Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Penhall and sons, Marvin and Adelbert, and Mr. and Mrs. Walton.

Dr. Kennedy of Alhambra is to preach at the local Presbyterian church on next Sunday morning. Dr. Kennedy has supplied the sermon for the past two Sundays, the church at present being without a pastor. A special number was rendered at last Sunday's service by a group of six women, members of the choir.

Miss Margaret Basse, Miss Adeline Peterson, Harry Richard and Douglas Basse were the guests July 4 of Mrs. Stakemiller of Long Beach, an aunt of the Basse's, to a theatre party at Grauman's Chinese theater at Hollywood where they saw "Hell's Angels," afterward forming a dinner party in Long Beach, and attending the fire works display.

Mr. and Mrs. Bluewitt of New Westminister and Mrs. Bluewitt's mother, Mrs. Brainard, left last Thursday for Seattle where they expect to locate. They went prepared for camping and will make a leasurely trip. Marjorie McGovern, Mrs. Bluewitt's daughter, is remaining with friends at Stanton.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Anderson enjoyed calls July 4 from a number of their relatives among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Anderson's niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Wartenbe and son, Robert Wartenbe of Los Angeles, the latter of whom remained over to spend the week in the Anderson home; Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Phillips and two children of San Gabriel, and brother, Frank Phillips, wife and daughter, Jean Phillips, of Santa Ana, and Mr. Anderson's cousins, Mrs. Chas. Anderson and son, Charles Anderson, of Covina, being concluded in the party. Miss Virginia Anderson returned to Los Angeles that evening with Mr. and Mrs. Wartenbe, going from there to Burbank to the W. E. Smith home and returning Sunday with her father and brother who motored up for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Larter spent Friday at Huntington Beach.

Prof. and Mrs. James Monroe and their family were Fourth of July visitors at Huntington Beach.

Mrs. D. D. Cambell entertained at dinner Sunday evening, her guests being Mr. and Mrs. Chester Campbell and daughter of Midway City, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Day and daughter and son, D. D. Campbell who had flown to San Francisco, returned home that evening in time to join the party in his home.

Placentia Council Passes Ordinance

In answer to an appeal of Placentia business men to the city council to do something in regard to peddlers operating in the city in competition with established business houses, an emergency ordinance, No. 31, amending ordinance No. 8 which fixes business licenses, was read and adopted at the regular city council meeting last night.

Under this amendment all peddlers of fresh fruits and vegetables and dry goods will pay a license of $10 per day. This ordinance will go into effect as soon as it is published.

Only two complaints were received in regard to the raising of city taxes by re-assessment of property valuation. C. Wents, who owns nearly ten acres of property which is not subdivided, stated that he has been assessed for property which he had sold the Placentia union grammar school. D. F. Martin was the other man who entered a complaint against the raised assessment, which amounts to 25 per cent, giving the city an extra $1200.

The Mexican Baptist Mission asked exemption from taxes on the ground that the property on which the mission is located had been used only for religious purpose during the past nine months. It was the ruling of the council that as the property stood in the name of Benito Acosta at the time the assessment was made, they could claim no exemption.

Discussion of fines from the local police court resulted in the motion that the judge be asked to increase fines and make them more uniform in character. A motion was made that an extension phone be installed in the apartments of Officer Gus Barnes in order that he might be reached at all times and it was decided to connect the home of Fire Chief Lucy with the fire siren by a switch so that the alarm could be sounded at night from the house. An effort will be made to have Chief Lucy's home number in the telephone book as the number to call at night in case of fire.

Officer Barnes was instructed to try to find some one to act as dog catcher and to find a place to put the dogs. The question was brought up as to whether to pay the dog catcher on a commission or by straight salary, but was not decided.

Plans for collecting rubbish were discussed and it was decided to collect on Fridays, taking the town in sections.

Court Notes

Robert Welch, son of the internal revenue collector of Los Angeles, who was charged with issuing bank checks with intent to defraud, entered court yesterday before Judge James L. Allen, withdrew his plea of not guilty, entered a plea of guilty and asked probation. The application was denied by the court and July 11 was set as time for pronouncement of sentence. Later Welch again appeared before the court, waived time for the pronouncement of sentence and received the sentence of the court to San Quentin prison for the term prescribed by law, which is one to 14 years. The court suspended the sentence, however, on the condition that the prisoner serve one year in the Orange county jail, and ordered the prisoner to put up $10,000 for appearance on September 1 to start serving the sentence. Welch was connected with the H. Nakamura case, in which a Japanese druggist from Los Angeles was accused of issuing numerous bad checks in Orange county, and testified in court in this case, giving testimony damaging to the Japanese, who was sentenced to prison.

Lauro Ahumada, of Corona, charged with burglarizing the home of Jess Michaeli, near Anaheim on July 4, at which time a number of jewels and other articles were stolen, was held to answer to the superior court from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday. Bail of $3000 was demanded, which he did not make.

Board Rescinds Action Raising High School Tax Rate

REPORT SHOWS LAW REQUIRES 75 CENT LIMIT

Upon advice from County Auditor W. C. Jerome that a state law and recent rulings in like cases prevent increasing the high school tax rate over its present level of 75 cents, the Santa Ana school board in regular session last night rescinded action taken on June 24 in which the high school tax rate was ordered increased to provide additional funds amounting to $40,000 to finance the junior high school building program, and begin curtailing its program to keep within the limits of available funds.

In accordance with this decision the board voted three to two, to instruct the secretary to ascertain if deals for the purchase of additional property at the Julia Lathrop site, which are now in escrow, could be dropped, and if so to withdraw them. This property includes the corner at Russell and South Main streets, which is now occupied by a filling station and garage, and two residence properties. The action is necessitated by the fact that sufficient funds for the scheduled building operations at Lathrop and Willard junior high schools are not available at the present.

The board received assurance from the architect, J. E. Allison, that there would be room at the Lathrop site to provide for an auditorium without this property, although it would be better to have the additional room. In connection with the decision to drop the deals for the property at the Lathrop site, which are now in escrow, it was shown that the corner piece is under a lease that does not expire for several years and that the board was required to have clear title to all property it purchased. Price of the three pieces of property effected by the decision of the board is $34,270.

The situation developed last night when a statement was presented to the board showing that there was a deficit of $143,770 between the total amount needed for the completion of the building program at Lathrop and Willard and the total of $494,000 that was voted in bonds. The amount that it has developed is required under the plans as made totals $637,770.

The statement itemized the expenditures and estimated costs as follows: estimated expenses at Lathrop (excluding auditorium) $80,000; Willard plant (excluding gymnasium and shower rooms) $330,000; architect fees $24,600; new land $90,270 (of this amount $56,000 is for the Willard site); landscaping and grading at Lathrop and Willard $9000; equipment for Lathrop and Willard $35,000; total $568,870; not included but needed for Lathrop auditorium and Willard gym and showers, $68,900; total $637,770.

It was pointed out that the sale of the old Willard site on North Main street probably would make available $100,000 for the funds, but that this could not be counted on and should not be taken into consideration until the property actually was sold.

It also was revealed that, in accordance with an opinion of County Auditor W. C. Jerome, the premium received on the sale of the bonds amounting to $25,715 could be thrown into the building fund instead of being restricted to the retirement of the bonds as previously had been the ruling. Members of the board declared that Jerome had made this discovery while investigating the law restricting the amount of the tax rate, and had advised he would turn over the premium as a result, instead of applying it to the retirement of the bonds.

Another factor requiring changes in the program, which was a surprise to members of the board, was that the general high school fund was at a low ebb of $4500, and additional funds were required to bring this to the $30,000 mark. It developed in the discussion on this matter that there was an understanding on the part of some board members that money used a year ago this month in the purchase of additional property at the Lathrop site, including the Church of Christ and Chaney properties, had been "borrowed" from this fund and was to be paid back from the bond fund.

Another possibility that the board considered last night in making its present planned expenditures come within the limits of available funds, was to postpone the construction of the new class room unit of eight rooms at the Julia Lathrop school until after the sale of the old Willard site. This would cut an additional $43,000 from the expenditures. The board determined to postpone inclusion of a gymnasium and shower room at the Willard plant until after the sale of the old site.

RUNS FOR OFFICE

W. G. Knox, whose experience as an engineer has included a wide variety of activity, and who has served the city of Santa Ana as city engineer, city manager and councilman, today announced his candidacy for the office of county surveyor. Knox has been intimately connected with many engineering projects of county wide importance, including the Joint Outfall Sewer.

WILLIAM KNOX SEEKS COUNTY SURVEYOR POST

William C. "Bill" Knox today officially announced his candidacy for the office of county surveyor at the primary election to be held on August 26.

With more than 20 years experience as an engineer, Knox believes he is thoroughly competent to handle the office of county surveyor. His experience has been wide and he says the results of his work still stand as a testimonial to his ability.

His engineering experience started with six years as locating and construction engineer for the Rock Island railroad.

For the next five years Knox was mining engineer for the Kemmerer Coal company in Wyoming, in which capacity he had personal charge of all surveys and supervision of construction.

For six years the candidate was assistant city engineer in Salt Lake City, Utah, making all surveys for reservoirs for water conservation, water mains and sewers.

The following two years found Knox occupying the position of district engineer for the state road commission of Utah, having direct charge of all surveys and the construction of all roads in the three southern counties.

After leaving Utah Knox came to Santa Ana where for three years he held the office of city engineer, from 1922 to 1924 inclusive. During that period Santa Ana built many miles of street paving, sewers and water extensions.

The Orange County Joint Outfall Sewer was built during Knox's regime. He acted in the capacity of chief engineer for Santa Ana, Orange, Fullerton and Anaheim.

On January 1, 1925, Knox resigned as city engineer of Santa Ana to engage in private engineering, designing and building complete sewer systems for Placentia, Garden Grove, outfall sewer for La Habra, water tanks and systems for Coast Royal, located near Laguna Beach, together with many subdivisions made throughout the county.

Knox served on the city council of Santa Ana from April 1, 1927 to May 1, 1928, resigning as councilman to accept the position of city manager for Santa Ana, which position he held until June of 1929.

BOARD ORDERS PUBLICITY ON SCHOOL BUDGET

In accordance with a law enacted at the last session of the California legislature, the board of supervisors yesterday adopted a resolution calling for the advertising annually of the expenditures and budget estimates of the various school districts in the county. The school statement, as it is known, is to be published in the newspaper nearest the district, according to County Clerk J. M. Backs.

Action on the matter was taken after a committee representing the Orange County Weekly Newspaper Publishers association appeared before the board during the afternoon session and recommended that the publication of the school statement be ordered as provided by law.

Members of the committee were George Scherck, of the San Clemente Herald, and Frank Rospaw, publisher of the Placentia Courier. The matter will be published as legal advertising and will show taxpayers how the school funds are disbursed as well as giving publicity to the proposed budgets, according to County Clerk Backs.

PIANIST TO PLAY FOR MORNING CLUB

According to James Anderson, chairman, and Guy Gilbert, the Breakfast club program Thursday morning at St. Ann's Inn will be very interesting. Miss Olive Schweitzer, daughter of the club secretary, will play a piano solo. Miss Schweitzer, who graduated in music from the Los Angeles conservatory, was the highest ranking pupil in her class.

There also will be a selected number of dances by the juvenile dance students of Miss Gertrude Stebbins. The program will be concluded by a few remarks by James M. Anderson, on economic transitions toward big business.

B. Z. McKinney, club president, urges a big attendance, as Earl Morrow, chairman of the big meeting to be held in August, and Eugene Kahen, program chairman, will have some very interesting reports to make on the meeting.

Officials Sign District Bonds

County officials yesterday signed the bonds of the Santa Ana high school district, which recently were authorized in a bond election to finance a junior high school expansion program in Santa Ana. The total issue is $494,000 and a premium of $25,715 was paid by the successful bidders for this issue.

The bonds are to be delivered today to the purchasers, the National Bank of Italy company, Anglo-London-Paris company and the Weedon company. County officials who were faced with the task of signing the 494 bonds were County Clerk J. M. Backs, County Auditor W. C. Jerome and Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors.

Telephone Firm Employes Gather

Approximately 100 male employees of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company attended a meeting held Monday night in the company club room on East Fifth street. Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, spoke on the infantile paralysis situation. Among the other speakers were L. C. Miller, division commercial manager, Los Angeles; R. L. Ryan, division plant manager, Los Angeles, and W. J. Jordan, district plant manager, Pasadena.

The girls of the telephone company presented a pleasing musical program. There were songs and dances by the Coe Sisters and Pearl Vickers and Dorothy Lee. They were accompanied on the piano by Lucille Huston. A violin solo by Anna Phillips completed the program.

MEMORIAL FOR SCHOOL DOCTOR IS SENT EAST

Financed by the small gifts of thousands of Santa Ana school children, who had learned to love their doctor, and aided by teachers and the board of education, who desired to be included in the tribute, a bronze memorial tablet which has been prepared in honor of the late Dr. George C. Ruble, former school physician, whose career recently was cut short by death, is on display in the school administration offices at the corner of Church and Sycamore streets.

Lettering on the tablet carries the following inscription: "In memory of Dr. George C. Ruble from the Board of Education, Faculty and Pupils of the public schools of Santa Ana, California. June 1930."

It is planned to forward the tablet to Chanute, Kans., where Dr. Ruble was buried, to be placed on his final resting place, bearing witness to the respect and esteem in which he was held in Santa Ana.

SURE, IT'S A SIN

LONDON, July 9.—One London barber wants it known that he refuses to cut the curly locks of females. He claims it's a sin. On the wall of his shop he has a sign quoting from Corinthians, "If a woman have long hair it is a glory to her." Despite his lack of woman patronage, he is doing a good business because males flock to his establishment to escape the association with women in other shops.

PLAY AREAS OF CITY ATTRACT 1784 CHILDREN

Atetndance on the seven Santa Ana playgrounds reached a total of 1784 for the four days last week, it was announced today by L. W. Archer, director. This was almost as much as was recorded for the corresponding week last year in spite of the infantile paralysis situation.

Ninety-one pupils enrolled for special instruction in music under S. J. Mustol, the first time he reported to the grounds. He is expecting more each week and says that he will take care of all that come. The harmonica is the favorite instrument, although there are quite a number of violins, cornets and other wind instruments. He plans to select the more advanced and organize them into a city playground organization and give them special instruction at the high school on Wednesday afternoons.

At the present time the playgrounds are featuring checkers and dominos. Special tournaments are being held at each of the grounds and city champions will be determined in each game the last of this week. On Friday the winners of the various playground tournaments will meet at Lowell school at 3 p. m. and fight it out for the city championship in checkers. Roosevelt playground will conduct the finals for the domino championships at 3 p. m. on Thursday of this week. Tournaments in shuffle board and croquet will be featured next week.

B. E. Echols Home Is Scene of Delightful Family Gathering

One of the plessant events of the latter part of the week was the informal dinner party held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Echols, 1110 West Pine street. Special guests at the evening repast were the Rev. and Mrs. T. L. Taylor, and sons, Menle and Charles, of Brea, who have been intimate friends of the family for a number of years. Pink gladioluses from the home gardens were used effectively throughout the rooms to form a setting for the dinner, and the happy evening of conversation which followed it.

All of the members of the Echols family were present, and they were especially interested in holding the reunion as one of their ranks, Miss Edna May Echols, who is employed at Burbank, was home for the week end, and another, Mrs. Echols' father, T. W. Bear, has recently arrived here from Oklahoma to make his home.

Those present other than the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Echols, were the Rev. and Mrs. T. L. Taylor and sons Menle and Charles, of Brea, and the Misses Edna May and Marguerite Echols, and Sam, Harold, Bobbie, Bruce, Jr., Paul, Ray, Chandler, Leonard Echols, the latter all daughters and sons of the hosts, and T. W. Bear.

Southland Beauties Interest Northerners

While the northern parts of the state have their lure for Southern Californians, many are those from San Francisco, Berkeley and other cities up the coast who have been touring Orange county during the spring and summer months. Among the most recent of arrivals here from the Bay cities are Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Albright, who are stopping at the home of Mr. Albright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Albright, of 718 South Sycamore street.

The tourists are spending today and tomorrow at Catalina island, and plan to visit numerous other places of interest, including San Diego and Lake Arrowhead during their two week's vacation. Mr. Albright is an electrical engineer with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company at Oakland, having been affiliated with the company for about four years. He is anticipating renewing acquaintances with his college chums of California Tech. Sunday evening, at which time his father and mother will be hosts to a group of Los Angeles young people, honoring their son and daughter-in-law.

Bridal Rehearsal Was Followed By Smart Dinner Party

That individual charm which has seemed to characterize all the friendly courtesies extended Miss Velma Miller and E. M. Sundquist since announcement was made in early April of their engagement, was again apparent in the bridal dinner given Monday night in Ketner's Blue room, following formal rehearsal of the nuptials in the Church of the Messiah. The wedding is a much anticipated event of tomorrow night, and the rehearsal was the final one before the function.

The Blue room, with its attractive appointments, was all that could be desired as a setting for the dinner party at which the attendants were honor guests, with a few close friends to complete the group. Covers were laid for Mr. Sundquist, Miss Miller, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Miller, Miss Fern Flood, her maid of honor; Miss Helen Martin of Santa Monica, and Miss Winifred Clark of South Pasadena, who were accompanied by their mothers, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Clark; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stites of Burbank; Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Yost and dainty little Miss Marilyn Yost, who is to be flower girl, and Miss Frances Egge, of this city.

Miss Miller took the opportunity offered by the party, to present special gifts to her attendants, of exquisitely hand-wrought chiffon dance handkerchiefs trimmed with real lace, and each handkerchief in the exact shade of the gown to be worn at the wedding. To little Miss Marilyn she presented a diminutive satin purse, filling that small maiden's heart with joy.

Mr. Sundquist presented his best man, Mr. Stites, and his ushers, Mr. Yost and Mr. Anderson, with handsome silk suspenders.

No bride of the summer months has been more honored at showers, teas and luncheons than Miss Miller, for both she and Mr. Sundquist are popular in a wide circle of friends. Everyone is anticipating tomorrow night's wedding as one of the brilliant events of the season. Special interest is being evinced by that group of junior college co-eds allied together as the "Spinsters' club," for Miss Miller, as assistant librarian at the junior college, is one of the sponsors of the organization.

Santa Ana and Orange county Lions are also deeply interested, as Mr. Sundquist is secretary of the city organization, and president of the Orange County council, Lions club.

Handkerchief Shower Is Compliment to Mrs. Sampson

Mrs. H. C. Sampson, who is soon to leave for Los Angeles where she and Mr. Sampson will make their home, yesterday found herself the incentive for a delightful handkerchief shower held in the home of Mrs. Harry Drown on West Washington avenue, when members of a dessert bridge club and other guests were invited to share in the afternoon's pleasures.

The exciting game of earthquake bridge was chosen as the diversion, and in line with the rulesof the game. First prize for low score was a warded Mrs. Claude Neer, and consolation for high score to Mrs. George Doolittle. Additional gifts were pastel-toned bouquets of a variety of garden blooms, given to each guest in the order of her score, and a lovely chair prize which was won by the honoree, Mrs. H. C. Sampson.

Those bidden to attend the farewell gathering in Mrs. Sampson's honor were Mesdames Claude Neer, Thomas Tournat, Frank Dane, Barney Brock, Charles Waggoner, Henry Seidel, C. E. Maag, George Merrill, Emmett Allen, George Doolittle, Lewis Bittle, Earl Neer, Noble Watson, Robert Leonard, Kenneth Coulson, and the hostess, Mrs. Harry Drown.

Santa Ana Travelers Plan to Return In Late August

North Cape, at the northmost extremity of Norway, was to be the spot in which Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nau and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Boyer of Tustin, expected to celebrate the Fourth of July, according to letters which Santa Ana friends have received from these Orange county globe-trotters, who have been enjoying a comprehensive European tour.

The letters were written from Berlin on the day that the Nau-Boyer party was to leave for Stockholm and a few days' stay there before leaving by rail for the northern part of Norway, and the four days' trip around North Cape. The travelers honed to have one clear day out of the four, in which the majestic scenery might be enjoyed, but according to Mrs. Nau, this was problematical, as they had been assured the skies might be lowering for the entire time, and that a clear day was largely a matter of luck.

From the North Cape, they were to proceed to Copenhagen by boat, and will return to Hamburg on July 22, and sail for the United States at a date that will see their return to California and "home," by the latter part of August.

Germany impressed the travelers very favorably, and Berlin, they found to be a city whose art treasures and handsome buildings found correct setting amidst the beautiful trees. "I wish some of our American city builders might apply the art at home," wrote Mrs. Nau. "Here they fence the trees in and protect the bark with casings instead of chopping them down. And not only in Berlin, but from the coast of France to the Baltic sea, they encourage and protect the growth of trees."

Among their pleasantest experiences while on the continent, they included their trip on the "Blue Danube," although they declared that it was muddier than it was blue. Buda and Pesth, they considered delightful in every particular, but considered the struggles of the Armenians most sorrowful. While in Pesth, they stayed at a charming hotel on the very edge of the river, where they could look directly across at the sister city and a remarkable palace in whose history they were deeply interested. They commended the thrift of the people, and their brave spirit under heavy adversities and burdens.

Dresden and its potteries were other interesting features of their stay in Germany, and they visited Meissen where they were privileged to follow the entire process from the foundation clay clear through to the exquisite Dresden china for which that section is noted.

Mr. and Mrs. Nau especially, are confirmed travelers, and have enjoyed many delightful trips, one of the most recent having been that of a year ago, when they girdled the world on one of the big liners especially devoted to 'round-the-world tours.

California Pleases South Dakotans

That Southern California is so intriguing that their visit is to be extended from a few weeks to several months, is the decision of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fairbanks, who arrived in the southern part of the state some time ago from South Dakota, but came only recently to Santa Ana, where they have a number of relatives. Previous to this time they spent six weeks in Long Beach.

Their first few days in this city were spent in the home of Mrs. J. F. Fairbanks, 1115 West Chestnut avenue, during her absence. It was here that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fairbanks entertained week end guests, their granddaughter, Mrs. Val Morgan, and Mrs. Robinson, both of Hollywood. Since the return of Mrs. J. F. Fairbanks and her son, Harold, from their trip to Minnesota, the South Dakota tourists have been making their home at 401 West Eighth street, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, who have spent the past three weeks at "Pebblebank," their Forest Home cabin, and expect to remain there for some time longer.

Nazarene Church Folk Meet In Anaheim

Activities of members of the Church of the Nazarene here as well as throughout the county have been especially interesting recently, with plans being formulated for many others, according to the Rev. U. E. Harding of the local church. One of the most recent gatherings was that of last evening, when the Rev. and Mrs. Isham of Anaheim were hosts in their home at a meeting of Orange county and Long Beach pastors and their wives as well as of the presidents of the young people's societies in the district. The Rev. and Mrs. U. E. Harding, their daughter Evelyn, and son Robert, together with Mr. and Mrs. George Huffman were among those attending from this city.

Informal talks were features of the evening and a two days' young people's conference of the Orange county and Long Beach Nazarenes was considered. The decision as to the place where the conclave will be held was left to the committee which was appointed last night.

Other plans of the local church which the Rev. Mr. Harding believes are to be especially successful and appreciated are those for the prayer meeting Wednesday evening, in conjunction with which members of the Pasadena congregation will present several musical numbers.

Including all of the pastors of Orange county Nazarene churches, and of Long Beach, together with their wives, will be the meeting Friday in Anaheim, at which time officers of the organization will be elected. Presiding over the meeting will be the Rev. Mr. Harding, president of the group.

Balboa Cottage Gives Party Setting for Shrine Circle

One of the happiest events in the summer program of the White Shrine Circle, was the beach party and picnic luncheon enjoyed yesterday by members who shared the hospitality of the Walter Wright cottage at Balboa. Mrs. Wright and a hostess committee composed of Mrs. I. A. Evans, Mrs. Hugh Henry and Miss Henrietta Bohling, greeted the guests who arrived well in advance of the luncheon hour of 12:30 o'clock.

The cottage is charmingly situated, and its garden offered a pleasant setting for luncheon tables, especially the shady pergola where most of them were placed. The array of delicious picnic dishes was spread on one large table, buffet style, that guests might select what they desired and then take their places at small tables, decked with vivid blossoms.

Bridge in the afternoon added to the pleasant occasion, with prizes awarded Miss Henrietta Bohling and Mrs. W. G. Lewis.

Plans were made for another picnic event to be held next month when the circle members and their families, will meet in Irvine park on Tuesday afternoon, August 12, for a covered dish dinner to be served at 6 o'clock in deference to husbands of members who will motor up to the park from their places of business.

Sharing yesterday's party were the members of the hostess group, Mrs. Wright, Miss Bohling, Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Evans, Mrs. C. T. Cleland, Mrs. Henry Walters, Mrs. J. Shaw, Mrs. David Wolfson, Mrs. C. N. Mosher, her houseguest, Mrs. Mosher, Mrs. S. A. Marsden, Mrs. Elsie Bohling, Mrs. J. E. Vinson, Mrs. Neal Beisel, Mrs. C. H. Ryan, Mrs. George Shipe, Mrs. Kate Sutton, Mrs. W. G. Lewis, Mrs. Sam Jernigan, Mrs. Maude Swarthout, Mrs. W. W. Hyde, Mrs. Eudora VanAiken of Corona del Mar, and Mrs. Perkins, mother of Mrs. Wright.

House Guests Honored At Dinner Parties

Memories of the past holiday celebration are especially pleasing to Mr. and Mrs C. C. Langley, and daughter, Miss Ruth Langley, who recently returned from a two weeks' vacation in a charming Newport Beach cottage. Their house guests during the pleasant outing were Mrs. Mabel Robinson, and her two sons, John and Graham, of South Dakota, who are remaining at the beach as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Miller. Mrs. Robinson is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Langley.

Many were the house parties given in honor of the South Dakotans, and that held during the national holiday was one of the most enjoyable. Following a morning of various beach sports, the happy group was served a delightfully informal luncheon. The afternoon hours sped quickly, and in the evening the guests motored to the N. E. Lentz home in Tustin, where they had an outdoor dinner.

Those sharing in the day's pleasures were Mrs. A. M. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Howard and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Langley of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Lentz and daughter, Marguerite; Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Miller, the honor guests, Mrs. Robinson, and John and Graham, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Langley, and Miss Ruth Langley.

Bridge Club Meets With Miss Vieira

Members of a certain little informal bridge club held a most enjoyable evening recently, when they were entertained with Miss Mildred Vieira as host in her home at 324 East Bishop street. In order that the members may aid in making all of the meetings a success, they all contribute toward the grand prize of the evening. Mrs. Harry Siemonsma was fortunate in holding high score during the recent club session, and securing the reward.

Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Those present were Mesdames V. C. Coral, Harry Siemonsma, Clara Siemonsma, and the Misses Sue Verberg, Agnes Lieberman, Bernice Gohres, Mary Bentjen and the hostess, Mildred Vieira.

Farewell Party For Miss Seaton Was Recent Event

In bidding farewell to Miss Mabel Seaton, who left yesterday for Sacramento where she will join her father who has been there for some time, a group of her intimate friends gathered at the home of Miss Gladys Gross, on Cypress avenue Monday evening. A delightfully informal time was enjoyed, and the impromptu program was begun when the honoree, Miss Seaton and Diamond Hartman sang two duets.

Receiving especial commendation was the duet sung by Harold Shafer and Diamond Hartman, dedicated to Miss Seaton. The theme of the song was expressed in the title, "When You're Gone We'll Not Forget You." Also in Miss Seaton's honor was their interpretation of "Down the Long, Long Trail With You."

Following a series of games, the group retired to the dining room, and the honor guest was presented with a huge chocolate cake bearing her name in white icing. Supper consisting of sandwiches, ice cream, punch, and the delicious cake was served. Philip Gerrard made a brief address, after which Miss Seaton expressed appreciation for all that her Santa Ana friends had meant to her.

Miss Seaton has been a very active member in the Christian Endeavor of the Orange avenue Christian church.

Favorable indeed, were the reports given yesterday at the meeting of the Sarah A. Rounds Tent of the Daughters of the Union eVterans in K. P. hall, when committee chairman announced that they had made 14 calls since the last session two weeks ago, and that 10 bouquets had been given the sick and shut-ins. It was also announced that one exceptionally beautiful bouquet had been given to Comrade W. J. Lieser, whose birthday was an event of July 4.

Fifteen officers of the total number of 19 were present to enjoy the program, which consisted of discussions by two Pasadenans, E. D. Bates, of Burlingame camp, and Russell A. Stapleton of Phil Kearney camp. Especially profitable to the group was the unique method of raising money suggested by the two guests of the day. As a mark of appreciation to the speakers, members of the Sarah A. Rounds tent, obligated them to their division with honors, after having learned that Mr. Bates and Mr. Stapleton had never been obligated to any tent. The men were profuse in their praises of the local organization, and expressed their appreciation for the courtesies shown them.

There will be no more regular meetings of the group until August 12, at which time members will celebrate the twentieth birthday anniversary of the tent. However, there will be a social gathering on July 18, at which time the president, Miss Minnie Cowan, will be hostess in her home at 214 Sycamore street. The chairman of the committee in charge is Miss Ada Cowan.

A quality you would insist upon if you knew all of the FACTS
[FACT 16] Only a few years ago, Western America introduced vacuum packed coffee to the world—and more recently vacuum packed tea. For fine coffee, the vacuum tin is now the universal practice. For tea, a special process still remains the secret of the originators—Schilling. The flavor of tea evaporates just like coffee, only more slowly, and it is months (frequently a year) before tea reaches you from the Oriental gardens. Much as you may have enjoyed your tea, you have missed much of its original rare flavor. But now it is preserved for you.
[FACTS 17 and 18] Both a tea leaf and a coffee bean must be toasted to drive off the moisture, which helps to rob it of flavor. Good coffee is packed in vacuum immediately after roasting. Tea is toasted at the tea gardens, then sealed in large chests, lined with lead. When it arrives in America it is repacked in ordinary tins or even cardboard boxes. And that's where the damage is done! But this is how Schilling does it. As the tea is poured from the lead-lined chests, it is toasted again, and while still hot (just like your coffee) it is sealed in vacuum. Schilling Tea comes to you as fresh and fragrant as it left the Orient—the only tea completely protected from the tea garden to you.

THE TINYMITES

Since starting with the caravan the bunch had had a chance to scan a lot of open country and the scenes had been real fine. The mules still had a heap of pep and proved it by the way they'd step. In fact all things had turned out great. No one had cause to whine.

But Clowny seemed to think that he must be impatient as could be, so while they all sat in a home of funny Persian make, he said, "Oh, let's be on our way. I'd like to reach Tehran today. Just how far is that town from here and how long will it take?"

"Well, let me see now. Not so far," replied the Travel Man. "We are about ten miles from Tehran. We can make it pretty quick. Hop in the baskets now, with care, and hang on tight till we get there. Gee, I should think of riding you would all be rather sick."

"Oh, no," snapped Scouty. "This is fun. We'll gladly ride till day is done. And then we'll all be ready for a very good night's rest. The mass of sand we're crossing now just makes me want to sleep somehow. We're lucky, 'cause the weather we have had has been the best."

Soon Coppy whispered, "Clowny's gone. I'll bet he'll sleep until the dawn if we just leave him where he is. I guess he's all tired out." It wasn't long until someone exclaimed, "Our trip is almost done. I see a small town just ahead and it's Tehran, no doubt."

It happened that the guess was right. They reached the town and what a sight. Some little Persian yougsters came a-running down the street. Wee Coppy shouted, "Howdy do We'll hop right out and play with you. Most any little fellows we are always glad to meet."

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.
2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.
3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

SEEK to CLUE—This is a par five hole and the idea is to SEEK a CLUE on how to oslve it. After you've come upon the clue, you are finished.

JONES OUT TO SET ALL-TIME GOLF RECORDS

BY FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

INTERLACHEN, Minn., July 9.—Along about 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, while the dew still clings to the shadier greens of smiling Interlachen, Bobby Jones will stroll out onto the first tee and smack a long drive down the fairway, seemingly as unconcerned as though he were not striking a blow for the greatest golfing achievement of all time.

The Atlantan is open champion of the United States, open and amateur champion of Great Britain and just about the greatest golfer of all time. His ambition is to defend his title at Interlachen and then go on to win the amateur championship at Merion in September.

While Jones will appear unruffled in tomorrow's opening round and will attempt to keep his rather grim-lipped expression free from a justifiable frown of concern, few can appreciate the strain under which the champion is laboring. Underneath his calm exterior, Bobby is nervous, tense with the strain of contest.

Jones has been through two trying tournaments in England, fighting hard through the 18-hole matches of the British Amateur at St. Andrews and struggling desperately not to crack in the British open at Hoylake. The strain of winning those battles abroad as told on the Atlantan, and he faces his greatest handicap tomorrow right within himself.

Still, Bobby has the heart of a lion, and his game, by itself, is good enough to win for him over any field of golfers that could be gathered together. If he can overcome the mental strain and keep himself on his game, he will win at Interlachen and make golfing history anew. If he is beaten, it will simply be because he tried to do too much.

may appear to move to the opposite extreme, I think is a step in the right way. The situation was desperate and a stern measure was necessary. Fighters must learn to block the low ones now with the high ones. And if they can't stave 'em off, they simply must take 'em.

OH, FOR A REFEREE!

I think the new ruling abolishing fouls puts a great deal up to the referee . Suppose a fighter is smitten below the belt and grovels on the floor, claiming foul. Is the referee to start counting him out, or is he merely to direct that the complainant be lugged back to his corner and given a rest, the boxer who committed the foul losing the round? Referees being such as they are today, anything is rather more likely to happen.

The ring does need referees. Mistake after mistake has been made in the last few years in the handling of not only everyday bouts but championship affairs. There is no referee of dominating personality in the ring today. To the boxers the third man is merely somebody in there to pull them apart.

Boxing needs a Doc Siler now. It needs an Eddie Graney, somebody the boxers themselves will respect. I think if there had been men like Siler and Graney and Ed Smith to referee the receint big bouts that ended in fouls, there might have been happier conclusions.

BARRY OR CROWLEY

Go back to Dave Barry and the well-known "long count" at Chicago. I cannot remember a big fight in several years in which the work of the referee called for commendation.

Lou Magnolia refereed the Battle of Bewilderment at Miami, and while he must be given credit for getting more out of Scott than we expected, the fact is that the rules were thrown into the ash-can for Sharkey's sake.

Jimmy Crowley refereed the Sharkey-Schmeling affair at Yankee stadium, and it was hard to make out whether it was a job of refereeing he was trying to do or striving to emulate the antics of a Mexican jumping bean with seven years' itch.

HAIL, HAIL HALEY!

In the recent light heavyweight championship fight at Buffalo, Referee Patsy Haley awarded Slattery the verdict, though plainly Rosenbloom mastered him and the judges reversed the referee's ruling.

Magnolia, I think, is the nearest approach to a referee we have with us now. But he does not approach the heights attained by such fellows as Siler and Graney.

It's hard to tell, in view of the kind of refeering existent, just how the new rule on fouls will turn out. But it appears to be a step in the right direction.

CHICAGO, July 9.—(UP)—Heavy buying by commission houses and shorts drov prices steadily upward on the Board of Trade today and at the last prices were sharply higher. At the close wheat was ¾ to ⅞c higher, corn was 1⅛ ot 1½c higher and oats were ¼ to ⅝ cents higher. Provisions wre steady to 15 points higher.

Brown figs from the Coachella valley cleaned up a little better at 45-60c for 6-lb. flats. Seedles grapes from the Imperial valley held about steady, at 5-8c a lb. Local grapefruit was firmly held, market pack 64s and 80s jobbing at $4.75-$5.25 a box. Lettuce was plntiful and weak, good dry pack stock from Guadalupe and Santa Maria bringing $2.00-$2.25 a crate, with a few best at $2.50.

Honeyball melons from the Imperial valley moved slowly at $1.25-$1.50 a crate. Honeydew melons were lower, the best lemons packed in excelsior jobbing at $2.00-$2.25 a crate with poorer honeydews at $1.25-$1.50

Northern Bartlett pears were weaker at mostly 6c a lb. Plums showed little change from yesterday but the tone of the market was weak, Santa Rosas bringing mostly 2-3c a lb. Local potatoes were firmly held at $2.25-$2.40 per cwt. for good U. S. No. 1 stock. Local strawberries were plentiful and weak at $1.50-$2.0 0for 30-pint crats. EVENING SALUTATION

"We all talk to ourselves. Each one of us is not one, but two—'I' and 'Me'—and with endless persistence these two confer."
—Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick.

THEY HAVE THE INFORMATION

It is to be hoped that the naval pact now before the senate will be approved by that body. There is an attempt being made to use the refusal of the President to submit all of the correspondence between this government and its representative in London and all other communications which led up to this pact, as an excuse for voting against the pact itself.

If there were an actual attempt to withhold information from any United States senator, so that he could justly claim that he was being asked to vote blindly, we believe he could rightly refuse to vote for approval on the ground that he did not have proper information. There is not a member of the United States Senate who personally and individually cannot see the correspondence in its complete form. This has been offered. But the correspondence and the information are not the things that seem to be really the trouble with the recalcitrants.

They do not want the personal information. They want the correspondence laid officially before the senate, where using that as the subject matter they can rip and tear and "frozzle at the mug" over something which might appear therein instead of discussing the naval pact itself.

There is considerable difference between possessing the information and having it openly before the senate. The opportunity was given to the senators so that each can see the correspondence for himself, and it may affect his judgment as he sees fit. But there is objection made to its being placed before the senate, possibly for the reason that this correspondence was not designed to be the subject for discussion in a body of the character of the United States senate.

We do not blame any man at any time for refusing to support any measure on which he does not have complete information, but when he has the opportunity to be informed, to have all the facts before him, and opposes the cause simply because the facts are not presented to him in the manner and in the form which he desires, we seriously doubt the legitimacy of his opposition, when based upon the suggestion that he has not the information.

A crack train has been named "The Bullet." Probably because it's the custom after being taken for a ride.

MORE LA FOLLETTES COMING ON

The La Follette name is still one to conjure with in Wisconsin. For years the elder La Follette ruled the state, and it must be said it was ruled in the interest of all the people. That accounts for the persistence of the influence of the La Follettes. Only once was there any danger to the supremacy of the elder La Follette. That was during the anxious and strenuous days of the war. But the war over, Robert M. La Follette came back; and he died with the state still doing his bidding.

When the elder La Follette died, his elder son was sent to the senate to take his place. He was the youngest man ever sent to the senate. And there he remains carrying on in the spirit of his father. The elder La Follette's lieutenant, John J. Blaine, also sits in the senate.

In the last gubernatorial election the La Follette candidate fell by the wayside. Gov. Kohler has been as liberal as any La Follette man, but he did not carry the La Follette tag. An effort is now being made to defeat him for a second term. A younger La Follette has entered the contest against him. It will be interesting to see if the name continues to have a charm for the voters of Wisconsin. But even if Philip La Follette fails, it will not mean that the spirit of La Follette is dead in Wisconsin. No out-and-out opponent of the La Follette ideal and principles could be chosen in Wisconsin today. So much has one man stamped his personality upon a state. No other state can point to a similar personal influence.

The La Follette name has been associated with dangerous and un-American ideals, but when closely examined it will reveal a genuine dedication to the good and well-being of the common man.

REGISTER NOW

Only fifteen more days in which to register for voting in the August primaries. If you have not registered this year you must register before July 26 in order to be a bona fide voter in August. There are two Sundays but only fifteen more business days. Do not let the fact that there are fifteen more days in which to register militate against getting the brief task done—because you feel that there is still tomorrow on which to register.

A registrar states the matter thus:

"No one can vote in the primaries unless he has registered this year. There are no exceptions to this. The fact that the voter registered at the last election means nothing. The books were wiped clean the first of the year, and every man and woman who intends to vote must register all over again."

It is a nuisance to have to register so frequently but not registering won't help the situation now. Get into the habit of registering and then you will be ready, when opportunity presents itself, to vote for a form of permanent registration.

This is the first and most elemental duty of the citizen in Orange county: REGISTER!

A BUSINESS MAN FOR COLLEGE PRESIDENT

The University of Pennsylvania has just inaugurated a business man as its president. It has been recalled that when Mark Hopkins, one of the greatest of the early college presidents died, the trustees of Williams College, in scouting about for a successor, decided that the next president must be an administrator first; he might be a scholar second. It was concerning that notable educator that President Garfield said, "A college is a log with Mark Hopkins at one end and the student at the other."

The modern university is a great business institution as well as an educational organization. Its leadership calls for an administrator of large ability. In fact, the man who is only a scholar is unfit to be the president of one of our great universities. With a large number of distinct departments and a large group of professional schools, the modern college president cannot be expected to know the details of the different departments and the different professional schools. In matters of curriculum and methods in these various departments and schools he must depend upon the specialist. The president's task today is to coordinate all these departments and schools, to administer their funds, and to carry out their general policies.

The modern college president is much like the president of one of our great corporations who knows very little about the technical end of the concern, but who is able to develop the business into a productive and financial success. The University of Pennsylvania, like the University of Chicago, which recently chose for its president a young man with administrative genius, has simply recognized that the university is a great business enterprise, and that it needs a great administrator to guide and shape its policies.

THREE FINE INSTITUTIONS

We have just been looking over the statements of the condition of the three building and loan associations of Santa Ana which are locally owned and directed—The Santa Ana Building and Loan Association, The Southwest Building and Loan Association, and the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association.

The total resources of these three institutions are nearly $6,500,000, and the fine growth of all of them and the very rapid growth of some of them must be a source of great satisfaction to these organizations.

They fill a real need in the life of the community; are sources of profit to the investor, and of great help to the home builder. We feel that these associations and their directors are to be congratulated on the fine showing made, which evidences a commanding influence in the community, and the finest relationship with their patrons. The perusal of these reports will help to make optimists of all of us.

NEW YORK'S POPULATION

And while we are talking about it, New York has a remarkable increase in percentage of population and in number. Its total gain was 1,338,744 in the past ten years. This is a total gain of 24 per cent.

The great city now lacks but a few of having seven million inhabitants. To be sure, she has reached such size that she cannot double or gain 50 percent of population in ten years, but nearly a million and a half are a few additions in a decade. If to this we add the increase made in the metropolitan area about New York, we would probably have close onto three millions.

Water Wisdom Needed During Vacation Period

San Bernardino Sun

This is the drowning season. It is an unpleasant way to refer to the beautiful and healthful season of water sports, but in this age of "Say, listen!" messages sometimes need extra emphasis.

Almost every fine day now brings its grim harvest on the water. A holiday always has a larger harvest. What causes the tragedies?

Too many people get into small boats, overloading and capsizing them.

Too many people who can't swim take chances in rowboats and canoes.

Too many kids, of all ages, run wild with speedboats and outboard motors.

Too many people go out in sailboats without knowing anything about the enjoyable but difficult sport of sailing, and without paying any attention to the weather.

To all who tackle water sports: Learn to swim first of all; don't plunge headlong into any water sport without training; be sensible about yourself; be considerate of others. Rudeness in the water may be fatal.

Cost of Living Decreasing

Oakland Tribune

On the word of the California Taxpayers' association which has made a thorough study, the purchasing power of the dollar is growing larger. Those with a steady income are thus enjoying the equivalent of an increase in salary. As the association reports it:

"Wages have gone up 5 to 10 per cent in the last 12 months because each dollar in the pay envelope can now buy more shoes, groceries, clothes, etc. This means that the employer will not need to increase the size of pay checks this year since he has an economic friend quietly at work automatically doing just this same thing.

"All this comes about because of the change in the purchasing power of the dollar. Commodity prices are falling which means that the cost of living is decreasing. Stating it in another way, the purchasing power of the dollar is increasing. Persons whose income is a fixed amount are enjoying, in effect, a greater income because their dollars buy more than at any time since 1917."
